AMERICA HOLDS UP DOLLAR PLAN FOR ASSURANCE

Delegates Act on Order of Roosevelt; Nazi Party Leaves.

London, June 21 (A.P.).—The American delegation, in the light of new instructions received from President Roosevelt, decided tonight to withhold dollar stabilization until it obtains satisfactory guarantees that the United States is going to get what it wants out of the World Economic Conference.

While Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, and his American colleagues were discussing the new orders from Washington in a long session tonight, Prime Minister MacDonald, chairman of the conference, was understood to be formulating a plan to eliminate for the time being any treatment of the bitterly controversial monetary issue in the international conclave.

Seek to Effect Bargain.

The Americans now propose to use dollar stabilization as a bargaining weapon for obtaining realization of the Washington program in the conference.

Meanwhile tonight Foreign Minister Baron von Neurath and eight other members of the German delegation left London for Berlin unexpectedly and without giving any definite assurance of an early return to the London assembly.

Germans Are Hissed.

The Germans were hissed and booed by a large anti-Nazi crowd at the railway station.

The French delegation failed today to carry out threats of demanding adjournment of the conference until the dollar should be stabilized, but the feeling of anxiety over the problem continued intense in conference quarters.

2 Convicts Escape After Slaying Man

Waco, Tex., June 21 (A.P.).—Two youthful inmates of the State Reformatory at Gatesville beat Will Leonard, blacksmith, to death with a hammer and escaped in Leonard's motor car late today, reformatory officials said.

Leonard's body was found in the reformatory blacksmith shop. Officials said he had been dead about an hour.

A check-up of inmates disclosed the youths were missing, officials said. Both boys were workers in the blacksmith shop. Guards said no one saw them leave.

Rum Case Thrown Out As Agents Failed to Pay

Springfield, Mass., June 21 (A.P.):—Because liquor obtained by Federal agents from Alfred A. Duval, of Webster, was not paid for, Judge James A. Lowell, of Federal court, today threw out the case, ruling that the purchase was not legally completed until payment had been made. Counsel for Duval moved that the case be quashed.

The agents who obtained the liquor told the court they did not pay for the liquor because they knew the Government would not reimburse them. Under new regulations the Prohibition Department allows no funds for such purposes, it was said.

Mrs. McPherson-Hutton Reported Ill in Paris

Los Angeles, June 21 (A.P.).—Harriet Jordan, manager of Angelus Temple, of which Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton is evangelist, said today she had been informed the preacher is ill in Paris. Mrs. McPherson-Hutton left there several months ago on a European trip in search of a rest.

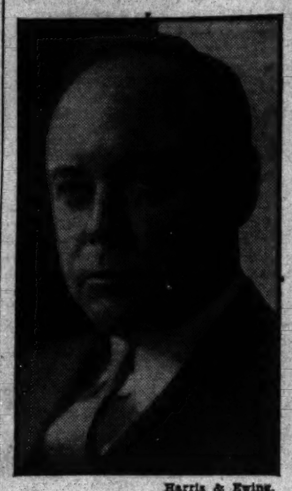
Capone's New Move for Freedom Planned by Leahy.



Harris & Ewing.
WILLIAM E. LEAHY.

(Associated Press.)

William E. Leahy, of this city, counsel for Alphonse Capone, announced yesterday he would renew efforts to release the erstwhile gangster from the Atlanta Penitentiary either through application to the United States Supreme Court or to the Atlanta Federal District Court.

In answer to questions as to whether the effort to free Capone on a writ

Two Others Are Ignored in Their Rehearing Request on Obligations.

By HAROLD J. T. HORAN.

A second series of debt notes was forwarded by this Government yesterday to three nations, Roumania, Czechoslovakia and Latvia, who had met their June 15 obligations by partial or "token" payments. At the same time two other countries, Jugoslavia and Esthonia, were ignored in their request for a hearing on their debts.

They were automatically relegated to the same category that has been established for countries defaulting or "deferring" their debt payments. In contrast to this attitude, a warm expression of satisfaction was contained in the notes to the three paying countries. They were informed that the United States would "gladly" hear their debt representations at some time to be fixed by representatives of the two countries.

This divides the debtor nations of the United States into two classes: Those that are entitled to a hearing on possible revision of their indebtedness by virtue of prompt payment of

Colorado Delays Death-Plea Action

Denver, June 21 (A.P.).—Under sentence to be hanged for the murder of Hartford Johnson last October near Palisade, Walter Jones, 23, will remain in a death cell at the Canon City Penitentiary all summer because the State Supreme Court has decided not to consider his appeal until after the summer recess.

The court granted a stay of execution pending the filing of an appeal. Quentin D. Bonner, of Grand Junction, attorney for the Flint, Mich., youth, is trying to raise funds to finance the appeal, he has notified the court.

Jones and Monrad Nelson were convicted of killing Johnson while the three were riding in a box car. Nelson was convicted and given a life sentence.

Cruelty Decree Given Philadelphia Matron

Reno, Nev., June 21 (A.P.).—A decree of divorce was granted Mrs. Francis Mills Ingersoll, Philadelphia Society matron, against John H. W. Ingersoll today.

The decree was granted within two hours after Mrs. Ingersoll filed a suit charging cruelty. The case was heard behind closed doors and the papers were ordered sealed. Mr. and Mrs. Ingersoll were married at Wayne, Pa., April 16, 1925. The court approved an agreement for custody of their two children.

Governor Signs Bills Legalizing Idaho Beer

Boise, Idaho, June 21 (A.P.).—Gov. C. Ben Ross late today signed two bills passed by the special session of the State Legislature legalizing sale of 3.2 per cent beer in Idaho and providing for regulating and taxing the beverage.

As emergency measures, they are effective immediately.

MITCHELL JURY OUT TEN HOURS, THEN LOCKED UP

Once Asks Judge to Re-Read Part of His Instructions.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Ten hours after it received the case, the Federal Court jury trying Charles E. Mitchell on charges of evading $850,000 income tax retired tonight without having reached an agreement.

Its deliberations were interrupted only once, aside from meals. Shortly after 5 p. m. (Eastern standard time) the 12 men filed into the courtroom with a request that Judge Henry W. Goddard reread part of his instructions relating to money Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank, had received from a management fund.

Detail of Accusations.

Mitchell remained in the dingy courtroom with his attorney, Max D. Steuer, until Judge Goddard ascended the bench at 9:30 p. m. and announced an adjournment until 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

The jurors were debating Mitchell's guilt or innocence on two counts. One involved the sale of 18,300 shares of bank stock to his wife and the failure to include in his 1929 income tax return $666,666.67 received from the National City Co. management fund.

The other count concerned the sale of stock to W. D. Thornton, on which Mitchell suffered so great a loss that he paid no 1930 income tax.

Judge's Charge Reread.

When the jury asked Judge Goddard to repeat his instructions about the management fund, the jurist read a portion of the statement, but was interrupted by Foreman James K. Campbell, who said:

"We think what you've read covers the point, your honor. Thank you."

Conviction would carry a maximum prison sentence of ten years and a maximum fine of $20,000.

Judge Henry W. Goddard completed his instructions to the twelve men at 11:25 a. m. (Eastern standard time) after telling them:

Lindbergh May Go On Arctic Survey

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is considering a flight to Greenland and Iceland this summer to take charge of an aerial survey of that territory for the Pan-American Airways System.

Juan T. Trippe, president of the system, said today an expedition will sail late this month to carry on further studies of the northern transatlantic flying route.

The work of gathering data on flying conditions along the northern route is being carried on in conjunction with European airlines, including Imperial Airways and the French Aeropostale.

Maj. Robert A. Logan will head the Pan-American expedition, which is scheduled to leave aboard the S. S. Jelling, 3,500-ton vessel, for Labrador and Greenland.

Soviet Fliers Ordered To Aid Mattern Hunt

Moscow, June 21 (A.P.).—The chief of the Soviet Air Service, M. Schevelieff, wirelessed the Soviet government's station on Chukot Peninsula, near Alaska, today to establish contact with American wireless stations in an effort to help in the search for Jimmie Mattern, missing American aviator.

There have been no reports concerning Mattern's fate since he took off from Khabarovsk, a week ago with the intention of flying to Nome, Alaska, on another leg of his projected air journey around the world.

Smashing Repeal Vote Is Asked by Gov. Rolph

Sacramento, Calif., June 21 (A.P.).—Gov. James Rolph issued a statement tonight urging the voters next Tuesday to "administer a smashing wallop to depression and its chief aid, prohibition, by casting an unprecedented majority of votes in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment."

The governor said this will do more than anything else to help agriculture, industry and alleviate unemployment in California.

Former Illinois Officer Found Short $174,190

Springfield, Ill., June 21 (A.P.).—The State auditor's office announced today an audit revealed a deficiency of $174,190.15 in accounts of Garrett D. Kinney, of Peoria, director of finance during the previous Republican administration.

Mr. Eugene MacLean has been appointed General Manager of The Washington Post. Mr. MacLean was formerly editor of the Cleveland (Ohio) Press and publisher of the San Francisco News and other Western newspapers.

Spanish Ocean Fliers Said to Have Crashed

Mexican Searchers Unable to Find Capt. Barberan and Lieut. Collar, After Report They Struck Mountain, and Latter Died.

Mexico City, June 21 (A.P.).—Advices that the Spanish transatlantic aviators, Capt. Mariano Barberan and Lieut. Joaquin Collar, missing more than a day on a flight from Havana, had crashed in the mountains southeast of here, sent scores of searchers to that region, but those returning tonight said they were unable to find any trace of them.

Earlier an official in the department of communications said he had confirmed reports that their plane had crashed on La Malinche Mountain, that Lieut. Collar had been killed and that his companion was in a coma from serious injury.

Newspapermen and others who rushed to the nearby towns of Apizaco and Tlaxcala returned here saying that they had been unable to find any trace of wreckage and that they could find no one who had definite information concerning the reports.

The Spanish Embassy insisted that the reports were unconfirmed and said the governor of Tlaxcala had no verification of them.

Gen. Juan F. Azcarte, chief of staff for President Abelardo Rodriguez, said a widespread search which had been instituted in the region mentioned in the rumors had revealed no trace of wreckage.

Capt. Barberan and Lieut. Collar, who recently flew from Seville, Spain, to Cuba, took off early yesterday on the projected Havana-Mexico flight of approximately 1,175 miles. After visiting the Mexican capital they had planned to fly to the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago.

The last report from the fliers had placed them over the State of Tabasco yesterday. A commercial pilot who reported sighting them said they were headed at the time toward a storm area.

SERIOUS SPLIT NEAR IN HITLER'S CABINET

Hugenberg Seems Certain to Quit After Steel Helmet Absorption.

Berlin, June 21 (U.P.).—The first serious breach in Chancellor Adolf Hitler's cabinet since he rose to power last March was believed inevitable tonight, following his drastic orders practically absorbing the Nationalist party's Steel Helmets in the Nazi organization.

The resignation of Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, head of the Nationalist party and minister of labor in the Hitler cabinet, was regarded as certain as a result of the chancellor's move.

Dr. Hugenberg conferred with Hitler late tonight, presumably protesting formally against the chancellor's sweeping blow at this final vestige of civil resistance to his Nazi regime in Germany.

Under the new regulations the Steel Helmets will remain under the leadership of Labor Minister Franz Seldte, head of the war veterans' organization, but its members are henceforth forbidden to join any party but the Nazis.

Hitler placed the Steel Helmets' youth organizations under his own control, and the head of the youths, Von Morossowitz, joins Hitler's staff. The Scharnhorst Youth League simultaneously was incorporated into the Nazi youth organization.

The chancellor's decision followed extensive raids on the Nationalist party's green-shirted "fighting squads." It was reached at a conference between the chancellor, Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen, Labor Minister Seldte and Defense Minister Gen. Werner von Blomberg.

Pilot and 3 Passengers Die in Canadian Crash

Prince Albert, Sask., June 21 (A.P.).—Capt. B. W. Broatch, the pilot, and three passengers were killed when a Brooks' Airways plane crashed at Emma Lake, 32 miles north of here, late today, said meager reports reaching here tonight.

WHEAT PRICES JUMP AT DUMPING THREAT

World Acreage Cut Needed to Halt Plan, Wallace Tells Millers.

Chicago, June 21 (A.P.).—A threat by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace that the United States might dump its surplus wheat on world markets unless other producing nations agreed on restrictive measures sky-rocketed prices on grain at Chicago and Kansas City today.

Serious damage reports to the domestic crop also contributed to the advances, but the speech of Mr. Wallace before the National Millers Federation meeting, though late, was credited as the major stimulant.

His remarks were part of an explanation for the administration's insistence on wheat acreage reduction during the next three years. He pointed out that the country still has a 350,000,000-bushel wheat surplus and that, with rising prices, farmers might be inclined to increase acreages with a resulting 800,000,000 or 900,000,000 bushel crop and an additional surplus of 200,000,000 bushels.

"We know of no market for this," Secretary Wallace said.

"It is likely that it will not be possible to make any great curtailment of next year's crop, because the international wheat conference is still in session. So it is conceivable that the United States, if Australia, Ar-

Cruiser for Roosevelt Reaches Provincetown

Provincetown, Mass., June 21 (A.P.).—The Navy's new 10,000-ton cruiser Indianapolis which will take President Roosevelt back to Washington, put in at Provincetown Harbor today to remain until Monday. She will then proceed to Eastport, Me., where it was expected the President would come aboard June 30 at the conclusion of his vacation cruise.

Officers of the Indianapolis said the President would occupy quarters which would be accorded an admiral. The cruiser is under command of Capt. John M. Smeallie.

4 Sentenced to Cemetery

High School Boys Who Opened Grave to Photograph Skeletons for Scientific Study Must Keep Lone Vigils.

High Point, N. C., June 21 (A.P.).—Four high school students who opened a grave here to take pictures to further scientific study in a school club pleaded guilty today to disturbing a graveyard and each was sentenced to spend five nights, from 10:30 to 4 a. m., alone in the cemetery.

The charges against the four previously was grave robbing, but it was explained the youths had taken nothing from the grave and, since this charge was a felony, it was changed to disturbing a graveyard.

The boys are Evans Truesdale, 19; John Thomas, 18; James Gianoulis, 17; Charley Drakulakas, 17. They were arrested the night of June 15 by officers who were on watch after reports had come in that several graves had been disturbed.

The four said they belonged to a high school science club—the Friendly Order of Galahads—and their only purpose in the cemetery was to take pictures of the skeleton for study.

Judge Lewis E. Teague, who sentenced the boys, said each would take his turn in the cemetery, spending five nights in succession and that, when that sentence was served, another would commence service of his sentence.

Truesdale will begin tomorrow night. He will be followed in order by Thomas, Gianoulis and Darakulakas.

UNIFORM PLAN ON FURLOUGHS WILL BE URGED

Roosevelt Is Expected to Act; Job Hunters to Get Results Soon.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Washington's quadrennial political drama of job seeking and job losing continued without intermission yesterday, with the job seekers temporarily in the ascendancy.

In between the two groups, the broad mass of Government employes, targets for the patronage marksmen, still awaited a definite pronouncement of their fate from the administration.

While Postmaster General Farley was assuring an impatient army of job hunters that positions aplenty will be meted out when Mr. Roosevelt returns from his vacation, Washington's entrenched Federal employe forces were without word on the extent of furloughs, transfers, retirements or dismissals planned.

Continues to Fall.

Inversely, while the new recovery administration raised hopes for employment of "several million" persons this summer through short week and minimum wage agreements, the ax continued to fall in Government agencies hit by reorganization and economy cuts.

The seeming inconsistency of such a program will be brought home to the President when he returns to Washington. He is expected to take steps leading at least to uniform application of whatever payless furloughs are invoked in the departments.

But one of the first tasks awaiting the President will be lifting the patronage flood gates held tightly closed during the first three months of the administration, Postmaster General Farley told newspapermen yesterday.

Awaiting the President's approval will be selected lists of applicants for such jobs as collectors of internal revenue, collectors of customs, district attorneys and marshals.

Mr. Farley would not commit himself on the number of jobs to be dispensed, but indicated there would be many.

Mooney's Job Seen Safe.

The Postmaster General reiterated that Republicans and others holding postmasterships will not be dismissed without cause. This was interpreted as meaning William Mooney, postmaster of Washington, will continue in office. Where investigations warrant, however, resignations are being asked, he said.

Mr. Farley estimated between 25,000 and 30,000 new jobs are being opened

Youth Hunt Balked By Mountain Fog

Mount Washington, N. H., June 21 (A.P.).—The fog-shrouded heights of Mount Washington tonight had balked searchers in airplanes and on foot in the hunt for Simon Joseph, 20, Harvard sophomore, lost on the treacherous slopes of the highest mountain of the State since last Sunday.

Joseph, son of Louis Joseph, Boston antique dealer, became separated during a gale Sunday from two companions, C. William Robbins, 19, of Framingham, Mass., a Harvard student, and Gerald Golden, of Boston, who attends Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Early today two planes, chartered by Joseph's father, circled about the mountain, over the trail taken by the lost youth and his companions. Fog settled on the slopes and the planes halted their search.

Young Couple Rescued Off Island in Pacific

San Diego, Calif., June 21 (A.P.).—June McCandless, 20, of Boston, and her cousin, William Beaumont, 20, of Coronado, Calif., were rescued today from the uninhabited South Island of the Coronado group on which they were marooned Monday night by the wrecking of their sailboat.

Sunburned and hungry, they were taken off the island, 20 miles southwest of San Diego, by a passing fishing craft.

New York Girl to Fly Ocean With Boardman

New York, June 21 (U.P.).—Miss Rosetta Valenti, a vivacious brunette, revealed today that she will accompany Russell Boardman, transatlantic aviator, on a projected flight from New York to Rome this summer.

Details of the flight will be revealed tomorrow when Boardman arrives here from Massachusetts, a representative of the flier said.

New Rail Pay Cut Definitely Is Abandoned

Called Off?

Firemen's Gala Labor Day Parade Is Struck by Depression.

'Twill be a lugubrious Labor Day in the old town this year. That clanging, ever moving concatenation of dazzling color and ear-splitting, pulse-stirring noise, the fire department's annual parade, is apparently off.

This was ascertained by The Post last night as tidings leaked out of probable inability of a depression-struck board of trade to foot the bill of the smoke-eaters' joyous pageant.

Sadly, Sergt. A. J. Bargagni, fire department parade maestro, bent his head in acknowledgment to a Post reporter that he had received no word from the board of trade to begin the annual promotion and ballyhoo work.

For ten years—the first fire department parade was held on Labor Day of 1923—Sergt. Bargagni has run the fire laddies' yearly extravaganza. Always weeks and weeks before this

MILITARY TRAINING AT U. OF MD. UPHELD

Appeals Court Asserts No Student May Be Legally Exempted.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., June 21.—The Maryland Court of Appeals today ruled that military training is a compulsory part of the course of the University of Maryland and that no student could legally be exempted from it.

The decision was rendered in the case of Ennie H. Coale, 20 years old, of Belair, Md., who entered the university last fall following his graduation from Belair High School, but he objected to the prescribed military work, and, upon his refusal to comply with regulations, he was suspended by Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, president of the institution. Later in the year the youth, through his father, Howard C. Coale, sought a writ of mandamus to compel the university officials to reinstate him. The lower court granted the writ and the university appealed.

The appellate court holds that any effort on the part of "any people to hinder or defeat the Government in preparing for defense should not be countenanced by the courts so long as the Government acts in the lawful exercise of such power."

Coale is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and Epworth League, and religious scruples figured conspicuously in the conscientious objections he entertained toward the military training.

Wayne Lees, 19 years old, of 3430 Mount Pleasant street northwest, who was suspended from the university at the same time Coale was, said last night that his case is in the hands of a Baltimore law firm. He continued:

"If the case is decided by highest courts against Coale, it would be useless for me to take my case to the courts. If it is finally decided in his favor, then I will probably seek reinstatement."

He said it was his understanding that the case will be taken to the United States Supreme Court.

Under no circumstances, he said, would he return to the university if military training is made compulsory. He is not attending any college at present, he said, although he is continuing private studies.

Presbyterian Leader Dies in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, June 21 (A.P.).—The Rev. Dr. Frederick E. Stockwell, college secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A., died today in a hospital.

Dr. Stockwell came here in 1924. He was a native of Providence, R. I. Survivors include his widow and four daughters, one of whom is Mrs. D. Curtis Mumford, of 4513 Ridge street, Chevy Chase, Md.

King of Italy Plans Visit to United States

Rome, June 21 (U.P.).—King Victor Emmanuel plans to pay an official visit to the United States next spring, it was reported here tonight.

The visit would be to repay the visit of the late Woodrow Wilson to Italy when President, at the end of the World War, it was said.

Eastman Says Labor Also to Quit Raise Demands.

22.5 Per Cent Threat Is Killed to Aid Recovery.

By J. BERNARD McDONNELL.

Railroad wages are to remain at present levels for another year under an agreement signed last night between representatives of the railroad manager and representatives of the railroad employes.

The agreement was reached after two days of conferences between the managers and labor chiefs and Joseph B. Eastman, Federal Coordinator of Transportation, who had stepped into the prospective wage battle as the spokesman of President Roosevelt and warned against any action which might threaten the administration's effort to improve economic conditions.

The present agreement between the railroads and the workers provides for a 10 per cent "deduction" from their basic pay. It was made on December 21, 1932, and would have expired next October 31.

Notice Required for Change.

The new agreement extends the date of expiration for eight months until June 30, next year, and provides that neither employer nor employe may change the basic wage in the meantime. Notice of intention to seek a change may not be given before February 15, 1934. Intervention of the Administration's new transportation agency headed by Mr. Eastman brought to a quick ending what might have been an employer-labor battle of major importance in the economic history of the country.

It was precipitated by the railroads when, a week ago today, they served formal notice on the employes that they would seek a reduction in the basic wages of 22½ per cent on expiration of the 10 per cent "deduction" agreement.

$22,500,000 Annual Difference.

The proposal would have meant a difference of something like $22,500,000 a year, and would have made what the employes considered an important difference in future wage disputes. Under the present "deduction" agreement, the basic wage has remained the same although employes only get 90 cents on the basic wage dollar. Aside from that importance the canceled proposal of the railroads would have meant a

Doctor and Friend Dead in Air Crash

Muskegon, Mich., June 21 (A.P.).—Two men were killed tonight when the plane in which they were riding crashed within a few rods of a group of 75 fellow luncheon club members at the Lincoln golf course, shortly after it had taken off.

The victims were Dr. R. I. Busard, 46, prominent surgeon and owner of the plane, and Lawrence C. Monroe, 50, head of a building supply company. Dr. Busard had owned and piloted his own plane for more than six years, and had made many trips by plane to perform operations. He was a member of the United States Army Reserve Air Corps.

Mr. Monroe became a passenger at the ill-fated plane after a good-natured argument with others at the club over the privilege.

ROBINSON SAYS VOTE IN ARKANSAS IS WET

Farley Sees U. S. in Repeal Mood as McBride Girds for "Real Battle."

(Associated Press.)

A prediction from Senator Joseph T. Robinson that his home State of Arkansas probably would vote for repeal on July 18 came yesterday close behind the verdict of Iowa, New Hampshire and Connecticut against prohibition.

In reply to such prophecies and the jubilation of antiprohibitionists over fourteen successive State victories, the Antisaloon League, through its superintendent, F. Scott McBride, said the "real battle" was yet to come.

"It would have greatly encouraged the drys had Iowa and New Hampshire voted against repeal," Mr. McBride said. "However, the fact that they did not is not disheartening because although both these States were dry, neither had gone dry by Statewide referendum."

In contrast, James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, predicted that "practically every State in the Union" would vote for ratification of repeal.

Shouse Is Optimistic.

Jouett Shouse, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, called the Iowa vote "astounding" and challenged prohibition leaders to name three States that would vote to keep the eighteenth amendment in the Constitution.

Complete unofficial returns from Iowa yesterday showed 377,275 for repeal and 249,943 against. The result in a State long considered dry impressed other senators besides Democratic Leader Robinson.

"The vote in Iowa indicates general sentiment in the corn belt," Senator Dickinson, of Iowa, said. "I believe the eighteenth amendment will be repealed."

Senator Nye, of North Dakota, said his State would vote wet now but that if times got better and "there be more contentment in North Dakota, it would vote dry."

Two States Vote Next Week.

Both sides were looking to the results in Arkansas and Alabama, which also votes on July 28. California and West Virginia ballot on June 27.

The prohibitionists have asserted the wet sweep will be definitely checked in the South.

In Ohio yesterday prohibitionists filed a petition seeking a vote on whether to hold a repeal election previously set for November 7. There were indications that the matter might be taken to the courts.

Antiprohibitionists predicted that if elections were held in a sufficient number of States the necessary 36 ratifications to the repeal resolution would be obtained before the year is out.

Huge Repeal Vote Cast In Three State Elections

Des Moines, Iowa, June 21 (A.P.).—A margin of 127,332 votes lifted Iowa from the dry ranks into the repeal column, complete unofficial returns from Tuesday's special election showed today.

The vote for ratifying repeal of the eighteenth amendment was 377,275 with 249,943 opposing in the State's 2,435 precincts.

By its vote Iowa elected 99 repeal delegates to a constitutional convention to be held in Des Moines July 10 to complete the formality of adding Iowa to the list of States which have ratified repeal.

Connecticut Vote Views.

New Haven, Conn., June 21 (A.P.).—Diverse interpretations came today from prohibitionists and antiprohibitionists on the 6-to-1 vote cast by the Connecticut electorate in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment, but to none was the result a surprise.

The unofficial vote stood today at 236,915 for repeal; 35,349 against.

Concord, N. H., June 21 (A.P.).—New Hampshire's ten repeal delegates chosen in yesterday's special election will meet at the State House July 11 to ratify the amendment repealing prohibition.

Simultaneous with announcement of the convention date, Gov. John G. Winant signed a bill legalizing the sale of 6 per cent beer and wine if and when national prohibition is repealed. The sale of 3.2 beer and wine is permitted.

The complete vote for the State in the election yesterday was: For repeal, 75,999; against repeal, 30,340.

Sheppard on Way Home To Speak for Dry Laws

(Associated Press.)

Senator Sheppard (Democrat), Texas, one of the authors of the eighteenth amendment, was on his way home yesterday to use his influence against repeal of the prohibition law.

Mr. Sheppard will speak at the opening of the convention of prohibition's defenders at Austin June 27 and close friends of the Texan reported he probably would make a series of other speeches against repeal before the State votes on August 26.

Ohio Drys Petition For Referendum

Columbus, Ohio, June 21 (A.P.).—The Ohio Antisaloon League and its allies today played a trump card in their fight to forestall possible ratification of repeal of the eighteenth amendment in Ohio.

Perspiring under the load, S. P. McNaught, State superintendent, and three assistants carried into the office of the Secretary of State what they said was the "biggest petition ever filed in Ohio."

The document seeks a referendum on the Mosier law as passed by the current Legislature. This law provides for an out-and-out vote on repeal through 52 delegates-at-large in a State convention. The delegates would be chosen in a State-wide election on November 7 and the convention would be held a month later.

Mr. McNaught said the petitions carried 284,403 signatures from all of the 88 counties in Ohio—far over the 154,000 necessary to initiate a referendum.

Weather Again Delays Balbo.

Gus Nations' $200,000 Suit Won by Mrs. Willebrandt

Antisaloon Official and Former Dry Aid Charged Article Hurt Him.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former Assistant United States Attorney General, won a Federal court suit today in which Gus O. Nations, Antisaloon League official and former St. Louis prohibition administrator, sought $200,000 damages for an article she had written.

The jury deliberated only 26 minutes after hearing testimony and arguments for three days before Federal Judge Robert P. Patterson.

Nations contended that Mrs. Willebrandt had defamed his reputation in a syndicated article on prohibition, published August 14, 1929, by a false accusation that he attempted to obstruct justice in the prosecution of his brother, Heber Nations, who had been indicted on a charge of conspiring to violate the Volstead act.

Mrs. Willebrandt, on the stand today, said the article contained one inaccuracy—that she had written all the defendants in the Heber Nations case pleaded guilty except Heber Nations. Another defendant, she said, did not enter a guilty plea.

Gus O. Nations, she said, had rejected an application for a permit by the Griesedieck Brewery in St. Louis, which his brother was accused of having protected from Federal raids.

MOLEY TAKES SHIP FOR LONDON PARLEY

Asserts Delegation Now Is Ready to Push Plans Formulated Here.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Raymond Moley, Assistant Secretary of State and close advisor to President Roosevelt, sailed for London today to act as a link between the administration and the American delegation to the World Economic Conference, from which he predicted definite results.

Moley, who bore last minute instructions received from the President yesterday in a dramatic meeting off the Massachusetts coast, said in a statement:

"I feel that the two weeks of preliminaries at the conference have been useful in the direction of exploring the possibilities of action, and the delegation is ready to pursue vigorously the plans which they developed in the weeks before they sailed, and America may look forward to definite results from their efforts."

The Columbia professor had little to say about his conference with the President, aside from the fact that they canvassed the situation thoroughly.

Another authority indicated, however, that the administration is firm in its domestic program and that international agreements if any, must be in line with its promotion.

Piccard, of Stratosphere, Arrives to Help Flight

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Prof. Auguste Piccard, Belgian scientist who ascended to the stratosphere in a balloon last year, arrived today on the liner Champlain to act in an advisory capacity for the projected stratosphere flight of his brother, Jean Piccard, and Lieut. Comdr. T. G. W. Settle, U. S. N.

Prof. Piccard will help assemble the balloon, which is being constructed in this country for the flight, and will give technical advice. It is planned to begin the flight from Soldier Field, Chicago, between July 1 and July 20, depending on weather conditions.

ROOSEVELT CRUISES INTO LITTLE HARBOR

Confers With Douglas and Col. House Before Trip to New Hampshire.

Little Harbor, N. H., June 21 (A.P.).—Combining a little business with a lot of pleasure, President Roosevelt cruised into this familiar harbor tonight after a leisurely sail from Gloucester, Mass.

Before taking off he conferred with Lewis Douglas, his Director of the Budget, and Col. Edward M. House, sage of foreign affairs. Veterans' economies and how to ease them was the topic with busy Mr. Douglas, who is charged with keeping the budget balanced.

The sun celebrated the longest day of the year by remaining out for the presidential arrival just before 7 o'clock, Eastern standard time, to brighten the skies for the hosts on shore with their field glasses.

Wearing his oilskin and sailor hat, Mr Roosevelt was again at the helm as he guided the Amberjack II around the stone breakwater. He left his accompanying destroyers and Navy yacht outside in the deeper waters. Talking with newspapermen, the President described the trip as "great." "I will see the granddaughter tonight," he added, smiling.

Sarah Delano Roosevelt, daughter of James Roosevelt, jr., his eldest son, and her mother have a summer cottage at Rye Beach, nearby.

Portland, Me., is the goal for tomorrow night and a layover there on Friday is planned. At this port the two youngest sons of the President, Franklin, jr., and John, will replace a couple of members of the crew.

Lewis Douglas and Col. House are both vacationing near Gloucester and he welcomed their proximity for a personal contact with public business during the morning.

Cuba's Reich Ambassador Dies.

Geneva, June 21 (A.P.).—Aristide Aguerro y Bettencourt, Cuban Ambassador to Germany and Austria, died in a Geneva hotel today. His wife was at the bedside. Funeral services will be Saturday in Notre Dame Cathedral in Geneva, with interment in Cuba.

THREE NATIONS RECEIVE U. S. REPLIES ON DEBT PAYMENT

their installments and those countries of the defaulting bloc, France, Belgium, Poland, Jugoslavia and Esthonia, who will be required to make the December 15 payment and some satisfactory "token" offer for the June 15 installment to qualify.

Finland is in a class by itself. The Finnish government paid the debts regularly and in entirety and was accorded special consideration in the new hearings. However, Finnish Minister Astrom had his plans already made for a summer vacation in cool Helsingfors and will postpone the debt audience here until the autumn.

The American notes were dispatched by Acting Secretary of State William Phillips, although most of them had already been written by Assistant Secretary Moley before his departure. Prof. Moley, after his dramatic sea conference with the President off Nantucket, left for London yesterday, where he will bring the final word of the President to the conference.

The tenor of the three notes to the paying countries was practically the same. The position taken by Roumania, however, in meeting its debt installment of $1,000,000 by a partial payment of $29,100 was recognized as a particularly harmonious solution of the difficulty. The Roumanian payment constituted a definite recognition of the principal of the debt which is thus safeguarded for the United States and will be used as the basis for the future conversations when they open here toward the latter part of August.

The other nations met their payments by striking an arbitrary figure which represented in the case of the Czechoslovakian government, for instance, "the highest limit of payment which could be made at present without impairing the budgetary and monetary equilibrium" of the country.

The Roumanian payment was determined on the strict basis of a commercial accounting wherein the interest charges are provided for and paid, even though there is a forced suspension of the amortization account.

Shorn of All Flowers.

The tone taken by this Government in replying to the Jugoslavia government and to the Esthonian government was, however, shorn of all "flowers." The principle of inability to pay, which was the underlying theme in the case of these two governments, was recognized by the United States. The request for a future exchange of views was pointedly ignored by the United States, however.

The five countries which yesterday received replies to their notes to this Government owed a total of $3,290,375. Payment amounting to $215,100 was received from three of them, Czechoslovakia paying $180,000, Roumania $29,100 and Latvia $6,000. Esthonia owed $264,322.50 and Jugoslavia $275,000.

The definite dates for the debt hearings have not yet been set, although it is expected they will begin with the British delegation some time between July 15 and August 1. The Italian delegation will be the second country to be heard, and the Roumanian government is expected to make its new debt representations some time about the end of August.

May Act as Letter Box.

The course that is open to the President will in the last analysis definitely decide the entire debt question for this Government. It will be possible for President Roosevelt to act as a letter box and merely receive the debt proposals from foreign governments and pass them on to Congress without comment.

What is more likely, however, is that he will listen to the new debt arguments for reduction of the total from every nation and then pass them on to Congress with certain definite recommendations in each case.

The general argument of "incapacity to pay" and the "difficulties of transfer" will probably form the underlying complaint in all the debt commissions. The Jugoslavian note yesterday revealed a vehement exposition of that country's inability to pay which, coupled with the principle of Lausanne agreements, formed the characteristic argument of future debt pleas.

ROPER TRADE GROUP WILL MEET MONDAY

Scores of Business Leaders Will Serve as Long-Range Planners.

The new business advisory committee, whose advice will be sought by the Department of Commerce in making reductions in the statistical and research work of the department, will hold its first meeting on Monday, Secretary Roper announced yesterday.

Including William A. Julian, Treasurer of the United States; Alexander Legge, former head of the Farm Board, and Henry I. Harriman, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and 41 business leaders have consented to serve on the committee. Others have volunteered. Members of the committee were selected by a smaller committee of business leaders several weeks ago.

Known as the advisory and long-range economic planning committee, the body will have a double purpose. It will direct the policies of the Department of Commerce into the lines where it can best serve industry at the least expense. It will also plan extensive studies of business trends, to be carried out by the department.

Trends to Be Considered.

Those trends which will be considered by the committee include the decentralization of industry; adjustments in international trade; the relation between the increase in the funded debt and the growth of the capital equipment of the country, and the reduction of those activities of the department which are least helpful to business. Members of the committee serve on it without any expense to the Government, and are expected to avail themselves of free assistance which has been offered by various research institutes and foundations.

Those who have already agreed to serve on the committee are:

Mr. Julian, Mr. Legge, president of the International Harvester Co.; Mr. Harriman, Col. Robert G. Elbert, of the Aeolian Co. and the International Holding Co.; Ralph E. Flanders, of the Jones & Lamson Machine Co.; Alfred P. Sloan, jr., president of the General Motors Corporation; Col. Edward N. Hurley, of Chicago; Robert L. Lund, vice president and general manager of the Lambert Pharmacal Co.

Pierre du Pont, chairman of the E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co.; Dr. C. K. Leith, professor of geology of the University of Wisconsin; James H. Rand, jr., president of Remington Rand, Inc.; Thomas J. Watson, president of International Business Machines Corporation; Henry S. Dennison, president of the Dennison Manufacturing Co.; Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

M. L. Benedum, of Pittsburgh; Morris E. Leeds, president of Leeds & Northrup; William T. Kemper, chairman of the board of the National Bank of Commerce; Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Co.; Gen. R. E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Many Industries Listed.

A. Lincoln Filene, chairman of the board, William Filene's Sons Co.; Clay Williams, president of the Reynolds Tobacco Co.; Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.; H. R. Safford, executive vice president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad; William A. Harriman, chairman of the Union Pacific Railroad; George H. Mead, president of the Mead Corporation; H. P. Kendall, president of the Kendall Co.; Lionel J. Noah, president of the American Woolen Co.

George H. Baldwin, executive vice president of the Bisbee-Baldwin Corporation; Austin Finch, president of the Thomasville Chair Co.; Edmond C. Van Diest, president of the General Service Corporation; Fred J. Lingham, president of the Federal Mills and president of the National Millers Federation; Henry H. Heimann, executive manager of the National Association of Credit Men; Thomas H. McInnerny, president of the National Dairy Products Corporation.

Fred I. Kent of the New York Federal Reserve Bank; DeLancey Kountze, chairman of Devoe & Raynolds Co., Inc.; A. P. Greensfelder, president of Fruin-Colnon Contracting Co.; Everett G. Griggs, chairman of the board of the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Co.; Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago; Edward T. Stannard, president of the Kennecot Copper Co.; Lew Hahn, president of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, and Col. Arthur W. Little, of New York.

Treasury Asks Tenders For $75,000,000 Issue

(Associated Press.)

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Acheson yesterday invited tenders for $75,000,000 in 91-day bills, which will be sold to the highest bidder on June 26.

The bills will be dated June 28 and mature September 27. The money derived from the sale will be used to retire $100,000,000 in similar securities which mature on June 28.

SPECIAL NOTICES

PURSUANT TO THE PROVISIONS OF ARticle 8, section 2, of the by-laws of the company, a special meeting of the stockholders of the Capital Traction Company is called to be held at the office of the company at Thirty-sixth and M streets northwest, Washington, D. C., on the 3D DAY OF JULY, 1933, at 11 o'clock a. m., to consider the approval of a certain form of agreement for the unification of the transit properties in the District of Columbia, as contained in and provided by joint resolution of Congress approved January 14, 1933, as amended February 16, 1933, "To authorize the merger of street railway corporations operating in the District of Columbia, and for other purposes." The polls will be open from 11:15 a. m. until 12 noon, July 3, 1933. H. D. CRAMPTON, Secretary.

Citizen Calls Baruch "Unofficial President"

(Associated Press.)

The State Department yesterday received a telegram addressed to "Bernard M. Baruch, unofficial President of the United States."

It said: "Congratulations. I know of no better man for the job," and was signed by a citizen of Tulsa, Okla.

Receipt of the telegram followed an announcement that Baruch, at the request of President Roosevelt, would act as an adviser to Government heads in the President's absence and would serve as a liaison officer between the Chief Executive and delegates at the London conference and departmental officials here.

SANDERS CONFERS WITH G. O. P. AIDS

Five Eastern State Leaders in Parley; New York Dissension Hinted.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Leaders of the Republican party in five Eastern States assembled tonight with Everett Sanders, national chairman, for the second of a series of conferences to prepare for the 1934 congressional elections.

Mr. Sanders, preceding his dinner conference with leaders from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Delaware, said the meeting would confine itself to plans for the Congressional campaigns.

The conferences have also been interpreted as designed to straighten out differences in several States arising out of the party's defeat last year.

In New York State there have been persistent reports of dissatisfaction in some quarters with the leadership of W. Kingsland Macy, State chairman, but Mr. Sanders refused to comment on the situation.

Invited to the conference from the Empire State were the national committee members, the State chairman and vice chairman, but only Mr. Macy and Charles D. Hilles, committeeman, were expected to attend.

Others at the meeting were Daniel E. Pomeroy, committeeman; Mrs. Edna B. Conklin, committeewoman; John McCutcheon and Mrs. Elizabeth C. Verga, vice chairmen, from New Jersey; J. Henry Roarback, Connecticut State chairman and vice chairman of the national committee; Gen. Edward Martin, State chairman, and Mrs. Worthington Scranton, committeewoman, from Pennsylvania; F. U. du Pont, State chairman of Delaware, and George De B. Keim, of New Jersey, secretary to the national committee.

Mr. Sanders will hold the third of the conferences in Boston tomorrow, meeting with leaders from Massachusetts, Maine, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Lindsay Flies to Boston To Get Harvard Degree

(Associated Press.)

Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador, left Washington by plane yesterday for Boston, where he will receive an honorary degree from Harvard University today.

He was much amused by rumors that he is going to Boston to meet President Roosevelt and discuss London conference matters.

INCOME TAX LAW'S DISSECTION STARTS

House Group Begins Hunt Designed to Stop Up Revealed Holes.

(Associated Press.)

An investigation into the income tax law was begun yesterday by the House Ways and Means subcommittee with a view to stopping up loopholes to increase revenue and formulating a program for repeal of various nuisance taxes.

The inquiry was begun in executive session. Representative Hill, of Washington, chairman of the subcommittee, said the study behind closed doors would occupy about three weeks and that open hearings probably would get under way late next fall.

"We expect to close up loopholes in the income tax law that will result in bringing in millions of revenue," Mr. Hill said. "It may be possible that many of the nuisance taxes levied last year can be repealed as a result of the revision of the income tax law."

Mr. Hill said the subcommittee would draft a complete program for the revision of the Federal revenue laws, and would have it ready for action by the full committee before the January session.

Musicians to Be Helped By Repeal, Tobin Says

Chicago, June 21 (A.P.).—Repeal of prohibition will put more musicians back to work, Daniel J. Tobin, of Indianapolis, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Helpers Union, predicted in a speech at the convention of the American Federation of Musicians today.

He said that within five years he believed two-thirds of the Nation's 15,000,000 unemployed would be back at work again.

Iowa's Vote Disappoints President of W. C. T. U.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Mrs. Ella A. Boole, national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, expressed keen disappointment today over the result of the repeal election in Iowa.

"We rather expected Connecticut and New Hampshire to vote for repeal," she said, "but we had great hopes for Iowa. But it seems that Iowa, too, has been overcome by the great wet wave."

SUMMER'S ARRIVAL SCORCHES BIG AREA

Temperatures of 100 Are Frequent; Damage to Crops Reported.

(Associated Press.)

Summer made its official entrance yesterday with scorching weather over a goodly section of the Nation. Paradoxical cooling breezes prevailed in a few scattered regions.

A baking sun outshone its previous efforts in a dozen or more States as temperatures in the high 90s ceased to become unusual and readings of 100 became frequent.

Damage to crops was reported in several States, but in districts where the ground held sufficient moisture fields of corn, hay and small grains were growing well.

Kansas Town Hottest.

Neodesha, Kans., took the honors in early reports, with 104 degrees above zero registered at 1:30 p. m. Birmingham, Ala., had 102; Bartlesville, Okla., 101, and Fort Scott, Kans., 101.

Pittsburgh closed the schools as the mercury reached 94 and headed higher. Cleveland had a water shortage and the weather was less than comfortable at 88.

Along the Eastern seaboard the temperatures graduated from a temperate 75, with showers promised, at New York, to 97 at Baltimore. The National Capital had 95.

Minnesota and North Dakota cooled off after showers, but crop experts declared the moisture was not sufficient to alleviate the danger of crop damage. Experts at St. Paul said wheat, rye, and other small grains were damaged "almost irreparably" in the four North Central States.

Lake Breeze Effective.

Cool Lake Michigan breezes came to the rescue of Chicago and Milwaukee residents as temperatures dropped from the 90s to the 70s.

More representative, however, were readings of 96 at Atlanta, Nashville, Oklahoma City; 97 at Cincinnati, where the average temperature was 96 for four days, and also at Indianapolis, and 98 at St. Louis.

Knoxville, Tenn., and Des Moines, Iowa, had readings of 95, the Iowa reading coming after light rains over the State early in the day. Miami had 80, Kansas City, 90, and out at Dunn Center, N. Dak., it was only 44 in the early morning.

Cells Become Granulated During Process of Death

French Scientist at Chicago Session Reveals Phenomenon; Age of Earth Again Is Estimated at One to Three Billion Years.

Chicago, June 21 (A.P.).—What happens in the process of death, learned from watching it take place in tiny cells such as make up all living things, was reported today to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

When death comes, the fluid material or cytoplasm that constitutes the living material in the cell changes into a mass of granules, said Dr. Jean Dufrenoy, plant disease specialist, of Bordeaux, France. He made his studies of the death process in cells of plants, but it is possible they apply also to cells of other forms of life.

Trying to learn how death works within the cells is essential to understanding of how the process of death affects the body as a whole. When the cells die the body dies, as a building would fall if its bricks should disintegrate.

"Detath" inside the cell can be seen under the ultra-microscope, Dr. Dufrenoy explained, but "life" is invisible. The cytoplasm, the actual "life" within the cell, is as colorless as water and can not be seen, though scientists know it is there and moving because of particles floating in it.

When the cytoplasm dies, however, and turns into granules, the granules become visible through the ultra-microscope. Stains, used by scientists to help them make out the shape and size of very small things under the microscope, have no effect on the living cytoplasm, so its form remains a mystery, but when death changes it into granules, they are stainable, and can be seen.

When a cell dies slowly, Dr. Dufrenoy said, the materials of the cytoplasm have more chance to come apart. Fat or oil comes out of the cytoplasm most often, in the form of droplets. Cells dying slowly from starvation first use up their reserve food supplies, then part of the cell's living material is digested to feed the rest. This is what happens in fever.

Mother Earth's past was the subject of a probe by eight experts, who sought to solve the mystery of the venerable lady's age, which so far she has successfully concealed. But she came out of the ordeal still a "lady of uncertain age," for the evidence presented indicated only that she dates from somewhere between one and three billion years ago.

Two "witnesses" that have recently turned up, however, may offer enough evidence for an eventual more accurate solution. One is lead—the kind used in pipes—that has been lying inside Mother Earth ever since she was born from the sun, and so has known her since babyhood. The other is helium, the gas that lifts dirigibles, once a doubtful witness, but now looked upon with new confidence.

The ancient lead in the earth was produced from uranium by radioactivity of the sun, before the part of the sun that is now the earth broke away and started its own career, said Dr. C. S. Piggot, of Carnegie Institution, of Washington. The problem is to find how long it took for the lead to be produced by the slow disintegration of uranium in the sun. Counting the ticks or this celestial clock should reveal with fair accuracy how long ago it was that there was no earth and about when the planet left its parent sun for good.

"We know very little about this celestial clock," said Dr. Piggot, "but we have every confidence that we shall be able to count its ticks, and read its message sent from the vastness of astronomic time."

Another kind of more rare lead, produced from radioactivity of uranium only since the earth came into existence, indicates the earth is from one to three billion years old.

New methods of studying the rate at which helium is produced from radioactive rocks have made possible its use as an earth time clock, said Dr. W. D. Urry, of Massachusetts Institte of Technology. It shows rocks in deep copper mines are 450 to 600 million years old.

PARLEY DEFINITELY DROPS 22.5 PER CENT RAIL PAY CUT

further actual slash of 12½ per cent in wages.

W. F. Thiehoff, of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, who was chairman of the conference committee of managers, and Kenneth Burgess, conference attorney, acted as leaders for the railroads, and A. F. Whitney headed the Railway Labor Executives Association and signed the agreement.

It now goes back to the railroad unions for approval as provided in the rules of their organizations. This approval must be given before July 12, this year, otherwise the new agreement ceases to be effective and the subject will be reopened. Approval of the unions is expected.

Statement by Eastman.

In a statement announcing the wage truce, Mr. Eastman said:

"This agreement has been reached because both the railroads and the employes wish to do nothing which would in any way embarrass or threaten the present policy of the administration.

"They realize," he continued, "that the Government has now embarked upon a wholly new policy designed to promote business and industrial activity and to further the general welfare.

"They appreciate that until the results of this policy can be more clearly determined, it will be difficult to deal wisely with this wage controversy, and that the active prosecution of such a controversy at the present time might have a most disturbing and unsettling effect.

Postponement of Controversy.

"Neither side relinquishes in any way its views as to what the wages should be, but they have agreed to a postponement of the controversy out of deference to what they believe to be the desire and policy of the administration and in the general public interest.

"This agreement has been reached voluntarily in a spirit of cooperation, and I desire to express my very whole-hearted appreciation of the attitude of both parties. They have been reasonable and amicable and they merit the commendation of the country."

Great Waterway Will Open Today

Chicago, June 21 (A.P.).—Secretary of War Dern and Speaker Rainey of the House of Representatives, arrived tonight by airplane from Washington to participate tomorrow in the dedication here of the lakes-to-gulf waterway.

Completed at a cost of $105,000,000, so far as the section known as the Illinois waterway is concerned, the waterway floated its first northbound freight tow into Lake Michigan today. It consisted of four barges.

The effect of the waterway will be symbolized tomorrow with the blending, by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, and T. Semmes Walmsley, of New Orleans, of water brought from the Gulf of Mexico with that from the Great Lakes.

INTERNAL REVENUE TO DROP 100 HERE

500 Throughout Country to Be Discharged in Economy Move.

About 100 Washington employes of the Bureau of Internal Revenue will be among more than 500 to be discharged throughout the country in an attempt to save $2,855,000 from the bureau's appropriation, Guy T. Helvering, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, said yesterday.

The local cut will affect about 40 attorneys in the General Counsel's office, and about 26 clerks in various other units. The special advisory committee of the bureau will be reduced by six members, whose clerks will also be dropped, Mr. Helvering said.

The ranks of the deputy collectors of internal revenue will be reduced by 104, in an attempt to save $646,000 from the expenses of the accounts and collections unit of the bureau. This unit will also lose 141 other employes throughout the country. Some field offices will be abolished, and others will continue with a reduced staff. Mr. Helvering has advised against a proposal to have collectors handle more than one State, pointing out that the economy would be more than offset by the reduction in revenue which would follow. He plans to continue the present practice of maintaining a collector in each State, no matter how small.

The number of revenue agents will be cut by 116, while 37 office auditors will be dropped. The intelligence unit of the bureau will lose about 25 employes and around 75 clerks in miscellaneous jobs will be discharged throughout the country.

The income tax unit will have to operate on $599,000 less, while the intelligence unit's allotment is being cut $150,000, Mr. Helvering said. A saving of $189,000 will be made from the expenses of the general counsel's office. A cut in all traveling expenses will save about $220,000 more, it is estimated.

Erle T. Harrison, Merchant, Is Dead

Erle T. Harrison, who conducted a general mercantile business at College Park, Md., for 22 years, died yesterday at Garfield Hospital after a brief illness.

Born at Charlotte Hall, Md., in 1876, Mr. Harrison came to College Park more than 30 years ago as executive clerk to Richard Sylvester, president of the Maryland Agricultural College, now the University of Maryland.

In 1911, Mr. Harrison established a general mercantile business with his brother, Wirt Harrison. Besides this brother, he is survived by one other brother, P. Stanley Harrison, of Hughesville, Md., and a sister, Mrs. T. K. Harrison, of Westminster, Md.

Brief services will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow in the Gasch Sons funeral parlors at Hyattsville, Md. Other services will follow at All Faith Episcopal Church at Charlotte Hall at 11 a. m. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

UNIFORM PAYLESS FURLOUGHS SOUGHT

up in Washington through the new emergency agencies. The new home loan organization probably will make available about 10,000 jobs, he inferred.

Although Representative James V. McClintic (Democrat), Oklahoma, and his special Democratic patronage subcommittee, are going into all bureaus in their quest for jobs for persistent constituents, it is largely these openings in the new emergency set-ups that are now the bone of contention among job hunters.

Civil Service Protection.

The Council of Personnel Administration, moving to protect present personnel on request of heads of the new agencies, is submitting lists of Civil Service employes already or about to be dismissed or furloughed. At the same time, job-seeking Democrats are making pressing demands that they be accommodated first.

While department chiefs were bending every effort to map a program for dealing in an executive way with the personnel problem before the new fiscal year starts next week, the program was discussed from the standpoint of administration at a meeting yesterday of the Association of Personnel Officers. E. Claude Babcock, president of the association, afterward said there was no statement to make.

Other developments yesterday were:

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering announced that about 550 employes of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, including 100 in Washington, will be dismissed to effect necessary economies. Following abolition of the old Bureau of Internal Revenue, under Roosevelt reorganization orders, transfers to the new Division of Internal Revenue will be accomplished with "very little change in personnel," he indicated.

100 Commerce Aids Out.

The Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, which already has released 100 employes and proposes further curtailments, yesterday ordered that no employes "absent themselves on leave between now and July 1." Department officials said the action was "owing to the need of the bureau for the services of all," and had no other significance.

Earlier, reports were current that the new Industrial Recovery Administration may take over the commodity divisions of the Bureau of Foreign and Dometsic Commerce, including about 300 persons. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, head of the Recovery Administration, is said to be studying plans also to take over not only these but other Commerce Department units.

Definite word that the War Department will follow the Postoffice Department's lead in ordering furloughs in lieu of dismissals, was forthcoming yesterday. It was said Secretary of War Dern is opposed to any program of wholesale discharges in carrying out the President's $50,000,000 reduction below Congressional appropriations.

SPAIN'S ROYAL HEIR WEEPS AT WEDDING

Regrets Father's Disapproval and Smiles at Marriage to Cuban Commoner.

Lausanne, Switzerland, June 21 (A.P.).—The former Prince of the Asturias, defying parental opposition and renouncing his rights to the Spanish throne for love, was married today to Edelmira Sampedro, attractive daughter of a Cuban merchant.

Bitterly disappointed over the lack of approval from former King Alfonso XIII, whose last word before the wedding caused the bridegroom to burst into sobs, the couple nevertheless smiled happily through the civil and religious ceremonies.

The brief civil marriage in the city hall of Lausanne was followed later in the afternoon by the nuptial benediction in the Sacred Heart Church of Ouchy, just below Lausanne on the shores of Lake Geneva.

Though shorn officially of royal prerogatives, the former prince was still "his highness" in the wedding ritual while to the people, who crowded the streets and shouted acclamations, the wedding was a real fairy tale romantic union of a prince and a commoner.

The 27-year-old brunette bride, one of a family of sisters noted for their beauty, was greeted with murmurs of admiration. She wore a white gown with a 10-foot train, and a silver pearl-studded headband and carried white lilies at the church. At the civil ceremony she wore a black coat, a yellow dress and a small beige hat with a narrow brim.

The former prince, one year younger than his bride, went in a blue sack suit to the City Hall, but appeared at the church in a cutaway, with striped trousers, and wore in his lapel the decoration of the Golden Fleece, one of the oldest and most highly prized of Spanish orders.

The couple received numerous wedding presents, although many Spanish nobles sent their regrets, fearing disapproval. But no presents came from Fontainebleau, France, the exile residence of the former king and queen.

Woodin Says Congress Had Little Music Interest

Philadelphia, June 21 (A.P.).—A musician of parts, Secretary of the Treasury Wooodin found the Seventy-Third Congress in no mood for music.

In a letter replying to the suggestion of M. Phillips, of Darby, that all sessions of Congress be opened with music as a means of increasing the appreciation of music throughout the country, Secretary Woodin said the idea would have to be worked up during the summer.

"The present Congress, I do not believe, is in the mood for any suggestions of the sort you have in mind," he explained, just before the recent first session closed.

INJUNCTION SOUGHT AGAINST TALMADGE

Two Ousted Highway Aids Ask U. S. to Revoke Martial Law.

Atlanta, June 21 (A.P.).—A Federal injunction to keep Gov. Eugene Talmadge from running the State Highway Department under martial law was asked here today by two ousted members of the highway board, but a date for the hearing was not set.

The petition, filed by J. W. Barnett and W. C. Vereen, asked that Gov. Talmadge, Adjutant General Lindley W. Camp and Highway Commissioner Jud P. Wilhoit be required to show cause why the martial-law rule of the highway department should not be stopped.

Federal Judge E. Marvin Underwood said a three-judge court would be organized and a date set for a hearing on a rule nisi directing the three defendants to show cause why the injunction should not be issued.

Meanwhile, several capitol officials, including the governor himself, were assigned personal military guards, two National Guardsmen sat in the capitol corridor at the side entrance to the governor's private office, and another sat near the main entrance to his public reception room. National Guardsmen also were detailed to accompany State Treasurer George B. Hamilton, Comptroller General W. B. Harrison and Wilhoit. The guards accompanied them as they went out to lunch, and whenever they left their offices for any reason.

(Associated Press.)

Dr. R. G. Tugwell, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, served notice yesterday that further payments of Federal road funds to Georgia would be withheld "until it has been determined that the State has a satisfactory highway department."

THREAT OF WALLACE SENDS WHEAT RISING

gentina and Canada do not see the light in London, might resort to dumping its surplus into the world market at a price as low as 20 cents a bushel, while holding the domestic price at around $1.

"It would be deplorable if that had to be done, but I think it is conceivable if necessary to bring down our wheat surplus."

Secretary Wallace insisted that any effort to help the milling industry must be realistically accompanied by a resolution to maintain a "decent standard of living for the folks who grow the wheat."

A. J. Weaver, head of the Wheat Division of the Department of Agriculture, today told the National Millers Federation convention that the processing tax on wheat probably would go into effect July 8.

Rules Near Completion.

The task of compiling rules and regulations to make the Roosevelt agricultural recovery act effective has been about finished, Mr. Weaver said, and another two weeks or so should see the necessary machinery set up and ready for operation.

London, June 21 (A.P.).—While the Australians were awaiting new instructions from their government as to whether participation in the wheat acreage reduction scheme is possible, private conversations were taking place today to sound out the small nations of Europe upon their possible cooperation in the plan.

In both American and Argentine quarters it was asserted that there was every hope of agreement on a restriction scheme with the four biggest producing nations, but that it was necessary to draw the smaller producing countries into the project lest the disastrous experience of the attempt at sugar restriction three years ago should be repeated.

Maryland Repeal Group Ends Work

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., June 21.—The Statewide committee of Maryland, appointed under a General Assembly act to nominate delegates for election to the State's prohibition repeal convention, completed its task today, although for a time it looked as though some difficulty would be encountered in filling the lists of unpledged delegates in the respective congressional districts.

The special election is to be held September 12, and the date of the convention to cast the State's official vote is fixed for October 18.

Committeemen attending today's gathering numbered 29, there being six from Baltimore City, and one from each of the respective counties. The fact that it was without organization, Gov. Ritchie called the meeting to order, as temporary chairman. William L. Rawls, of Baltimore City, afterward was chosen permanent chairman, and Robert H. Archer, Harford County, secretary. A rules committee of three was appointed. This group after a few minutes' deliberation barred public office holders and persons under 25 years old from being named delegates.

Former Lawmaker Convicted of Arson

Akron, Ohio, June 21 (A.P.).—Kyle Ross, former Akron councilman and vice crusader, was convicted late today of arson in connection with a series of mysterious fires at his home. J. R. Riddle, Ross' attorney, announced a motion for a new trial will be filed.

Explosions and fires at the Ross home during the past five years were attributed by Ross to "underworld enemies" he made during his crusade as a one-man vice investigating committee.

The prosecution contended Ross was a "publicity seeker" and that fires at the Ross home were too amateurish to be the work of underworld characters.

THE AMERICAN STANDARD OF GOOD TASTE

STABILIZATION CODE IS FILED FOR BUTTER

Similar Agreements Sought for Cheese and Allied Industries.

(Associated Press.)

Stabilization of butter prices and elimination of price-cutting practices in its distribution was sought in a proposed butter trade marketing agreement submitted yesterday by representatives of the butter industry to administrators of the farm act.

Efforts to provide similar agreements are being undertaken by representatives of the cheese and evaporated milk industries, the latter having arrived at virtual agreement on the main points in its marketing program, subject to the approval of Secretary Wallace after a public hearing.

Efforts to agree upon fundamentals of agreements are being made as a prelude to a general meeting of leaders of the dairy industry to be conducted next Monday by George N. Peek and Charles J. Brand, administrators of the farm adjustment law.

Likely to Be First Agreement.

Meanwhile a decision neared on a proposed trade agreement, on which a public hearing has been held, covering the Chicago fluid milk area. This is likely to be the first trade agreement approved under the new program which exempts those joining in the compact from prohibitions of the antitrust laws.

Administrators were reported to be convinced that they should employ their licensing power without delay to assure enforcement of the agreements and that the first exercise of this power would come with approval of the Chicago program.

Under this licensing power, Wallace has authority to refuse operating permits to concerns which fail to abide by the agreements. Operation without licenses would make concerns subject to heavy fines.

The butter agreement is being worked out by representatives of the industry, including Charles W. Holman, secretary of the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation, which has submitted the tentative agreement, and Dr. Clyde L. King, who is serving as temporary milk production chief without compensation.

Proposed Code of Ethics.

The agreement includes a proposed code of trade ethics to eliminate "cut throat" competition and price cutting, a program for procurement of butterfat from farmers and a sales and marketing progam.

Tentatively, consideration is being given to the creation of a national butter price committee, which would be given wide powers to determine prices of butter to wholesalers in an effort to increase the return to producers and to adjust regional differences.

Efforts to work out a cheese agreement are being made by the National Cheese Producers Federation with members in Minnesota and Wisconsin, and the National Cheese Institute whose members include dealers and processors.

The proposed agreement covering the evaporated milk industry would be dependent in part upon action taken for butter and cheese as the supply of milk for evaporated concerns represents chiefly surplus for which a market is otherwise lacking.

The basis of prices for the evaporated milk will be quotations for cheese at Plymouth, Wis., and 92 score butter at Chicago.

Washington Burglaries Charged to Prisoner

Scranton, Pa., June 21 (A.P.).—Scranton police said today that Henry G. Barnes, 37, of Augusta, Ga., arrested as a fugitive from a Milledgeville, Ga., chain gang, will be turned over to authorities at Baltimore, Md., to answer a burglary charge.

Barnes is alleged to have robbed places in Baltimore, Washington, D. C., and Charlotte, N. C., after his escape from prison, where he was serving a sentence for burglary, police said. When arrested here police found a set of burglar tools in his room, they said.

"It is certainly not our intention to let this matter drop. We are now considering just what our course will be. My present inclination is to petition the Supreme Court for a review of the circuit court decision.

"If this is not done a petition for a new rite of habeas corpus to free Capone from the penitentiary will be filed in the Federal District Court at Atlanta."

THE FEDERAL DIARY

By GEORGE D. RILEY

THE case of Capt. Evelyn Briggs Baldwin, recently in the Navy Department, is like the weather Mark Twain referred to when he said "Everybody is talking about it but nobody does anything about it."

Fickle Fame knighted Capt. Baldwin for honors in the eyes of the world, for his labors in scientific and exploration fields some years ago. Then she deserted him in the hour of his greatest need. If you will refer to the Encyclopedia Americana (the 30-volume set), turn to page 76, Volume No. 3, you will see a brief reference to Capt. Baldwin for his exploits. Other volumes have expanded on his achievements.

Getting to the point in an early part of this story, The Federal Diary seeks to witness common justice done to Capt. Baldwin. He was told by the Navy Department that the class of work he was doing was overmanned and it was suggested he retire. He did retire, so the captain's recourse in that direction is shut off. His retirement fund will be quite small. It may run as high as $200. That stands between him and the fate we prefer not to mention.

The way is open, however, for a presidential appointment to some job of minor character that will allow Capt. Baldwin to subsist. He was receiving $135 when he left the Navy Department. The Government can still show some degree of appreciation of his worth by installing him in a similar paying job.

THE Norwegian government regards Capt. Baldwin's record in Arctic work so highly that one of Norway's destroyers bears the name "Baldwin." Verily, prophets given stinted honor at home, receive it at foreign hands.

Records and letters today attest a small part of the work Capt. Baldwin did in the Polar zone. He was the first to show the world the use of alcohol in liquid thermometers. Today's use of antifreeze is an outgrowth of his common sense usage. Application of the universal joint principle was applied by Capt. Baldwin in contriving the first aerial mooring mast for ships. He first showed how movies could be taken, protected against freezing in the Arctics.

CAPT. EVELYN BRIGGS BALDWIN, inventor of the mooring mast for dirigible balloons on naval craft, narrowly escaped death in the Arctic in company with the ill-fated Andree expedition, the bodies of members of which were returned from the frozen north in recent months. He was scheduled to join Andree but arrived too late.

The captain is 71 years old. He has full use of his faculties. By installing him in a job of usefulness the Government will again be acquiring an asset. The case has been before senators. Senators Copeland, Tydings and Capper each have expressed more than a willingness to champion Capt. Baldwin's cause. But Congress no longer is in session. A man might easily starve between now and January.

Secretaries Howe and McIntyre, at the White House, know of this case. Yet nothing has been done about it. A nod from either of these men, we know, and Capt. Baldwin would no longer be eating in 1-cent restaurants and subsisting on 9 cents a day.

This is not a case of charity. The Federal Diary is putting this plea on the basis of JUSTICE, and nothing short of justice.

Capt. Baldwin was in the Weather Bureau in 1892. Admiral Peary regarded his ability high enough to ask him to accompany the party to the Arctics. What he did there is a matter of polar history. He actually discovered Graham Bell Land, whereon he built Fort McKinley. The captain's ins and outs of the Federal service have confused computing of his record. But all that is beside the mark. It appears on the face of the matter that he is entitled to 30-year retirement. But the Civil Service Commission says "no," and they have the records.

COMMON justice in recognition of a man who can use "flowers" while he lives far better than hereafter is the one basis for our plea. If the good captain should join his forebears tomorrow without a doubt there would be floral pieces to pour into Washington from every corner of the Nation.

"Who's Who in America" recognises Capt. Baldwin's worth as do many other volumes. To list the volume containing his name would be too lengthy for present space. Briefly, however, Capt. Baldwin, native Missourian, was graduated from Northwestern College, Naperville, Ill., and engaged chiefly in teaching until 1892, when he entered the Weather Bureau service. He accompanied Peary's expedition as meteorologist, 1893-94; joined the Wellman Polar Expedition, 1898-99, second in command when he built Fort McKinley. He commanded the Baldwin-Ziegler Expedition of 1901. The party reached Franz-Joseph Land. He compiled all the knowledge we have today on Franz-Joseph Land. He is author of meteorological reports and several books.

"Who's Who in the Nation's Capital" gives nearly a column to Capt. Baldwin, whose first name is the same as the middle name of another polar explorer, Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd. Capt. Baldwin is a member of the District of Columbia Sons of the American Revolution, National Society, S. A. R., San Diego, Calif.; honorary member Yacht Club and Pacific Aero Club, life member Scottish Rite Masons, honorary member of President's Own Garrison, No. 104, Army and Navy Union, Washington.

Capt. Baldwin bears no resentment toward the Government for failure to adequately recognize and reward faithful service of a man still active and able. In fact, he carries on daily, jobless as he is. He has been active many years and he is active still.

Capt. Baldwin is a descendant of Abraham Baldwin, one of George Washington's confidantes, the first senator from Georgia and the man who switched his vote and saved the Constitution. Abraham Baldwin was founder of the first State university in the United States.

Through friends, the Federal Diary has learned the facts concerning Capt. Baldwin. It remains to be seen whether the Government is a friend to the point of seeing justice dispensed to one who has spent most of his 71 years of toiling in his small way to advance the cause of science and exploration.

PERHAPS your library might be more complete with addition of "The Life Story of Abe the Newsboy." If it would, you can get just such a volume at the "old hoss" sale today when Burton G. Cowles, superintendent, Dead Letter Section, Postoffice Department, holds its sale at 9:30 a. m. at the Boys Club of Washington, Third and C streets northwest.

And there are hundreds of other volumes. There are dresses, suits, tobacco, auto tires, tubes and odds and ends. There is a pouch of tobacco labeled "For Johney." But Johney never received it. And that's why the sale is being held. The consignee never received it. Incomplete addresses, addressees moved, you know the story of dead letters and dead packages.

Don't go to the sale filled with expectation that everything will be a pickup. The department guarantees nothing as to quality or quantity. And leave the old checkbook at home. Checks not accepted.

You'll find a lot of luggage, some good, most not. Big doll, face punched out. Jewelry, yes, some, stamp covers. It's an auction.

DUNCAN IS REFUSED WRIT OF ERROR PLEA

Former Arlington Official's Petition in Larceny Is Denied by Court.

William H. Duncan, former clerk of Arlington County, who was convicted on August 30, 1932, of misappropriation of State funds, was denied a writ of error by the supreme court of appeals at Wytheville, Va., yesterday. Duncan received a sentence of three years in the State Penitentiary, and the action of the appellate court yesterday, according to Associated Press dispatches, sustains the judgment entered in the trial court.

Duncan surrendered March 28 and was released on $5,000 bond on a charge of larceny of State funds.

He resigned as county clerk April 20. On the following day John A. Petty was appointed by Judge Walter T. McCarthy to fill the vacancy.

The trial opened August 23 on charges of misuse of $7,815 of public funds. On August 30 the jury, after deliberating for more than five hours, returned a verdict of guilty, carrying with it a sentence of three years in the State Penitentiary.

Duncan was represented by Attorneys Leo P. Harlow, of Washington and Alexandria, and Amos C. Crounse, of Arlington County. The prosecution was in charge of Commonwealth's Attorney Lawrence W. Douglas and Collins Denny, jr., assistant attorney general for the State.

Strong U. S. Navy Urged To Merit World Respect

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Declaring a purely defensive Navy is of little avail in preserving peace outside of home waters, William Howard Gardiner, retiring president of the United States, said today the mission of the Navy is to be "so manifestly able" to safeguard American interests and policies that they will be peacefully respected.

Nathaniel Mead Hubbard, jr., of Chicago and Denver, Colo., was elected president of the league at its annual meeting to succeed Mr. Gardiner, who has held the post five years.

PUBLIC WORKS AIDS LIST BEING DRAWN

State Head Choices to Go to Roosevelt; Ickes Says Politics Ignored.

(Associated Press.)

To help put the $3,300,000,000 public works fund properly to work, a list of State administrators is being prepared for submission to President Roosevelt upon his return.

The President's board of Cabinet officers, bending every effort to start the construction money into its economic recovery channels, pushed ahead yesterday silently in a 3½-hour meeting.

Secretary Ickes, the chairman, said after the conference, that the State administrators would not be political choices.

"The best man for the job" will be recommended to the White House, he said. These administrators will deal only with funds to be spent on State, county and city projects, as differentiated from the Federal projects which will be administered from Washington.

To serve with each State administration there will be an advisory board, who with him will pass upon State project applications and weed them out before sending them along to Washington, where the final choosing will be up to the Federal administrator.

The advisory board will meet again today to draft its policy program.

Mr. Ickes said that as far as possible the Public Works Administration would use the services of all Federal agencies to hold down "the overhead."

As an example, he said, the Reclamation Bureau might be assigned to construction work on an irrigation project, or the advice of its services sought to meet a technical problem.

State administrators, in each instance expected to be a resident of the State in which they were serving, would receive a salary, but the State advisory board members would be paid "at the most, a per diem," Mr. Ickes said.

M'MATH GIRL TELLS JURY OF KIDNAPING

Cyril Buck Collapses When Victim in Simple Phrases Testifies to Tragedy.

Barnstable, Mass., June 21 (A.P.).—The simply phrased testimony of Margaret (Peggy) McMath and the collapse of Cyril Buck as he took the stand, featured the trial of the Buck brothers in Barnstable Superior Court today.

Cyril and his brother, Kenneth, are charged with the kidnaping of the 10-year-old Peggy who was taken from the Harwich Center Grammar School on May 2 and returned three days later after $60,000 ransom had been paid. The ransom was recovered in Kenneth's home.

Dressed in blue gingham, her black hair combed back in a "bob," the little girl whose teacher had testified she was "a very bright student" spoke as she might recite in her classroom.

There was little trace of emotion as she told of being threatened with chloroform if she screamed; of being bound, blindfolded, gagged and kept in the cave-like cellar of a vacant house.

In matter of fact manner she told of her wrists being shackled with "toy" handcuffs that she took off and put on at will. She said she was told by the man who abducted her that he was her friend and that he was protecting her from the "real kidnapers."

On the completion of the child's story, the prosecution rested and Cyril Buck was sent to the stand as the first witness for the defense. He had answered a few preliminary questions when his attorney, Willard Carleton, of Hyannis, asked:

"Do you own your own home?"

The words hardly had been uttered when Cyril seemed to grow weak. He put his hand over his eyes, drew it down his face and tottered as he started to answer:

"I am trying * * *"

An attendant rushed a chair to him and he sank into it and buried his face in his hands. A moment later, his eyes filled with tears, and he looked appealingly at Judge Edward F. Hanify.

The judge called a recess to "allow the witness to recover."

Mrs. Mary A. Keck Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from the Keller Memorial Lutheran Church for Mrs. Mary A. Keck, who died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles G. Dougherty, 4917 Kansas avenue northwest. The Rev. Samuel T. Nichols will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Charles H. Butler. Burial will be in Glenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Keck was a native of Ohio. She was the widow of David W. Keck, formerly an employe of the Treasury Department. For more than 45 years she had made her home in Washington.

Mrs. Keck is survived by five other children, William K. Keck, Mrs. Martin Holden and Mrs. Chester R. Smith, all of Washington and Samuel S. and Paul B. Keck, of Boston, Mass.

Floyd's Double Harassed

Salesman in Kansas City, Resembling "Pretty Boy," Tires of Trips to Police Bureau; Postal Card Denies Oklahoman Was in Massacre.

Kansas City, June 21 (A.P.).—Lee Leon, Los Angeles, today carried a letter in which Lieut. William Gordon, police bureau of identification, informed "whom it may concern" that the visiting Californian is not Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, notorious gunman, but a cosmetic salesman who would appreciate a chance to attend to his business.

After several forced visits to the office of the chief of detectives, Leon complained. A motor ride, a walk, a casual stroll in the park—all brought the same result, he said. A patrolman would halt him and say, "If you're not Pretty Boy Floyd I'll eat a night stick."

Gordon wrote the letter after a careful examination and handed it over with the observation:

"My, but you do look like Floyd."

Meanwhile, a post card was received at police headquarters signed with the name of the hunted outlaw. It denied that Floyd had participated in the machine-gun slaying of four officers and Frank Nash, a convict, in the Union Station Plaza here last Saturday.

Mailed from Springfield, Mo., at 7:30 o'clock last night, the postcard read:

"Kansas City Police Department,
"Kansas City, Mo.

"Dear Sir: I—Charles Floyd—want it made known that I did not participate in the massacree of officers at Kansas City.

"CHARLES FLOYD."

The card was printed in pencil.

After comparing it with samples of Floyd's writing and printing on file in his office, Lieut. Gordon said:

"I have every reason to believe the card is genuine and was written by 'Pretty Boy.'"

A picture of Floyd has been identified by Mrs. Lottie West, Travelers' Aid worker at the Union Station, as that of one of the machine-gun slayers, but Chief of Detectives Thomas J. Higgins said it was his opinion that Floyd was not involved.

Floyd released Sheriff Jack Killingsworth, kidnaped at Bolivar, Mo., near Kansas City, the night before killings at the Union Station.

PARADE OF FIREMEN IS APPARENTLY OFF

he has had his plans mapped out and beginning to function. But this year the word has not come.

Last week Sergt. Bargagni journeyed to the Maryland Valunteer Fire Department Convention at Westminster, Md. There he told the Free State smoke-eaters, who dearly love Washington's Labor Day event, of the clouds that obscured the parade's prospects.

The Fire Department parade has come to mean much in the life of youngsters and oldsters of the District. Its scintillating array of apparatus and gorgeous floats, the burnished splendor of the apparatus, the frequent clowns, the higgledy-piggledy mixture of brass bands, fife and drum corps, bagpipers, &c.—all have combined to more than fill that aching void rapidly being created by the passing of the old-time circus parade.

And then there has always been the touching pull up the avenue of Tom, Gene and Barney, valiant, deep-chested fire horses of another day. Tom is dead, of course, but Gene and Barney would have pulled the old steam pumper along and many would have seen Tom there, too.

High hopes had been held for this year's parade. Considerable optimism had been felt that Franklin D. Roosevelt, himself a volunteer fireman at Hyde Park, N. Y., would view the spectacle.

Yearly the event has grown. In recent years firemen and apparatus from nearly a score of States have participated and vied for the handsome prizes put up by the Board of Trade. Nearby Virginia and Maryland always have sent most of their volunteer companies to take part and these sections, too, will keenly feel the gap in the march of time which will be left by the parade's passing.

So maybe Gene and Barney will not prance proudly down the Avenue again. Ere another parade comes around, they may have gone to that equine Valhalla of fire and battle horses where Tom rests.

Briton Gets Term In Maryland Theft

Baltimore, June 21 (A.P.).—George E. Harwood, an officer of the Royal Guards of the British army during the World War and son of Capt. Robert Harwood, a captain of the royal household of Buckingham Palace, today was sentenced to serve three years in the Maryland House of Correction after pleading guilty to larceny and forgery charges.

The 34-year-old Englishman, who was arrested in England and recently brought back to this country, was charged with obtaining approximately $11,000 from an apartment company for which he worked.

Judge George A. Solter, in passing sentence in criminal court, said if restitution was made he would "always be open to modification of the sentence." He had previously been told that Harwood attempted to raise the money in England and returned willingly to Maryland on a round-trip ticket he had purchased, thereby saving the State this expense.

FULL $100,000 PAID FOR HAMM RELEASE

Record of Numbers on Old Currency Kept; Two Suspects Freed.

St. Paul, Minn., June 21 (A.P.).—Information from a reliable source late today was that the full $100,000 demanded was paid kidnapers to effect release Monday of William Hamm, jr., millionaire brewer, contradicting previous announcements that only part of the sum was handed over.

Negotiators for Hamm's release kept a record of the serial numbers of the bills which were in denominations of $5, $10 and $20, all old currency.

Previously H. J. Charles, attorney for the Theodore Hamm Brewing Co., of which Hamm is president, had insisted the $100,000 ransom demand was not fully met.

Two South Dakota men were picked up for questioning at Mankato, Minn., in connection with the pursuit for the gang of five or six abductors who held Hamm prisoner almost four days, but were released shortly after being brought to police headquarters here. Chief of Police Thomas Dahill said the men, H. R. Gleason, Mitchell and Charles Havlik and Kimball were known to him and were "all right."

Authorities continued efforts to locate the hideout, presumably, in northern Minnesota, where Hamm was held, but made no public acknowledgment of progress in their search.

Why shouldn't I say nice things about Luckies?

I must confess that I enjoy smoking more and more. Maybe it's because I started with a cigarette that suits me right. Luckies are so very mild. I like the fine taste of their tobaccos—and because I'm so sensitive to personal daintiness—for, after all, my cigarette touches my lips—I particularly welcome the added assurance of purity which "Toasting" affords. Whenever I hear comments about cigarettes—I always say, "But Luckies are different." And then I would say some nice things about "Toasting". To hear me you'd think that I discovered "Toasting"—but that's just my way. I like to root for things that please me. And certainly—"Luckies Please!"

because "It's toasted"

RAILROAD WAGES.

The threatened controversy over railroad wages has been averted by an agreement under which the present 10 per cent reduction will remain effective until June 30, 1934, instead of expiring on Oct. 31, and the railroads cancel their notice of intention to seek a 22½ per cent reduction of workers' pay. The date on which either party can submit a notice indicating a desire to change basic rates of pay is extended from June 15 to Feb. 15, 1934.

Thus, by voluntary co-operation, the railroads and their employees have settled for the time being an extremely difficult problem and have removed a possible obstacle from the path of railroad reform. Mr. Eastman, Federal Coordinator of Transportation, has been fortunate in bringing about this agreement, and is entitled to credit for the promptness and tact with which he handled the negotiations. He states that both parties to the agreement wish to avoid embarrassment to the administration in developing its policies, and that until the results of the new policies can be more clearly determined it will be difficult to deal wisely with the wage controversy.

Neither side loses by the arrangement that has been made. By next June it is hoped that conditions will have changed for the better, so that the wage question can be taken up under more favorable circumstances.

REPEALING THE AMENDMENT.

The fourteen States which have voted on the question of repealing the eighteenth amendment have all voted affirmatively by large majorities. The most significant vote is that of Iowa, former stronghold of prohibition. Although the total vote cast on Tuesday fell far short of the presidential vote, which in turn was not a very high percentage of the possible total, the wets carried the State by 3 to 2. New Hampshire voted for repeal by more than 2 to 1, and Connecticut rolled up a 6 to 1 majority for repeal.

Dry partisans are making the assertion that a large proportion of drys failed to vote in Iowa. The total indicates that this is true, but it is also true that many wets failed to vote. The drys gained nothing by remaining away from the polls, and the outcome probably would have been the same if they had voted. Iowa, like all the other States that have acted, is anxious to do away with the eighteenth amendment. The majority of the people of that State concur with public opinion throughout the country that a radical change must be made in national policy concerning the liquor traffic. Before a new policy can be adopted the ground must be cleared by repealing the eighteenth amendment.

It is possible, although not probable, that three-fourths of the States will vote on repeal this year. Iowa's decision doubtless will be regarded as foretelling the doom of the prohibition system as soon as the States can vote. In that State thousands of former drys have joined the majority in voting to do away with the eighteenth amendment. There is very little public discussion of alternatives to prohibition. For the time being the States are concentrating their attention upon sweeping away the obstructive amendment.

THE COTTON PLAN.

With the application of the domestic allotment plan to wheat and cotton, the United States embarks upon the greatest agricultural experiment of all time. The Government is undertaking to make the farmer prosperous through the use of its taxing powers and its authority over interstate commerce. It is a partnership between the Government and farmers with taxpayers taking most of the risks and farmers claiming all of the benefits.

Secretary Wallace's plan for reduction of the cotton crop and the payment of benefits to growers is even more bold than his project for control of wheat. He proposes that at least 10,000,000 acres of cotton, about one-fourth of the 1933 crop, shall be taken over by the Government under lease and the cotton destroyed. If a sufficient number of farmers agree to this program to make it appear feasible, the Government will levy a processing tax upon the manufacture of cotton goods and pay the farmers $100,000,000 or more for their sacrifice. In addition to rent for their land, cooperating farmers will be entitled to an option to buy at about 3 cents less than the current market price an amount of Government cotton equal to the amount by which their crops are to be reduced. If prices rise, they will be able to sell this cotton at a large profit. If prices fall, the Government will keep the cotton and relieve them of all responsibility.

Last year farmers of the South were indignant when the Farm Board suggested that they should plow under every third row of cotton to improve the price level. Now they are reported to be enthusiastic about the similar project sponsored by the Department of Agriculture. The change of attitude is doubtless due to the promise of compensation for the cotton to be destroyed.

Whether this experiment will improve the situation of the cotton farmer in the long run remains to be seen. Experience has pointed out some of the dangers that are inherent in the plan. For example, if prices rise, they may stimulate unusual production by those cotton farmers who decline to cooperate with the Government. In that event the tendency might be toward the leasing of more and more acreage by the Government to keep the crop within the limit desired.

About half of the American cotton crop is sold abroad. Will the higher prices here stimulate India, Egypt, China and Russia to greater production to supply the world market? What effect will higher prices have upon domestic consumption? In recent months the textile mills and others have bought large quantities of cotton partly in anticipation of the tax. If cotton goods become substantially more expensive, substitutes may come into greater use or the people may use cotton goods more sparingly.

When the law of supply and demand is set aside by artificial measures innumerable economic factors begin to play upon the situation thus created to bring about natural adjustments. It remains to be seen whether those forces will be stronger than the power of the Government to limit the supply of agricultural staples and uphold prices above their natural level.

SURPLUS WHEAT.

Efforts to limit the production of wheat are occupying a good deal of attention at the World Economic Conference. Delegates from the principal wheat-producing countries met several weeks ago at Geneva and agreed upon the objectives to be sought. These include limitation of wheat acreage and possibly of exports, liquidation of existing surplus stocks, and maintenance of reasonable markets in importing countries. The delegates at London are attempting to work out a practical solution of the wheat problem on this basis.

At present the most depressing factor in the wheat market is the enormous carryover of about 600,000,000 bushels. Current world production is about equal to the demand, but with this large surplus hanging over the market the outlook for wheat farmers is not encouraging. Farmers realize also that even if this surplus should be disposed of in some manner and prices should be raised to a profitable figure overproduction could again be expected, if no steps are taken to limit the output. For this reason all of the delegates are in favor of some concerted international action.

When any concrete proposal for curtailment of wheat production is offered, however, it meets with numerous objections. Australia and Argentina, two of the foremost wheat-producing nations, are opposed to reduction of acreage on general principles. They can raise wheat cheaper than can the United States, Canada or Europe. Why should they be asked to curtail their output to favor other countries? Nevertheless, they are willing to explore the possibilities of a world-wide agreement, and their delegates at London have manifested some disposition to compromise if the prospects are good for raising world wheat prices.

France, Germany and Italy are not much concerned with the plan to limit production, but they wish to keep their wheat tariffs high so as to protect their own farmers and avoid reliance upon foreign nations for this staple food. At this point also the wheat growers of the Balkans come into the picture. They have always insisted that Western Europe should give them preference over the farmers of Australia, Canada, the United States and Argentina. Many European statesmen are also inclined to this view because a wheat market for the Balkans helps to keep peace in that tempestuous region.

The importing countries maintain that if overproduction were curtailed in the exporting countries, their troubles would be over. The exporting countries reply that many of their people are dependent upon wheat for a livelihood and that the chief difficulty arises from the subsidizing of uneconomical crops in countries that are not especially adapted to wheat growing. The clash of interests extends over a long front. It is complicated by the fact that few countries have machinery adequate for enforcing the limitation of wheat crops even if they favor such an arrangement in principle.

In spite of these obstacles, the conference seems to be making some progress. There seems to be a strong urge to achieve concrete results if it is at all possible to do so.

DISTRICT IMPROVEMENTS.

The District of Columbia is to receive an allotment of $1,918,000 for road building under the industrial recovery act. It also has available the returns from the gasoline tax and water rents, provided the Director of the Budget will permit use of those funds. The District Commissioners are preparing a list of highway projects to be submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads. If the gasoline tax funds should be released, additional important highway improvements can be undertaken. The rapid growth of outlying portions of the District calls for much more street work than is provided for in the annual supply bill. Unemployment conditions here will be alleviated by the application of the District's portion of public roads funds.

Hundreds of citizens have joined in asking the Commissioners to find means for financing an addition to the Roosevelt high school, a branch library at Petworth, and for repairs of schools and playgrounds. A seven-class-room addition to the Roosevelt school would complete the original plans for that structure and would relieve congestion at the Woodrow Wilson school. Petworth has long been in need of library facilities, and now asks for a branch library in view of the fact that an unexpended balance can be applied to that end. The modest sum of $75,000 is recommended for repairs to schools and playgrounds.

By applying funds that would otherwise be idle the District Commissioners can carry forward the improvements desired, and at the same time provide needed employment.

DRIVERS, BEWARE!

Approximately 75,000 school children began their summer vacations yesterday. Instead of being in school most of the day, many of them will be on the streets, others will be going to and from playgrounds and otherwise circulating about in the residential sections of the city. This fact should stand as a three-month warning to motorists to drive with caution in residential areas.

When school is in session the children are constantly reminded of the need for safety. When they cross busy streets en route to and from school they are guarded by policemen or officers of the junior patrol. Warnings from parents and safety lessons in school help them to remember the hazards of running into the street.

But children enter upon their vacation period with a somewhat different attitude. Discipline is relaxed; they have more time to play; the protecting hand of the policeman is not so available, and the junior patrol is not on the job. Consequently, the probability that a child may dash into the street in front of an automobile is greatly increased.

Automobile fatality rates always rise during the summer months. One foremost reason is, of course, the increased number of cars on the highways. But the presence of school children in the streets is another prominent cause. Washington is fortunate in having many parks and playgrounds for the children, but these do not entirely remove this danger.

In many cases where a child is struck by an automobile it is through carelessness on his own part. Even so, the nature of childhood can not be changed. The fact that children are sometimes careless does not relieve motorists of the obligation to use extraordinary caution during the vacation months. On the contrary, that fact should induce drivers to use greater diligence than would otherwise be necessary.

The great oversight was in not appointing a co-ordinator for the American delegation to London.

Steering the Amberjack and the London conference is easy after steering two houses of Congress.

THE WAR ON CRIME

From the Kansas City Times.

Few of the major crimes that have disgraced the Nation and alarmed the people in recent years have brought such an awakening as has the slaying of Federal and local officers at the union station in Kansas City. The perpetrators displayed a ruthless disregard for human life and a contempt for law and its agents. Both their attempt to free a criminal of long record and their method of procedure denote that they were criminals of long experience.

The awakening reaches far beyond the city where the crime was perpetrated. The Federal Government, already committed to a war on organized crime, responded quickly to the call made upon its resources in this instance, ordering men of experience and ability to the scene and the surrounding territory. The Department of Justice is pledged to give every possible assistance in running down the escaped murderers.

The local prosecutor and the chief of police have agreed to concentrate on a driving policy to rid the city of carriers of concealed weapons. The possession of deadly weapons is a felony. The possession of revolvers is punishable by imprisonment for a maximum of two years. Possession of a machine gun carries liability of 2 to 30 years. To possess a machine gun contrary to law brands the possessor as a crook and potential murderer. Whether for lack of cooperation from the prosecutor's office and the courts or for other reasons, the police have not borne down on the gun toters in effective fashion.

Yet even if Kansas City had the most effective police department possible, it could not protect the people against raids from the outside, such as that made at the union station. Scattered local campaigns are not sufficient. There must be coordinated effort among States, municipalities, towns and counties, with the aid of the Federal Government. The responsibility of the clemency power, so often abused to the public danger, is illustrated in the case of Frank Nash, escaped convict, whom the slayers attempted to release. This notorious criminal, a worthless and dangerous wretch, was convicted of murder in Oklahoma and sentenced to life imprisonment, only to be released in a few months. Another sentence for 25 years was reduced to 2 years. It was for still another crime that he was serving when he escaped.

What is to become of this war on crime? If the Department of Justice is determined and aggressive, it can do much. It has unlimited resources even if much too restricted jurisdiction. Its participation in the drive on crime should be inspiring on all other peace agencies throughout the country. If it encounters difficulties that should not impede its work, the country is likely to hear about it.

One thing is certain: Organized crime, including murder, banditry, kidnaping, racketeering and bombing, is going to get badly beaten or it is going to get a lot more destructive. It is intrenched. It has strong allies. It is tremendously resourceful. Its power does not lie in the bandit at large, but in pressure it can bring to bear. In the mobilization of forces to combat this enemy, an aroused, demanding public sentiment is a tremendous factor.

GRATIS.

Money isn't needed to enjoy a flowering tree;
The beauty of a landscape for every man is free.
And who beholds a garden, though merely passing by,
Has a right to share its splendor, which its owner can't deny.

A man may tramp the woodlands as if they were his own.
About the walls of nature no gruesome walls are thrown;
And if he's fond of dreaming where fretful cares are lost,
A river bank awaits him at very little cost.

Some money's necessary—of that there is no doubt—
A man must pay for foodstuffs to keep his body stout,
But lasting joys are gratis; who turns his eyes to see
The glory of the sunrise will not be charged a fee.

Good books there are for reading, good friends there are for play,
Earth offers countless pleasures for which we need not pay.
With very little money, despite the pain and strife,
A man can grow in wisdom and lead a happy life.

The Best of Bustles Became Junk When Hips No Longer Won Admiration

By ROBERT QUILLEN

THE President has done his best to "drive the money changers from the temple." His influence has prompted the making of plans to outwit and suppress and punish those who prey on the public.

But this is not enough. The plague of dishonesty can not be overcome except by removing the cause. And the President alone has the courage, energy initiative and power to overcome it.

We are in the midst of social revolution. The minds of men are reconciled to change. Now, if ever, a trusted leader can establish a new standard of values.

The lust for money, and the willingness to get it by any means that may be necessary, are inevitable in a land where wealth and wealth alone gives the advantages once enjoyed by the nobility.

It has been demonstrated that the love of money can be supplanted by saner motives. Millions of Americans thought in terms of giving, serving and sacrificing during the war. Three million Russians, members of the ruling party, despise money-getters as we despise a card cheat or a despoiler of orphan children.

It isn't money that men covet. It is distinction, respect power—superiority.

To achieve this end, savages torture themselves and German students invite the sabre wounds that identify the duelist.

The simple truth is that man will do anyhing, however foolish or dangerous it may be, to win rank as one of the elect. And he will quit doing that thing the moment it ceases to serve the desired end.

Why do men no longer wear powdered wigs and silk breeches or drive fast trotters or develop skill in fencing or display their physical prowess? Because these things, once so necessary to win respect, now confer no distinction.

Give them another way to win high rank and prove their superiority and they will covet wealth no more than a grown man covets dolls.

Do you doubt it? Napoleon made a bit of red ribbon the symbol of superiority and men desired it more than rank or riches.

To waste your life fighting for money you don't need is no less stupid than stuffing yourself with food you don't need. You can't believe that now, but you would if nobody felt any awe of a millionaire.

Give us a new standard—a new way to "be somebody"—and men will no longer sacrifice honor to get money they don't need.

Students don't cheat in an examination if they are told that it won't affect their averages.

POLITICAL COMMENT

National Guard Reform.

New York Sun.

Though overshadowed by more important legislation, amendment of the National Guard act by the Seventy-third Congress carries through a worthwhile reform. It will be possible hereafter, when occasion arises to take the National Guard into Federal service, to take in units. Heretofore the law has compelled calling members of the National Guard into Federal service as individuals and discharging them from Federal service in the same fashion. The change may seem a mere administrative one, making for an easier transfer of hundreds of thousands of men from one status to another, but it runs a little deeper than that in the fillip it is likely to give to the National Guard's proper pride in its history and mission. So long as the standing army of the United States is maintained at the present low figure any measure that promises to increase the efficiency and usefulness of the Guard in time of war is a welcome one.

A Continuous Struggle.

Mitchell (S. Dak.) Republican.

It is again proved that, where votes are concerned, Congress will not practice economy. The public will always approve deserved allowances to service men, but congressmen have not the courage to draw the line there. The President has shown the one and only way by which extravagance in service payments can be avoided, but apparently it is to be a continuous struggle, with Congress playing into the hands of a lobby that is unworthy of the legion itself.

All They Ask.

Toledo Blade.

There are thousands of men who wouldn't oppose a heavier income tax, provided they had enough money to avoid payment.

Draining the Very Springs.

Springfield Union.

It is noticeable that when the Federal Government or a State government goes in for new taxation in these days it does not confine itself to one source of revenue. The new congressional tax bill tries to tap a half-dozen different sources, and our own proposed new tax bill reaches out in four or five different directions. When so many streams have to be brought together, it may be an indication that there is little left in the hills to go after.

Byroads Around Cities.

Baltimore Sun.

Dispute over expenditure of Federal road funds on a by-pass road, so that through traffic may not be forced to go through downtown Baltimore, is somewhat premature. There is still uncertainty as to the conditions under which the money is to be allocated to the State. It is to be noted, however, that in discussion of what should be done with the money the Main street complex is still much in evidence. Whatever else is determined upon, strenuous protest is made against diverting traffic away from the city.

It would be a pretty state of affairs if every city and every town in every State were allowed a decisive voice in the matter. There would be no Federal program at all, but hundreds of millions expended largely to please local interests, which often are misguided. In our own case, the time is coming when it will be necessary to shunt north and south through traffic around Baltimore because, if our streets could carry the load, the interference with local transportation would be so great as to constitute a serious burden to the community, and one for which no trade obtained from temporary sojourners would compensate.

CREED FOR A COMEBACK.

1. I believe in the United States of America, sick or well, upright or on its back, hot or cold, working or sleeping.

2. I believe in President Roosevelt, even when the professors appear to have him surrounded.

3. I believe that, while the idea of a college coaching squad in the White House may not be any too inspiring, the rah-rah boys can't be any worse than the hard-boiled, old-time, practical politicians, who, no matter how much gravy they had on their vests, were always looking for more.

4. I believe that between four or five Columbia professors in a Columbia laboratory and four or five politicians in an Erie smoking car, the professors are apt to be the better choice for an intelligent answer to any given question involving human welfare.

5. I believe that Franklin D. Roosevelt, even in his moments of weakness, is a more inspiring figure than most of our Presidents in their most striking attitudes of strength.

6. I believe that Uncle Sam has got to recover quickly, if only through sheer alarm over what will happen to him if they give him all that medicine.

7. I believe most of his trouble was fear, and that he got over it in a big way about the time they changed doctors and threw up the curtain so he could realize that the three creepy figures he had mistaken for Beelzebub; Jonah and the Jinx were really Huey Long, a delirious stock market bull and a professional radio agitator.

8. I believe the turn for the better came when they threw out the oxygen tank, the hot-water bottle and the party masseur and substituted a shave, a hair cut, some new clothes, a pep talk and some official proof that the dikes were still holding.

9. I believe that what Uncle Sam needed more than anything else for the last three years was a correct diagnosis.

10. I believe that all he was waiting for was a doctor who didn't talk in whispers behind the door.

* * * *

11. I believe the break came when President Roosevelt swept into the sickroom, threw up the windows and chopped all the honeysuckle and Virginia creeper vines away so Uncle Sam could get a clear view and realize for the first time how bad the outlook was.

12. I believe that Uncle Sam is never so quick on the pick-up as when he gets a full realization of how sick he is and how much backbone will be required to put him on his feet.

13. I believe that the American public now realizes that a telephone, a list of market symbols and a subscription to a financial magazine are not all that is needed for happiness.

14. I believe that America has regained its sense of proportion and value to a point where it can sit through a good sermon even if the minister doesn't express any market opinions.

15. I believe the country has turned honest and that it will go farther under the slogan, "Let's play fair!" than it did under the war cry, "Never give a sucker an even break!"

16. I believe the new deal will work out in politics about as well as it works out in poker, and that the hands will be reasonably satisfactory if we don't all expect four aces.

New York has opened a prison without a suggestion of walls or bars. It seems such things always annoyed criminals by the suggestion of confinement.

With modern coddling tendencies being what they are, it is probably only a matter of a few months before big-hearted judges will be sentencing poor, misguided felons to six months on a golf course.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Southeast Incinerator Needed, but Garbage Plant Is Objectionable to Neighborhood.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Under the caption of "District Conveniences" in your paper June 20, you said that owing to the pruning of the District budget it would be impossible to operate the Southeast incinerator during the coming year.

While the Southeast incinerator is much needed to handle the city's accumulation of trash, the Southeast garbage plant should be removed. It is a menace to the public health and impairs the value of property in this community. The Southeast citizens and taxpayers have had to tolerate the effluvium arising from this plant located at New Jersey avenue and K street over 35 years, notwithstanding their protest to the Congress and the District Commissioners.

Belgian Ambassador Sails Tomorrow For Europe.

THE AMBASSADOR OF BELGIUM, M. Paul May, will sail from New York tomorrow on the Olympic for Europe. He will join Mme. May and their daughters at their home in Belgium for the remainder of the summer.

The Secretary of War and Mrs. George H. Dern, accompanied by the Speaker of the House, Mr. Henry T. Rainey, flew to Chicago yesterday and shared honors that evening at a dinner given by Judge and Mrs. Clarence C. Goodwin at Lake Forest. Secretary Dern and Speaker Rainey will go to Chicago today to open officially the inland deep water route which makes Chicago a "sea" harbor.

Mrs. Goodwin is chairman of a committee arranging a historical pageant for the official opening and was assisted on her committee by the Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Harold I. Ickes, and Mrs. Wayne Chatfield Taylor, of Lake Forest, who is expected to spend a part of next winter with Mr. Taylor in Washington.

Secretary and Mrs. Dern and Speaker Rainey will remain several days in Chicago and will return together by air.

The United States Minister to Venezuela, Mr. George T. Summerlin, has arrived in New York to spend a leave of absence in this country.

Countess Szechenyi, wife of the Hungarian Minister to London, will arrive in this country from Europe early in July to spend the remainder of the summer with her mother, the dowager Mrs. Vanderbilt, at her Newport villa, the Breakers. Countess Szechenyi is now in London, where the wedding of her eldest daughter, Countess Cornelia Szechenyi, to Mr. Eugene Roberts, of Washington, will take place next week. On her return to this country Countess Szechenyi will be accompanied by her two younger daughters, Nandine and Sylvia, while it is expected that Countess Alice, who made her debut in the Capital last winter, will remain in Europe with her father.

Mrs. Claude E. Brigham, wife of Maj. Gen. Brigham, U. S. A., recently appointed Chief of the Chemical Warfare Corps, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given today at the Mayflower by Mrs. Edward B. Blanchard, wife of Capt. Blanchard, U. S. A.

Gen. and Mrs. Brigham have recently come to Washington from Edgewood Arsenal, Md.

Secretary and Mrs. Mahoney Depart for Canada.

The Secretary of the Canadian Legation and Mrs. Merchant Mahoney and their children left yesterday for their home in Canada, here Mr. Mahoney will remain ten days and Mrs. Mahoney and their family will spend the summer. Mr. Mahoney will join them later in the season for a vacation and return with them in the fall.

The new Assistant Secretary of State, Mr. Harry E. Payer and Mrs. Payer have taken an apartment at the Shoreham for the summer. Mr. Payer succeeds Mr. Francis White, the newly appointed United States Minister to Czechoslovakia.

The former Assistant Attorney General, Mr. Aaron Youngquist, who is in Chicago, will be joined there Saturday by Mrs. Youngquist and their four children, who will leave Washington tomorrow.

After spending several days at the Century of Progress Exposition, Mr. and Mrs. Youngquist and their family will go to Milwaukee, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Sidney A. Cloman will leave Thursday, June 29, and will go to Avon, Conn., where she will visit Capt. and Mrs. John H. Gibbons, of Washington, in their summer home, Deercliff.

Mrs. Cloman's niece, Mrs. Campbell Prichett, will remain in Washington and will have with her Miss Natalie Keeney, her niece.

Gen. and Mrs. Avery D. Andrews are in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. John Caswell, jr., have as their guest at their home on Massachusetts avenue, Mrs. Rufus Finch, of Rumson, N. J., who is being extensively entertained during her stay in the Capital.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall H. Hagner have taken a cottage at Saranac Inn for the summer. Mrs. Hagner, accompanied by her three children, will leave Washington July 6 to motor North. Mr. Hagner may join them the latter part of August.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fowler left yesterday for Hot Springs, Va., to attend the Virginia Bankers convention. Miss Carrie Sutherland is a guest of Miss Dorothy Gould Fowler while her parents are away.

The Rev. Dr. George W. Atkinson, rector of St. James Church, left Washington Tuesday for New York. He will sail tomorrow to spend two months in England and on the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Rayner are recent arrivals from Washington in New York City.

Mrs. H. A. Allen was hostess at a dinner party at Wardman Park Hotel Tuesday evening. Covers were laid for eight guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Barton have gone to New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Carter arrived here a day or two ago for an indefinite stay and are at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leach have gone to New York for a short visit.

Marion P. Carr Bride In Leesburg Wedding.

The Leesburg Methodist Church South was the scene of the wedding yesterday at 12 o'clock of Miss Marion Powell Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cline Carr, of Leesburg, and Mr. William Jordan Luck, of Middleburg, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Preston Luck, of Middleburg, Va. The bride's pastor, the Rev. Jesse H. Hoobs, officiated at the wedding. The church was decorated with ferns, intermingled with clusters of white roses and lilies, and was lighted by candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white mousseline de soie, made on modern lines, with the long ruffled skirt forming a train. The neck was shirred and the sleeves, puffed to the elbow, extended from there in a straight line to the hands. Her long, tulle veil had a fitted lace cap, held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. A short veil fell over her face as she walked to the alter, this being thrown back when the recessional began. Her bouquet was of white roses, lilies of the valley and gypsophelia.

The bridesmaids were Miss Edna Carr, sister of the bride, and Miss Elizabeth Luck, sister of the bridegroom. They wore gowns of blue mousseline de soie with pink accessories and small blue hats of the same material as the dresses. Their bouquets were of pink roses and blue delphiniums.

The best man was Mr. S. Preston Luck, jr., and the ushers were Mr. Berkley Lee, Mr. Roger Ashton and Mr. Gordon Collier, all of Middleburg, Va.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents immediately followed the ceremony, when the bride was assisted in receiving by her mother, who wore a gown of beige lace and a cluster corsage of gardenias, and the bridegroom's mother, who wore a gown of blue chiffon and lace and a corsage of gardenias.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Luck left for a wedding trip, the latter wearing a gray crepe ensemble with gray accessories. They will be at home later in Middleburg.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. William Barksdale, Miss Eliza Barksdale, Miss Mary Barksdale and Mrs. Ida Ashton, all of Washington.

Mrs. Luck is a graduate of the Harrisonburg State Teachers College and has been teaching in Middleburg for the past four years. Mr. Luck is a graduate of the Virginia Episcopal School, Lynchburg, Va., and attended school at the University of Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Regis Noel, of Washington, are in New York City before they sail for a visit of several months in Europe.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. DeWitt C. Jones, Corps of Engineers, have with them at their home in Belmont road their son, Lieut. Beverly Jones. Lieut. Jones, who was graduated this month from the United States Military Academy, West Point, has been assigned to the Field Artillery. He will spend some time in Washington with his parents, later going to Lake George for the remainder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Goodyear, of Philadelphia, Pa., are guests at the Shoreham for an indefinite stay.

Miss Bobbie Rahn, of New York City, will arrive in Washington tomorrow with a group of friends, to spend several days, and will occupy a suite at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Barbara Knapp Wed To Kenneth M. Campbell.

The wedding of Miss Barbara Knapp, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George L. Knapp, to Mr. Kenneth M. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Campbell, of Three Rivers, Mich., took place Saturday morning at 11:30 in St. Andrews Church. The Rev. A. J. Wilder, rector of the church, officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. Knapp, and she wore a gown of pink and white printed chiffon over white satin, and a large pink straw hat.

Mr. Harry Clement was the bridegroom's best man. Following the ceremony, which was informal with only members of the two families and intimate friends present, breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. Later Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for State College, Pa., where they will make their home.

Col. and Mrs. Edward B. Manwaring and Miss Catherine Manwaring have sent out invitations for a party this evening at 9 o'clock at the officers mess at Quantico, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wharton Manwaring, of Norfolk, Va.; Miss Margaret Ellen Boxley, of Orange, Va., and Miss Frances Ann McCray, of Staunton, Va.

There will be about 100 guests and a military orchestra will play for dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Szymczak have come here from Chicago to make their home and they have engaged an apartment at Wardman Park Hotel.

Lolita G. Cass Married To Richard Wistar.

The wedding of Miss Lolita G. Cass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Francis Cass, of Germantown, Pa., and Mr. Richard Wistar, son of Mrs. E. V. Bertram, of Riverton, N. J., and the late Cleayton Newbold Wistar, took place Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Grace Episcopal Church in Mount Airy, Pa. The Rev. Charles E. Eder officiated.

Miss Ruth Blumeyer, of St. Louis, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Katherine Shaw, of Washington, Miss Eloise Prince, of Germantown.

Mr. John McConaghy, of Meriam, acted as best man for Mr. Wistar, and the ushers included Mr. Ingram Richardson, of Belmont, Mass.; Mr. Richard Frame, Mr. Horace Deacon and Mr. Thomas Francis Cass, jr., all of Philadelphia.

After the ceremony, supper was served at the home of the bride's parents to the bridal party and members of the two families. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wistar will make their home in Haverford, Pa.

Miss Abagail Sard and Miss Alicia Rodgers are recent arrivals from Washington in New York and are stopping at the Gladstone Hotel.

Mrs. Charles C. Deming will leave by motor today for Saranac Lake, N. Y., for the summer. She will return in the fall.

"CANCER."

IF June 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m., from 3:40 p. m. to 4:20 p. m. and from 7:30 p. m. to 8:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 7:30 a. m. to 8:40 a. m. and from 5 p. m. to 6:40 p. m.

The child born on this June 22 will always look to his elders for guidance; you will have to set him a good example in all that you do. Good words, without good acts on your part, will be of no avail. Encourage him along religious lines, for you will find him to have great spiritual depth. The child will enjoy games of a thought-provoking nature.

If June 22 is your birthday, you possess, no doubt, great qualities of leadership; but you let yourself suffer because of a sensitive nature that cringes at criticism and lives constantly in fear of it. Consequently you may not assume your place among those people "who are doing things." It is difficult for you to talk over your problems with others, even with your family. You conceal your thoughts and your feelings, and the more you are troubled or worried the more you keep to yourself.

If June 22 is the date of your birth, you are thoughtful and cautious. You respect people and have a great love for mankind; but you are not unaware of their shortcomings, nor do you fail to protect yourself against others. Your parental instincts are strongly developed; you exhibit great affection and tenderness for your family. The women are the motherly type and seem always to be feeding and caring for a large flock, both their own and those of others.

Successful people born on June 22:

Shaw, Randall and Browne Commencement Rites Are Held.

Junior diplomas and reports were presented 370 graduates of the second group of three colored junior high schools yesterday, 145 at Shaw, 83 at Randall and 142 at Browne. The Shaw exercises, held in the auditorium of the Armstrong High School, were addressed by Miss Lucy D. Slowe, former principal of the school, and now dean of women at Howard University. Dr. J. Hayden Johnson presided and awarded diplomas on behalf of the Board of Education.

The invocation was said by the Rev. E. L. Harrison and the benediction by the Rev. W. B. Robertson. Ralph L. McKinney made the salutatory address and Mary B. Logan the valedictory. Musical numbers by a girls' and boys' chorus included "Youth and Spring" (Steinel), and "Tempest King" (Verne).

Garnet C. Wilkinson, assistant superintendent of schools, presided at the Randall exercises and made the award of diplomas. The principal address to graduates was made by Sterling A. Brown, professor of English at Howard University. Student speakers included Rebecca Murray, Douglass Williams, Irva Humes and Pauline Harris. Musical numbers were furnished by the Randall Orchestra and the Boys Glee Club.

Students at the Browne School received reports instead of the customary junior diploma, as their exercises represented completion of the 8B rather than the 9B grade. These reports were presented by Mrs. M. A. McNeill, member of the Board of Education, who presided. A salutatory address was made by Willard Stewart. The principal address was made by A. K. Savoy, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary schools. A play, "Past, Present and Future," was presented by the class.

650 Central High Graduates Hear of Needs for Future

Margaret Graves Wins Scholarship to G. W. U.; Awards to Other Universities Are Announced; Dr. J. E. Morgan Is Principal Speaker at Exercises.

"The biggest job ahead of America today is to find worthy occupations for her youth and to prepare young people to perform those occupations," Dr. Joy Elmer Morgan, editor of the Journal of the National Education Association, told the graduating class of Central High School at commencement exercises last night.

Declaring that this country needs a higher standard of living, Dr. Morgan described some occupations that he said should be introduced in the future. These included a highly educated police force, more comprehensive and systematic services for automobile owners, socialized recreation, planning of cities and regional areas and landscape gardening and beautification.

"Success in the future will come to those who have the imagination to think up jobs which have never been done before, plus the skill to do those jobs so well and so economically that people will desire the new services," Dr. Morgan told the 650 graduates.

Jere J. Crane, first assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business affairs, presented the diplomas. The Rev. F. Alan Parsons, rector of the Church of the Ascension, gave the invocation, and Dr. Harvey A. Smith, principal of the school, announced the scholarships and awards. Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools, presided. A musical program by the school orchestra completed the program.

RECENT CALAMITIES ARE LINKED TO BIBLE

Adventist Says Disturbance of Elements Presages Final Judgment.

The storms, earthquakes, tidal waves and other elemental disturbances that are constantly occurring in different parts of the world are but harbingers of the most terrible calamity yet to occur, the Rev. Dr. E. G. Wilkinson, dean of theology of Washington Missionary College, declared last night at the camp meeting of the Potomac Conference of Seventh Day Adventists in Takoma Park.

Basing his opinion on biblical quotations, Dr. Wilkinson said that God has supplied a way of escape for all who will obey his teachings. He predicted that all those who have failed to measure up to God's standards will be cast into the eternal fire and reduced to ashes.

The Rev. F. C. Gilbert told the conference that "instead of sin being looked upon as something that has wrought havoc in the human race, it has become fashionable and looked upon with refinement." The Bible is sufficient to instruct all humanity so that life may be enjoyable and health a virtue, he added.

At the afternoon meeting, Prof. C. P. Crager, educator of the general conference, asserted that by putting the Bible first, children are not only taught to be useful and law-abiding citizens, but they become candidates for heavenly citizenship.

The difficulties and sufferings of Chinese Advent believers during the recent war between China and Japan were described at the morning session by Prof. W. A. Scharffenberg, of Shanghai, China.

Students and faculty of the Shenandoah Valley Academy rendered a program in the afternoon. Graduation exercises for the students of this school will be held at 3:30 p. m. today. The Rev. Walter P. Elliott, president of the Potomac Conference, will give the address.

The Rev. W. E. Barr, chaplain of the Washington Sanitarium, will speak at 8 p. m. today on "God's Law and the Sermon on the Mount."

Summer Schools Open in Arlington

Summer classes at Washington-Lee High School and Clarendon, Cherrydale and Nellie Custis Elementary Schools in Arlington County opened yesterday with a total enrollment of 331 pupils.

The enrollment was divided as follows: Washington-Lee High School, 210; Clarendon, 63; Cherrydale, 39, and Nellie Custis, 29.

Classes will be held each morning, Saturday excepted, from 8 o'clock to noon and will continue until August 11, according to an announcement made from the office of County School Superintendent Fletcher Kemp.

Gypsy Chorus to Meet With Director Tonight

In preparation for the presentation late this summer of a colorful review, members of the Silver Spring Gypsy Chorus will hold the first of a series of weekly rehearsals tonight at the home of the director, Robert Frederick Freund, 1104 Hardon street, Silver Spring.

The chorus, composed of a large group of local singers and dancers, was organized here last week by Mr. Freund, who is a barytone soloist and prominent impresario of choruses of this type. Rehearsals will be held in costume. A cast of 50 voices is being planned by Mr. Freund. Several members of the cast are expected to be selected at the meeting.

Funeral of Paul Kester, Author, to Be at Pohick

Paul Kester, noted playwright and author, who died in New York City, made his home in Alexandria for a number of years, after selling Gunston Manor. He will be buried at 5 p. m. today from Pohick Episcopal Church, south of Alexandria.

Kester and his mother lived at Gunston for a number of years, then purchased Belmont, one of the Lloyd estates in Alexandria, which is now St. Agnes Episcopal School, and both he and his mother were well known in Alexandria, where they made many friends.

All Alexandria Teachers Ask for Reappointment

It is understood the entire staff of 140 teachers in the Alexandria public schools have made application for reappointment for the session of 1933-34, despite the recently announced reduction in salaries.

The newly appointed superintendent, T. C. Williams, of Chesterfield County, will arrive in Alexandria and assume his duties July 1.

Kiwanians to Fete Press Today.

Members of the press, including Alexandria representatives of Washington papers, will be guests of the Alexandria Kiwanis Club today at its weekly luncheon in the George Mason Hotel, when George Rothwell Brown, Washington columnist, will speak. He will be introduced by Thomas M. Jones, vice president, in the absence of President Irving Diener.

Clothes 'On Hickory Limb' Stolen While Two Boys Are in Creek.

The advice of "hang your clothes on a hickory limb but don't go near the water" was not heeded yesterday by two Takoma Park, Md., youths, S. G. Tobias and Paul Lindsay. They went in the water and came out to find themselves with naught to wear.

It seems that at the Boy Scout camp at Burnt Mills, Md., it is the custom to bathe in the creek without clothes.

A fellow-bather supplied the two with raiment with which to go home—it was not two barrels—and on their way they reported the matter to Montgomery County police.

Chain Stores Win In Maryland Court

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., June 21.—Chain stores operating in Maryland won their fight in the Court of Appeals today when that tribunal decreed that the additional tax imposed by an act of the late legislature does not become effective until May of next year instead of June of the present year.

The court also ruled that the total number of stores operating in one chain should be used as a basis in fixing the license fee. The latter point was basis of one of the main contentions raised by officials of the chains. The ruling does not upset the statute, however. The original action was brought in a Baltimore City court by officials of a prominent drug store chain.

The opinion of the appellate court, written by Judge W. Mitchell Wiggs, of Charles County, reverses the lower court which had held that the new license fee should be assessed for the period between June 1 of this year and May 1, 1934. The new law requires a tax of $5 annually for each store if an organization owns more than one, but not over five, $20 for those having between five and ten, and $100 additional for those having more than ten.

ALEXANDRIA COURT TO DECIDE REWARD

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU,
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The question of payment of the reward of $1,000, offered by the City of Alexandria for the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Police Sergt. Charles L. McClary on June 20, 1929, for which William Kidd, alias "Kid" Lilly, colored, is serving a life sentence in the Virginia Penitentiary following his plea of guilty, will be decided by the courts, according to City Attorney Carl Budwesky.

Lilly was arrested in Columbus, Ohio, February 10, 1933, on information provided by Carrie Parker, colored, of Columbus, who saw his picture in a detective magazine and informed Columbus police. He was captured and brought to Alexandria, where he was arraigned in court, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to spend the rest of his life in the penitentiary, all within one hour after his arrival. He had previously been indicted by the grand jury.

Sergt. McClary was shot and instantly killed while investigating a report of a violation of the dry law on North Patrick street. He approached the suspected house from the front, while Sergt. Edgar Sims closed in from the rear. Lilly, who had been in the back yard, came through an alley between that and the adjoining house, met McClary, and fired a shot which penetrated the officer's throat, causing almost instant death.

Lilly was several times reported to have been in the toils of the police in widely separated sections of the country on minor charges, and released before he was identified as the man wanted in Alexandria.

The language of the reward notice is responsible for the delay in payment. It states that the reward will be paid for the "arrest and conviction" of the slayer of the officer, instead of "information leading to the arrest and conviction."

ARLINGTON'S G. O. P. WILL MEET TONIGHT

Nominee for Legislature to Be Chosen; Also Delegates to State Convention.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST,
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

The Arlington County Republicans hold their convention this evening in the Lyon Park Community House, with L. C. MacPherson, county chairman, presiding.

The convention will select its candidate for the House of Delegates to oppose the Democratic candidate, William D. Medley, and John Locke Green, who has announced as the independent candidate. There still appear strong rumors that Green will be the party's choice, while from Republican headquarters in Clarendon it is claimed that William Mosley Brown will win with little or no opposition.

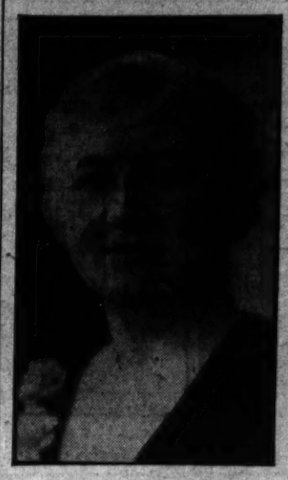
In addition to the selection of a candidate for the House of Delegates, 56 delegates and a like number of alternates will be chosen to attend the State convention in Lynchburg, Va., July 3 and 4, when the party will select its candidate for governor.

Alexandria Catholics Set Feast Tomorrow

St. Mary's Catholic Church, of Alexandria, will celebrate the Feast of the Sacred Heart tomorrow, starting at 6 o'clock in the morning with exposition of the Blessed Sacrament, lasting all day until the holy hour, which will be from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Holy Communion will be at the 6 o'clock mass, and mass will be at 7 and 8 o'clock. Flowers have been requested for the altar and should be in the church not later than 10 o'clock this morning. The entire congregation is expected to visit the church at some time during the day.

GOES TO DUBLIN



MRS. HUGH BRADFORD, of Sacramento, Calif., president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will arrive in Washington today en route to Dublin, Ireland, to attend the biennial convention of Education Associations July 27 to August 4. Miss Alice Bowers, parent education specialist of this city, will accompany her to the convention.

St. Albans Headmaster Gets Honorary Degree

Philadelphia, June 21 (A.P.).—The University of Pennsylvania today awarded degrees in course to 1,550 men and women from 41 States and 10 foreign countries.

Recipients of honorary degrees included Joseph Hofmann, noted pianist, doctor of music; and Albert H. Lucas, headmaster of St. Albans School for Boys, Washington, D. C., master of arts.

Miss Lewis Named Garden Club Head

Miss Adelaide Lewis, of Fairfax, has been elected president of the Garden Club of Fairfax, Va., for the ensuing year. Mrs. Harley Peyton Wilson, of Hollin Hall, retiring president, was elected first vice president; Mrs. Robert Maxwell, of Vienna, second vice president; Mrs. Robert D. Grahan, of Fairfax, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frederick Dawson Richadson, of Fairfax, secretary, and Mrs. William E. Earle, of Fairfax, treasurer.

The club voted to have as one of its major projects for the year the beautifying of the safety islands at the intersection of the Little River pike and the Lee highway, just west of the Town of Fairfax, in cooperation with the State highway department. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Frances P. Miller, on the Chain Bridge road, near Fairfax, July 11.

Dead Man's Family Sought.

The Alexandria Police Department has written to Atlanta, Ga., endeavoring to trace relatives of a man giving the name of Charles Elmore Bray, 47 years old, 261 Blue Deal avenue, Atlanta, who died here last Saturday. The man was stricken with a heart attack on June 9, while at police headquarters, and died after a week's illness.

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

MORE than 50 dance periods weekly are offered over N. B. C. networks this season, in addition to many more danceable features during regular studio programs. Wherever a popular leader has tucked his orchestra away for the summer season on lake or seashore, wire lines stretch after him and bring the music of his band to the air.

Some of the leaders, such as Tom Gerun at the Century of Progress Casino, are heard over N. B. C. networks every day. Others, like Jack Denny, at the Waldorf-Astoria; Meyer Davis, at the St. Regis; Irving Rose, at the Pierre; Harold Stern, at the Biltmore, and Bert Lown, at the Park Central, are on the air several times weekly. Rudy Vallee is heard from the Hotel Pennsylvania roof Mondays and Saturdays.

Many more come from other cities. From Chicago are Richard Cole, at the Palmer House; Mark Fischer, from the Edgewater Beach Hotel; Ben Bernie, from College Inn, and Leo Reisman, from the Hotel Congress.

Don Bestor is now heard Tuesdays and Saturdays from Lake George Village. From San Francisco Meredith Wilson's Orchestra sends dance tunes to the whole United States. Jack Walton's Casanova Orchestra, from the Brown Palace Hotel, and Gene Quaw, at the Cosmopolitan, are Denver's contribution; Maxim Lowe plays from the Hotel Sherman, in Washington on Saturdays, and Billy Grantham, at the Golden Pheasant, from Cleveland, complete the list.

The field crew on the broadcast from the United States Military Academy commencement had to establish their short-wave receiver in the middle of a potato field at Orr's Point. They also found it necessary to assign a man to keep the delicate instruments freed of potato bugs and caterpillars.

First day after their return one of the crew, S. L. Peck, took some of the equipment to the Empire State Building for another job, set it up—and out walked one of the finest Orr's Point caterpillars!

THE Hon. "Scoop" Russell, V-P in this area for the National Broadcasting Co., will doubtless not object to our printing the following letter which the NBC received from E. Samuel Long, jr., of 807 Eighth street northwest:

"Please allow me to congratulate you on the fine quality and type of local programs you have been offering since NBC has taken over the operation of WMAL.

"While this change was in the making I was fearful there would not be enough time for local talent. I speak as an individual radio fan and one who enjoys hearing from the local talent.

"By the way, there are two programs I especially enjoy. I refer to the 'Eventide Songsters' and the drama 'Doors.' These artists deserve praise, in my opinion."

A half-dozen programs, the first tonight featuring the United States Marine Band, will be short-waved to Argentina and Brazil. The South American presentations will also be broadcast throughout the United States. (WJSV—7:30 p. m.)

The Army Band will have a summer evening concert over WMAL at 10:30 o'clock tonight, and the Navy Band will play at 10:30 o'clock this morning over WRC.

"Education Under Fire" will be the subject of William Cullen French in the George Washington University Forum (7:30 p. m.).

A MEMORIAL program tonight will be dedicated to Josef Rosenblatt, noted cantor, who died in Palestine, by Sidney Resnick's program over WMAL at 8:15 o'clock.

"Eli, Eli," "Yorzheit" and "El Molei Rachamin" will be sung.

"Frederic William Wile, news commentator, is recuperating in Atlantic City in an Irvin S. Cobb smock. As a matter of fact, he was one of the first to purchase one of the new Cobb creations after they were put on sale in a New York department store."—Columbia press notice.

Imagine Freddie Wile in a smock!

No one knows what Lou Holtz's stooge, Shawowsky, would choose as an alternative career, although he was once heard saying he'd like to be head barber for the House of David.

"Babies' Summer Health" by Dr. Roger H. Dennett, professor of pediatrics, New York Post Graduate Medical School of Columbia University, will doubtless attract many mothers to WJSV at 10:45 o'clock this morning.

THE formal dedication of the Great Lakes-to-Gulf waterway today will be heard over the WJZ network, WRC maybe, at 1 p. m. George H. Dern, Secretary of War, heads the list of distinguished speakers who will greet the steamer Vicksburg when she arrives with the first tow ever pushed over the trail that La Salle blazed from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi delta.

A New Yorker At Large

By MARK BARRON.

NEW YORK—Barging about that stein and pretzel neighborhood hard by the East River, a group of us came to a German beer garden. Tacked onto its green doors was a large placard inviting "Come in and see the Russian princess." We went inside.

Once bunched around a table, we were quickly confronted with a circle of foaming 3.2 steins. These quaffed, another round was called for, but the Russian princess hadn't yet put in an appearance.

So we called over one of the yodeling waiters, who was attired in short, leather breeches and an Alpine hat, and asked, "When do we see the Russian princess?"

"How many of those have you had?" he asked, pointing at our empty steins.

"Two," we answered.

"Well, have two more," he flipped, "and you'll see the whole royal family."

Sea-Roving Tony.

The details of this little adventure were overheard the other night in that behomeian rendezvous over which Tony Sarg presides.

It seems that Mrs. Sarg and daughter Mary were returning from a vacation on one of those small islands off the coast of New England. They were to make the trip to the mainland on a diminutive coastal steamer, the Whangpoo or some such name.

Tony had come up to meet them, and he happened to mention the fact to a friend, a commander of a group of Government boats.

"I'll take you out to meet them," said the commander, and the next morning the line of half a dozen ships steamed out to sea with Tony aboard the leading one. Presently they came up to the Whangpoo, and the Government boys signaled it to stop.

"I'll not do it," signaled back the infuriated captain of the Whangpoo, but he changed his mind when he saw that guns were trained over the Whangpoo poop deck or wherever it is they train guns.

Wise Mrs. Sarg.

Finally Tony was transferred to the deck of the Whangpoo, and after he apologized to the captain, remarked that he would go look up the missus.

"I wouldn't do it if I were you," advised the captain. "When she saw those boats cutting up all those dithers out there, she told your daughter that she was sure you had something to do with it."

For some strange reason, the park commissioners waited until the middle of June before turning on the water in the children's wading pools. The youngsters around Central Park solved the problem in their own way. They plunged into the fountain pool at Columbus Circle.

The town's shortest avenue begins at Forty-ninth street and ends at Fiftieth. It runs through the heart of Rockefeller Center.

SPINNING OF COTTON AIDS RECOVERY PLAN

Renewed Industrial Activity Encourages Administrators in Mapping Work.

(Associated Press.)

Fresh stimulus for administrators of the national recovery legislation came yesterday in reports that cotton spinning operations during May moved at their fastest pace since October, 1929—the month of the stock market crash.

These indications of renewed industrial activity came as Hugh S. Johnson and Donald H. Sawyer, administrators for industry and public works, drove ahead with their business revival programs.

As a part of this widespread program Acting Secretary Roosevelt of the Navy said the Navy planned to spend $86,000,000 on ship construction during the year, beginning July 1. Of this, $40,000,000 will be for ships already under construction and at least $46,000,000 to start the new 32 ship quota for which the Chief Executive has approved allotment of $238,000,000 out of the $3,300,000,000 public works fund.

Spinning Mill Activity.

The encouraging reports from the spinning mills followed closely announcements of the Labor Department of a sudden and marked upturn in employment in May as compared with April—the largest in years—and a gain in indicated expenditures for private building of 128 per cent during the two months.

The statement of the Census Bureau said that during May the domestic mills operated an aggregate of 8,309,664,722 spindle hours, as contrasted with 9,005,849,000 in October, 1929.

Operators of these mills have been the first to submit a code of practices to Johnson and apparently will be the first of the Nation's major industries to bring themselves under the national recovery act with operations limited to 40 hours a week per man and a wage scale of $11 a week in the North and $10 in the South.

Other Industries Studied.

Johnson, meanwhile, was conferring with representatives of other industries and there were indications that additional codes would be laid before him shortly so that other hearings might begin soon after the textile hearing starts June 27.

In this connection, the administrator took occasion yesterday to deny reports that he had rejected or passed informally upon a proposed code for the coal industry. He said he had received no code from that group, although operators had been considering one.

Under the direction of Col. Sawyer, a corps of engineers was culling through the thousands of proposed public works projects, but there was no chance of any definite approvals until the return of President Roosevelt.

Naming Chiefs Delayed.

In addition, it was said yesterday, that State deputy administrators of public works would not be named until the Chief Executive had an opportunity to study the list of names.

It was disclosed today that as a part of the far-reaching construction plan to stimulate purchasing power spokesmen from the Western States have proposed expenditure of $150,000,000 to strengthen the reclamation structure.

Members of the delegation, which is headed by Marshall Dana, of the Portland, Oreg., Journal and chairman of the Western Reclamation Association, said the fundamental necessity was to make available more water in existing projects and to lower production costs.

TRADE TRENDS.

(Associated Press.)

Sulphur—Shipments of the two leading producing companies are reported still in the uptrend which started in April. Increased demands from the steel and fertilizer companies are factors in the larger movement.

Flour—New buying, light for some time, has been further restricted by the impending processing tax on wheat, according to trade reports. Withdrawals against conrtacts are said to be heavier.

Chemicals—The silk and tanning industries are said to be calling for increased quantities of glaubers salt. Tin derivatives have been marked up again in line with metal quotations.

Retail trade—Advices to local merchandising interests are to the effect that retail trade is holding at a good level, reflecting demand in anticipation of higher prices.

Bar Silver Declines.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Bar silver was down a cent today to 35 cents an ounce. Futures also declined, but trading was moderate.

Youngstown Steel Yield Pushed to 53 Per Cent

Youngstown, Ohio, June 21 (A. P.)—With two more open hearth furnaces going on the active list at the Ohio works of the Carnegie Steel Co., steel production in the Youngstown district rose to 53 per cent of capacity, the highest level in 26 months.

POWER PRODUCTION CONTINUES TO GAIN

Output Is Higher for Week and Above Mark of 1932 Period.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Electric power output continued its sharp gain last week, rising well above the production of the previous week and 9.5 per cent above the like period of 1932. The improvement over last year was the largest of seven consecutive weekly increases. In the previous week output ran 7.4 per cent ahead of last year.

The outturn for the week, according to the Edison Electric Institute, was 1,578,101,000 kilowatt hours compared with 1,541,713,000 in the week of June 10 and 1,441,532,000 in the corresponding week last year. Distribution was the largest for any week since the period ended February 13, 1932, which was near the peak for that year.

The biggest gains in the major geographical regions were in New England with an increase over last year of 18.2 per cent against a lift of 14.5 per cent in the previous week; central industrial district, which was up 11.9 per cent against 10 per cent the week before, and Southern States with a gain of 13.6 per cent against 10.9 per cent.

In the Middle Atlantic Region there was a slight recession, the increase of 7 per cent comparing with a rise of 7.2 per cent in the previous week. The Pacific Coast lost 1.4 per cent against a decline of 5.3 per cent in the preceding week.

CURB GAINS REDUCED IN IRREGULAR SALES

Oils Advance on Rise in Crude; Trading Drops to 597,000 Shares.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Stocks on the curb market shuffled about narrowly today, with the close somewhat irregular. Prices were higher at the opening and improved for a while under good buying in oil shares, but tapered off around midday.

Demand for oils was stimulated by reported price increases in crude oil. Humble rose 4½ points while Standard Oil of Indiana, Gulf and Standard Oil of Ohio closed 1 to 2 points higher.

Utilities, after initial firmness, showed little further response to the increase in electrical power production, and some of the leaders, including Electric Bond & Share and American Gas & Electric, dipped slightly at the close.

Deere & Co. responded to higher wheat prices with an advance of 4½ points. Parke Davis and Richman Brothers gained 3 points each. Aluminum Co. of America was reactionary, losing nearly 2, while Swift & Co. sagged slightly.

Trading volume was the smallest this month, for a full 5-hour session, transfers approximating 597,000 shares compared with 893,000 yesterday.

Minnesota Crops Damaged by Heat

St. Paul, Minn., June 21 (A.P.).—Severe crop damage, permanent to small gains in many sections of the North Central States, following days of hot winds and blistering sun was reported today. Wheat, rye and other small grains were badly damaged in Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakotas, with "most of it irreparable," Government and State crop specialists said.

Andrew Boss, Minnesota agronomist, declared rains of last night helped the general situation only slightly and that unless the "State as a whole receives a substantial rainfall, the crop damage will continue to mount."

The corn crop in Iowa and Minnesota has not suffered materially, but rain will be needed soon. "Iowa's corn crop generally is in good condition," Director Charles D. Reed, of the State's Weather and Crop Bureau, said, but added that wheat, oats and barley have been badly damaged by drought with the most optimistic growers expecting little more than half a crop.

What the Stock Market Did

Advances	382	327
Declines	273	425
Unchanged	171	156
Total issues	826	908

Stocks.

Relatively narrow trading was the rule. Prices advanced five-tenths of a point. Oil and commodity issues led the session. Sales volume fell off to 3,907,570 shares.

Bonds.

United States loans firmed and led the market into higher ground. The average gain was two-tenths of a point. Sales decreased to $14,902,000.

Curb.

Irregular fluctuations resulted in smaller gains at the close. Good buying caused early advances, part of which were lost later. Oils stiffened on an increase in crude prices. The turnover was 597,000 shares.

Wheat.

Prices soared on hot weather reports and the indicated stand of the United States on marketing. All grains joined the advance. July wheat sold at 77¾ to 77⅞ cents.

Cotton.

Renewed trade and commission house buying again sent prices 14 to 16 points higher. October sold at 9.57; July, 9.27. Liverpool cables reported selling absorbed by trade calling.

Nation's Bank Clearings Up to $5,528,309,000

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Substantial improvement in bank clearings throughout the country was reported today by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., for the week ended today, clearings in all the leading cities of the United States totaled $5,528,309,000, or 16.3 per cent higher than those of a year ago.

New York City showed the best advance with an aggregate of $4,055,453,000, or an increase of 23.3 per cent over last year. The total for centers outside of New York was $1,472,856,000, or only .08 per cent higher.

Dried Fruits Steady.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Dried fruits steady, unchanged.

London—Brazilian bonds were the firmest section on the stock exchange today. Other sections suffered on profit-taking and transatlantic issues were affected by overnight news from Wall street, but rallied fractionally later. The closing was irregular.

Paris—Prices on the bourse advanced moderately but late in the day reacted and showed slight losses at the close. International shares were the worst sufferers. Rentes were strong. The closing tone was irregular.

Berlin—Prices were weak on the boerse, but some issues improved slightly at the close.

Stocks Score Victory In Battle to Advance

Oils and Commodity Issues Lead Return to Higher Ground; Gains Average Half Point on Sale of 3,907,570 Shares.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Stocks jogged along in a relatively narrow groove today. Oils and a representation of "commodity shares" outstepped other sections, but the rank and file showed mostly small variations, although the trend was upward. Closing prices averaged slightly higher, with advances of a point or more the rule for petroleum issues.

Stocks responded with a fair rally after early firmness. Extreme gains, however, were not fully maintained. It was interesting to note that the market was able to make progress, against a steadier dollar. The market appeared to have concluded that stabilization or control was to be held in abeyance for a time, though Wall street heard reports that some agreement might be reached reasonably soon.

Oil shares had in their favor a series of price advances, a reduction in crude and current expressions of optimism as to the industry's eventual success in rehabilitating itself. That group traded actively, particularly the low-priced issues. Elsewhere, Case, Celanese, American Sugar, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Continental Can and National Distillers improved 1 to 3 points net, but fractional gains were the rule for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Du Pont, Harvester, Allied Chemical, Chrysler, American Telephone, North American and most of the rails. Kansas City Southern issues slumped a couple of points on omission of the preferred dividend which had been paid quarterly for 26 years. Volume dropped to 3,907,570 shares, the smallest five-hour market since May 23.

The motor trade is counting on the best June in three or four years and so far there has been little or nothing to suggest that its volume of business would not continue well into next month. Dealers who stocked cars early in the spring as a protection against possible price increases soon found the retail demand surprisingly strong, and sales still move along briskly.

Iron Age attributed the steady improvement in steel operating ratios to an accumulation of releases against low-priced second-quarter contracts. Mills refuse to quote for the third quarter "except with a stipulation protecting them against increased production costs incident to the national industrial recovery act."

May railroad earnings amply reflect the rise in traffic. Some lines that had deficits a year ago are able to report sizable operating incomes and although only scattering returns are available a substantial improvement for the class 1 carriers is indicated; the first half dozen roads to report had aggregate net operating income nearly double that of a year ago. However, transportation has just experienced some very lean months, and the record of fixed charges coverage for the year to date leaves much to be desired.

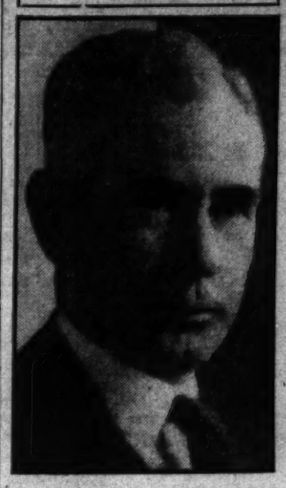
June 16 Dividends Subject to Taxes

Chicago, June 21 (A.P.).—Dividends declared at any time on June 16 are subject to the new 5 per cent tax set up by the industrial recovery act, a Chicago company has been advised. Officials of the Prima Brewing Co., which declared dividends on common and preferred issues at a meeting on the morning of June 16, has received that interpretation from Guy Helvering, Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The tax, Helvering said in a telegram, is "applicable to dividends declared after midnight on June 15."

Because the act was not signed by the President until 11:55 a. m. (E. S. T.), June 16, it had been believed dividends declared before the signature would escape the tax. Officials at the Prima Company said they intended to deduct the amount of the tax from dividend checks, as required by the act, but would consult their lawyers as to whether the act legally could have force before the signing.

The recovery act says dividends declared "prior to the date" will not be taxed. One legal reporting service followed the revenue commissioner's interpretation, explaining the act will not bear on dividends issued before midnight on June 15, but affects those issued after midnight.

VICE PRESIDENT



Harris & Ewing.
CHARLES H. DOING,
recently elected second vice president of the District of Columbia Bankers Association.

Wall St. Briefs

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—C. E. Groesbeck, chairman of the board of United Gas Corporation, told stockholders at their annual meeting today that the question of renewing $21,250,000 in bank loans, due July 21, would soon be taken up. There had been no intimation, he added, that the loans would not be renewed.

Election of several new directors of the Cuba Co. was announced today. They are Alexander C. Barker; Harold P. Janisch, vice president of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston; George K. Livermore, of Lawrence Turnure & Co.; George N. Lindsay and R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont. The new members fill vacancies caused by retirement of Clifford P. Billings, Herbert C. Lakin, William F. Lynch, Roswell C. Tripp and William H. Woodin, Secretary of the Treasury.

Member banks of the New York clearing house tomorrow will reduce the interest rate on time deposits to ¼ of 1 per cent from ½ of 1 per cent. Mutual savings banks will continue to draw ¼ of 1 per cent on balances, but interest will cease on all other classes of demand deposits in accordance with the terms of the Glass-Steagall banking bill.

The weekly food index of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., rose to $1.89 as of June 30. For the three preceding weeks the index remained at $1.87. The current number is higher than any week of 1932 or 1933 to date.

The Iron Age composite price for heavy melting steel scrap has advanced from $9.92 to $9.96 a gross ton. The pig iron and finished steel composites are unchanged at $15.01 a ton and 1.892 cents a pound, respectively.

The United States Treasury has informed depositary institutions that they will no longer have to pay interest on deposits established by subscriptions to Government security issues. The Treasury thus brings its requirements into line with the Glass-Steagall banking bill, which prohibits Federal Reserve member banks from paying interest on demand deposits.

OTIS ELEVATOR CO. DIVIDEND REGULAR

Nickel Plate Road Reports Heavy Increase in Net Income for May.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Otis Elevator Co. today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents a common share, payable July 15 to holdings of record June 30.

United Gas Corporation today reported net income of $4,667,885 for the year ended March 31, equal to $1.75 a share on the second preferred stock. This compares with $7,703,645, or $5.18 a share on the same issue, for the twelve months ended March 31, 1932.

The New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad today reported May net operating income of $562,489, contrasted with a deficit of $45,782 in the same month last year. Gross aggregated $2,585,179 against $2,401,226 a year ago.

Chicago, June 21 (A.P.).—Directors of the Commonwealth Edison Co. today declared a quarterly dividend of $1 a share, payable August 1 to stockholders of record July 15.

The $1 figure represents a reduction of 25 cents from the rate maintained since last August and a statement by James Simpson, president, explained that the reduction is due to increased taxation, especially the transfer of the 3 per cent Federal tax from consumer to producer; a lower gross revenue estimate, now computed at about $70,000,000 for 1933, and the recent service rate reduction forced on the company by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Directors of the Kansas City Southern Railway today voted to omit the dividend due at this time on the noncumulative preferred stock. Payments on this issue were reduced to $2 annually from $4 in July, 1932. Common dividends were omitted in August, 1931.

Omission of the dividend, said a statement by the company, was made necessary by "the exhaustion of all earnings available for that purpose." The company had paid dividends on the preferred quarterly without interruption since July, 1907.

"This action," said the company, "should not be construed, however, as a reflection on the treasury condition of the company. Cash on hand and present value of marketable securities held as investments exceed $7,000,000."

The road reported that so far this year it had not been able to cover fixed charges fully, but it was said that recent improvement in gross revenues "affords some encouragement."

Oil Refineries Plan Recovery Action

Chicago, June 21 (A.P.).—Oil refinery representatives met today to discuss organization under the national industrial recovery act. The meeting was one of a series planned to draw up a code covering the marketing branches of the oil industry.

Suggestions of a committee headed by C. E. Arnott, of the Standard Oil Co. of New York, will be presented tomorrow to jobbers and dealers representing two dozen dealers' associations, Arnott said. On the committee, which represents the American Petroleum Institute, trade association of oil producers, were H. T. Klein, of the Texas Co.; E. S. Hall, of Standard Oil of New Jersey; J. W. Carnes, of Consolidated Oil Corporation; Allan Jackson, of Standard Oil of Indiana, and W. T. Halladay, from the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio.

"We have already discussed plans for a trade code with Eastern and Western distributors," Arnott said today, "and after meeting representatives of the dealers' associations tomorrow we will know pretty definitely what the distributors want."

W. F. Burton Is Elected Head of Quality Stores

Newport News, Va., June 21 (A.P.).—W. F. Burton, of Augusta, Ga., was elected president of the Quality Service Stores of America, Inc., at the closing session of the organization's three-day convention here today. Atlanta, Ga., was chosen as 1934 convention city.

Other officers named were: W. J. Wagers, Huntington, W. Va., first vice president; Roy Green, Nashville, Tenn., second vice president; L. M. Brell, Richmond, secretary, and W. J. Cassidy, Columbia, S. C., treasurer.

$4,000,000 Preferred To Annuity of $50,000

Denver, June 21 (A.P.).—Mrs. Belle Bonfils, widow of the late F. G. Bonfils, Denver publisher, filed notice in county court today that she would take one-half of the estate of her husband instead of the $50,000 life annuity provided for her in his will.

Under Colorado statutes, a widow has a choice of one-half her husband's estate in lieu of any bequest to her in his will. When the will was filed for probate recently, the Bonfils estate was valued at more than $8,000,000.

WHEAT VALUES SOAR TO NEW HIGH LEVELS

Return of Hot Weather Is Aid to Rises; Other Grains Advance.

Chicago, June 21 (A.P.).—Almost the entire list of grains jumped late today to fresh high-price records for the season.

Indications pointed to a return of hot weather in the Northwest, where recent scorching temperatures and drought were unofficially estimated to have cut United States spring wheat crop prospects down 50,000,000 to 70,000,000 bushels.

Much notice, too, was taken of a statement by Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture that losses of winter wheat, together with damage to spring wheat, meant probably the smallest total domestic wheat crop in a generation.

Suggestions of Dumping.

Friends of higher prices for wheat gave particular emphasis also to suggestions voiced by Secretary Wallace that the United States, while holding the domestic price of wheat around $1, might resort to dumping this country's wheat surplus on the world market, if Australia, Argentina and Canada did not see the light at London.

Wheat closed buoyant at the day's highest level, 2 to 2¾ cents above yesterday's finish; corn, 1½ to 3 cents up; oats, 1¼ to 1⅝ advanced, and provisions varying from 12 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

Adding to upward impetus of wheat values were Canadian government reports telling of extensive damage to crops. There was also an increased disposition to consider winter wheat damage in this country, especially adverse field reports today from Illinois and Indiana.

Report of Rains.

From the outset, too, advices indicated that rains Northwest and West were insufficient to relieve wheat crop conditions.

Wheat specialists said everything as to the United States spring crop outcome depended on whether rainfalls would prove adequate to stop damage by heat and drought. It was asserted by many traders that the American and Canadian Northwest both needed not only lower temperatures but a thorough drenching. There was word also that European crop conditions were less favorable, and that rust had developed in the Balkin countries.

Corn and oats went skyrocketing with wheat. Need of rain for corn gave independent strength to that cereal.

Provisions were irregular, with grain price jumps largely off—setting the effect of hog market downturns.

Steel Production Up to 50 Per Cent

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Steel production in the United States has reached 50 per cent of capacity for the first time since April, 1931, Iron Age reported today. A week ago the output ratio was 47 per cent.

"With steel buyers increasing their specifications and pressing for shipments," said the review, "mills are beginning to experience difficulty in keeping up with demand, in some cases falling behind on deliveries. These evidences of growing market tension, emphasized by the appearance of scarcity of skilled labor in certain Eastern mills, are reminiscent of conditions which have been conspicuous by their absence since the '20's."

Operations this week have advanced from 35 to 40 per cent at Pittsburgh from 46 to 50 per cent at Chicago, from 36 to 48 per cent at Buffalo, from 50 to 55 per cent in the valleys, from 23 to 26 per cent in eastern Pennsylvania and from 63 to 67 per cent in the Cleveland-Lorain district.

Cumberland Short Road Gains Favor

New impetus to the movement for a direct "airline route" highway between Washington and Cumberland, Md., is promised through support by civic groups in Virginia and West Virginia, it was announced yesterday by Thomas P. Littlepage, president of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the movement.

Mr. Littlepage said a mass meeting in behalf of the highway project will be held at Charles Town, W. Va., tonight under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis of that city. The State highway commissioners of both Virginia and West Virginia are invited as guests of honor to the meeting, at which the inclusion of the project in the road-building programs of the two States will be considered, he said.

The "airline route" will shorten the distance from Cumberland to Washington about 25 miles, Mr. Littlepage said, adding that "to finish the road only two sections—one of 15 miles and the other of 20 miles—are necessary, as the work is done from here to Leesburg, from Keys Gap to Gerardstown and from Cacapon River to Cumberland."

French Distance Fliers Arrive.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Maurice Roesi and Paul Codos, French fliers, arrived on the liner Champlain today with the plane in which they propose to fly from New York to Persia next month in an assault on the distance record. The plane can carry enough fuel for 85 hours in the air.

Working Forces Larger In 219 Leading Factories

Providence, R. I., June 21 (A.P.). Working forces in the 219 leading manufacturing establishments of Rhode Island which report regularly to State Commissioner of Labor Daniel P. McLaughlin were 9.2 per cent larger during the last week of May than in the same week of April, this year, and 34.6 per cent larger than in the final week of May, 1932, it was announced today.

A total of 53,860 workers were employed at the end of May as against 49,312 a month earlier and 40,024 a year earlier.

Grasshopper War Pushed in Montana

Havre, Mont., June 21 (A.P.).—With the grasshopper horde making heavy inroads on growing crops in northern Montana, six stations have been opened in Hill County for the mixing and distribution of poison.

Though the damage already is heavy, according to reports to County Agent E. Sandburg, northern Montana farmers expect to lessen it materially with widespread use of poison which in the past proved highly effective.

Word received from Helena indicated the hopper menace had spread to 12 counties, with a varying degree of infestation and damage. In addition, the pests have been reported in a number of eastern and north central counties.

GOODS MARKET.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Worsted and cotton yarns are scarce for quick delivery and mills are closely sold up. Prices were firm today with an advancing tendency. Cotton goods and other fabrics met active demand for immediate shipment with few offerings available. Burlaps have moved up sharply this week on a rise in exchange. Late business is held back until the industrial recovery act begins to operate.

American Bankers Protest Against Berlin Moratorium

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—American bankers who have marketed German dollar bonds, of which about $1,000,000,000 are outstanding in this country, have cabled a protest to the Reichsbank against the partial moratorium declared on transfer payments.

The moratorium decree was issued June 8. The protest was directed against stoppage of certain interest payments July 1 under the decree.

Attorney John Foster Dulles, who sent the message on behalf of bankers, declared in it that "it appears impossible to justify a cessation of interest payments on German bonds as a whole."

Kansas City Wheat Futures in Demand

Kansas City, June 21 (A.P.).—Urgent demand developed for wheat futures in the late trading today, following publication of Secretary Wallace's speech before the Miller's National Federation at Chicago. Prices rose buoyantly. The close was up about 2 to 3 cents for the day.

Most months were near or on new levels for the movemeht. December ended at 76⅞ cents a bushel. Adverse crop and weather advices from the spring wheat areas of this country and Canada, together with disappointing thrashing returns from parts of the Southwest, also were factors in the advance.

Corn and other coarse grains joined the rise and made gains ranging from 1 to nearly 3 cents a bushel.

5,000 Factory Workers To Get Increase in Pay

Chicago, June 21 (A.P.).—The Reliance Manufacturing Co., of Chicago, announced today a 10 per cent wage increase would be made effective July 1 to 5,000 factory workers "in order to put into effect the policies of President Roosevelt." The announcement, made by Herbert G. Mayer, president, did not state whether there had been previous reductions.

Gasoline Prices Bboosted Again in Oklahoma Area

Tulsa, Okla., June 21 (A.P.).—Led by Magnolia Petroleum Co., nearly all gasoline marketers in this area boosted prices again today, making the total recent advance 1½ cents a gallon, of which a half cent is Federal tax.

The new prices are 14, 15 and 17½ cents a gallon for the three principal grades of gasoline.

COTTON PRICES RISE ON TRADE'S BUYING

October Sells at 9.57, With General Market Up 14 to 16 Points.

New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Cotton showed a generally steady tone today with prices advancing on trade and commission house buying which seemed to be stimulated somewhat during the afternoon by the firmness of the grain and stock markets.

October sold up to 9.57 and closed at 9.54, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 14 to 16 points.

After closing at gains of 5 to 8 points in response to relatively firm Liverpool the advance was extended 10 to 13 points, with July selling at 9.24 and December at 9.65.

Buyers Are Supplied.

Buyers were supplied at these levels by realizing or liquidation, and some Southern selling.

Offerings were not heavy and were taken on set backs of a few points. Later the market firmed on local and commission house buying, with some covering or rebuying by early sellers.

July advanced to 9.30 and December to 9.71; closing quotations were within 2 or 3 points of the best.

Liverpool Cables Better.

The early Liverpool cables were better than due on the New York close of yesterday, and continental selling there was said to have been absorbed by trade calling, London and local buying.

Except for the brief spurt of buying here, on the afternoon bulge, business was comparatively quiet, with traders awaiting further developments, with respect to inflationary policies and in connection with acreage curtailment.

The official forecast for thundershowers in the West was considered favorable, but some of the local map readers doubted whether they would be general enough to relieve the dry sections.

Virginia Dry Agent To Retain His Job

Richmond, Va., June 21 (A.P.).—Attorney General John R. Saunders today said Prohibition Inspector C. H. Redmond would not be discharged for his activity against transients carrying beer over the narrow neck of Virginia between Kentucky and Tennessee, but that he has been instructed not to molest them further.

An investigation of Inspector Redmond's activities was launched by the attorney general's office after Alex Shaffer, automobile man of Knoxville, Tenn., complained of treatment received when arrested on the few hundred yards of highway in Virginia on the road from Middleboro, Ky., to Knoxville.

Shaffer said he was taken to Jonesville, Lee County, held overnight in jail and fined $68.50 for transporting a few bottles of beer, which had been legalized in Kentucky.

Lowell Quiz Group Of House Is Chosen

(Associated Press.)

A House judiciary subcommittee, headed by Representative Browning (Democrat), Tennessee, was appointed yesterday by Committee Chairman Sumners to investigate charges of official misconduct brought against Federal Judge James A. Lowell, of Massachusetts, by Representative Smith (Democrat), Virginia.

Browning said the subcommittee's plans would not be determined until it is called together. That, he said, might not be until next week. It has been indicated the investigation, which will carry the subcommittee to Boston, may not be under way until fall.

Other members of the subcommittee besides Browning are Gregory, Kentucky; Condon, Rhode Island, and Weaver, North Carolina, Democrats, and Perkins, New Jersey, and Beck, Pennsylvania, Republicans.

Bids on 4 Destroyers Postponed to July 26

Acting Secretary of the Navy Henry L. Roosevelt announced yesterday the date for opening of bids for the construction of four destroyers previously announced as July 6 has been postponed until July 26. Bids on a number of other vessels which are to be constructed under the national recovery act also will be opened on this date. The four destroyers were authorized by the act of Congress of August 29, 1916, and will be of 1,500 tons each.

Acting Secretary Roosevelt also announced that the construction of two submarines of 1,300 tons displacement each of the new building program has been allocated to the Portsmouth (N. H.) Navy Yard, and one of the two gunboats of 2,000 tons will be constructed at the Charleston (S. C.) Navy Yard and the other at the New York Navy Yard.

Eight-Day Ford Exhibit Is Fuel Economy Test

An eight-day exhibit of Ford automobiles, sponsored by Ford dealers throughout the city, opened yesterday on a colorfully decorated lot at Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

During the showing, a Ford sedan will tour downtown streets on a 24-hour schedule to test a fuel economy program. The American Oil Co., in conjunction with the test, will release coupons in a guessing contest as to the car's gas consumption. A relay of drivers and observers, under supervision of the American Automobile Association, will operate the test car.

Amos Woodcock's Brother Dies.

Salisbury, Md., June 21 (A.P.).—Samuel P. Woodcock, 75, for 35 years a real estate broker here, died of a heart attack this morning while in bed. He was a brother of Amos W. W. Woodcock, former director of the National Prohibition Bureau.

DEMOCRATS' MOVE AT ANNAPOLIS LOST

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., June 21.—Whatever hope was entertained by Democrats of Annapolis of holding a municipal election next month under provisions of a new local law passed by the last session of the Legislature was dashed today when the court of appeals sustained the decision of Associate Judge William H. Forsythe, of the Fifth Circuit.

Judge Forsythe, passing upon a mandamus action brought by Republicans, ruled that neither a registration, primary or election, could be held in view of the fact that necessary officials for this purpose were legislated out of office June 1 by the new act, which was a repealer of the existing local law. The higher tribunal filed a per curiam order in giving its decision and, like Judge Forsythe, made no comments on constitutional points raised.

The effect of the decision means that the present city council, headed by Mayor Walter E. Quenstedt and Counselor Roscoe C. Roe, both Republicans, will continue in office until their successors are elected, which apparently can not be until three years hence, as the new law was designed to change the period of elections from two to three years. The Democrats, however, are in control of the council by a 6-to-4 vote.

But another rebuff to their plans is that management of affairs of the Annapolis Water Co. will continue under Republican regime, as the decision automatically nullifies a new water company law which was designed to place the company under control of the Democratic council.

Takoma Woman Freed In Garage Permit Case

The Hyattsville police court yesterday dismissed the case against Mrs. Mabel A. Blundon, of Takoma Park, Md., charged with erecting a private garage in the rear of her residence without the proper permit.

Mrs. Blundon was arrested May 18 by Prince Georges County police and held in the Hyattsville lockup for 15 hours in default of $600 bond, it was alleged at the hearing by Arthur Keefer, attorney for the defendant.

Arlington Federation Meeting.

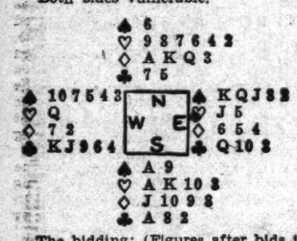
CHOOSING A SHORTER TRUMP SUIT.

IT IS a well known fact that if a hand contains a choice between play with a 4-4 distribution of trumps and play with a 5-4 distribution the former should be preferred. One discard is available if the 5-card suit is the side suit, while none is available if the side suit is split 4-4. Hands offering a choice between the 4-4 and 5-4 distributions are fairly common, but a hand where a 4-4 distribution should be preferred to a 6-4 distribution is much rarer. The following hand is of the latter type, and although it was undoubtedly overbid by North and South it must be said in their favor that they chose the right suit.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.



The bidding: (Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1♡	Pass
3◇(1)	Pass	6◇(2)	Pass
6♡(3)	Pass	7◇(4)	Pass
Pass	Pass

1—Having passed, North feels that he must make a Forcing Takeout in order to show partner that game is certain. The bid can not be interpreted as showing 3½ honor-tricks and consequently is fairly safe. Personally, however, I should prefer a bid of four hearts.

2—A slight overbid in view of the distribution. South has a wealth of honor-tricks but not enough to risk driving his partner to a Grand Slam.

3—Of course North should pass, but, having decided in the first place that the hand should be played in hearts he insists on returning to that suit.

4—Again overbidding. With a partner who passed originally, a Grand Slam contract does not look at all probable.

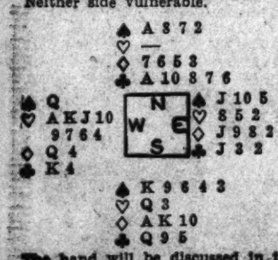
When the hand was actually played East opened the King of spades and the seven contract became a laydown immediately. The diamonds were taken out and the two long hearts in the North hand afforded discards of the two low clubs in the Dummy hand. The last two tricks were won by ruffing a club in the Dummy and a spade in Declarer's hand.

It is evident that no Opening will defeat this contract, but I still think that the Grand Slam is unbiddable. Of course, played in hearts, six-odd is the limit of the hand.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

If West decides to play the hand below in hearts for a sacrifice, what line of bidding is best calculated to attain this result?

North, Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.



The hand will be discussed in tomorrow's article.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

NOT infrequently the critical fraternity and the picture-going public think they know more about his business than the motion picture producer himself.

How often one leaves the picture theater saying to himself, or perhaps actually overhearing, such things as: "Well, if they had only cast So-and-So in the title role, that would have been a much better picture," or "Of all things! To cast a brunette in that role when everyone knows it should have been a blonde," or "That was a pretty good picture, except that the leading feminine character should have been played by a much younger girl," or any of a million other comments, observations and criticisms that invariably spring to mind among those who view their film entertainment attentively and discerningly!

Well, there is at least one producing company which means to obviate all such gratuitous objections to at least one of its important productions.

To this end, far in advance of actual work on the filming and recording of the picture, the public is being urged to express its opinions, preferences and predilections for the benefit of those who are to bear the responsibility of tranferring to celluloid one of the best-loved classics extant in the English tongue.

This comes to me in the form of a letter which I herewith quote in full:

"Dear Mr. Bell:—I think you will be interested to know that Paramount has under way plans for the filming of one of the great classics of the world's literature, 'ALICE IN WONDERLAND.' Although this will be made for Christmas release, we have already started the most important phase of the production—the casting of the title role of Alice. Therefore, I ask and will greatly appreciate your help and advice in solving this problem.

"Because Alice is held in affectionate regard by so many millions of us, we are anxious to secure the advice of the public, and the expert opinion of critics and editors, in casting this part. Other characters in the story do not present such a problem. We plan to cast Charlie Ruggles as the Mad Hatter, Alison Skipworth as the Duchess, Mary Boland and W. C. Fields as the Red Queen and King, Jack Oakie possibly in the dual roles of Tweedledum and Tweedledee.

"1. But who should play Alice?

"2. Should she be a child or a young woman?

"3. If a child, what age?

"4. Should she be blonde or brunette?

"5. Should she be English or American?

"6. Or perhaps some established screen favorite should have the part. If so, who is the popular choice?

"Alice already is a member of every household. It is only due to my desire to make 'ALICE IN WONDERLAND' the picture it should be that I ask you to submit these questions to your readers, and to express your own preference.

"If it is not asking too much, will you kindly sponsor the reader-poll in your city? And write me personally its results or send me any letters you receive?

"Thanking you, I remain (Signed) EMANUEL COHEN, Vice President in Charge of Production."

It is a fertile field for suggestion that Mr. Cohen throws open to the Washington public.

There will be those, no doubt, who will think first of Mary Pickford as one who might most fully embody the ingenuous qualities of the heroine of Lewis Carroll's charmingly imaginative and delightfully humorous creation. Others, more inclined to favor actresses whose work is fresh in mind, probably will suggest Mary Kornman, erstwhile "leading lady" of the "Our Gang" comedies, and now proving a player of demure personality and intriguing method in "College Humor," on the Palace screen.

Some inevitably will favor some precocious youngster conforming literally to the age and description of Carroll's Alice; others a mature artiste with a gift of youthful impersonation.

Whatever your answers to the queries which Mr. Cohen propounds, write them to this column and they will be communicated directly to him in Hollywood.

Here is a chance to have an actual hand in the casting of one of the most important pictures of the year. Don't let the opportunity slip away. Write, and do it ri-i-ght now, as Mons. Chevalier would say!

When Jack L. Warner, production chief of the Warner Brothers-First National studios on the West Coast, sets out to manufacture himself a mess of new stars he doesn't do any halfway job.

For instance, a few months ago he announced that 13 promising young embryo actresses had been signed to term contracts with the idea of developing their presumably generous natural endowments to the point of potential stardom, or thereabouts.

Jack having a little more time than usual yesterday, it being the longest day of the year—as you were warned here a day or two ago that it would be—these thirteen fortunate young women were elevated to the rank of "junior stars" on the Warner lot. This baker's dozen of young luminaries in the ascendant have been given experience in small "bit" parts for several months and are now deemed ready for more conspicuous assignments and greater responsibilities.

They are, in round numbers, Lynn Browning, of Kansas City, Mo.; Ann Hovey, of Mount Vernon, Ind.; Maxine Cantway, of Chicago; Barbara Rogers, of Waycross, Ga.; Loretta Andrews, of St. Louis; Renee Whitney, of Chicago; Margaret La Marr, of Redondo Beach, Calif.; Lorena Layson, of Miami, Fla.; Alice Jans, of Creston, Iowa; Geraine Greer, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Helen Mann, of Fort Worth, Tex.; Pat Wing, of Richmond, Va., and Helen Foster, of Independence, Kans.

Mr. Warner has committed himself to the statement that if the experiment proves successful it is probable the selection of "junior stars" will become an annual event, just as has been the case in the yearly selection of the "Wampas baby stars," many of whom have risen to the heights.

Literally dropping from the clouds yesterday, having come from Detroit by plane, Jack Hurford, former assistant manager of the Fox Theater in this city, paid this desk a brief visit about midway of the afternoon, looking in the pink and enthusiastic concerning the theatrical outlook in the Michigan metropolis.

Master Hurford is associated in Detroit with Dave Idzal—twice managing director of the Fox F street cathedral—in the conduct of a 5,000-seat house for which the going got a little rough during the bank holiday, with its attendant rigors, but which now again is going great guns.

With the restoration of stage shows in conjunction with the best first-run film product available, weekly grosses once more are leaping up around the $30,000 mark, and over, and are constantly getting better.

Mr. Idzal and Mr. Hurford, as a consequence, are wearing smiles that are proportionately wider than they used to be. Mr. Hurford is taking his back to Detroit by plane this morning with a lusty outburst of "good lucks" and "Godspeeds" ringing in his ears.

Por pasting in the hat and ready reference, the attractions to follow those currently on view in the motion picture theaters will be as follows: RKO-Keith's, Greta Nissen and Phil Harris in "Melody Cruise," and added novelty, "Krakatoa;" Earle, Barbara Stanwyck in "Baby Face," and Walter O'Keefe headlining the vaudeville; Loew's Fox, James Dunn and Gloria Suart, in "The Girl in 419," and Col. Stoopnagle and Budd headlining the vaudeville; Palace, Marion Davies in "Peg o' My Heart" and Laurel and Hardy in "Twice Two;" Columbia, Randolph Scott, Tom Keene and Kathleen Burke in Zane Grey's "Sunset Pass;" Metropolitan, "Gold Diggers of 1933," held over.

Jane Morley, psychic, whose divinations are uncannily accurate, has scored so sensational a hit that she is being held over a second week as the special feature of the floor show on the Club Michel Marine Roof. My advice would be not to ask her anything unless you really want to know!

Beg pardon, but there is an icicle hanging to your mustache!

New low prices on life-time fans

WHEN you buy an electric fan, the least expensive fan you can buy is a General Electric! It's least expensive because it will last—a long, long time.

A jeweler in Huntington, West Va., has this to say about his G-E Fan: "It was bought 29 years ago and is still operating satisfactorily."

The average life of a G-E Fan is 20 years. And many G-E Fans, still keeping owners cool, are 35 years old!

G-E Fans are built for long, useful service—that's why they give long service. Built by the greatest electric fan motor makers in the world—General Electric!

And today you save more on a G-E Fan than ever before! Right now the price of G-E Fans is the lowest in years!

Buy a G-E Fan today. And to be sure it's a G-E—look for the famous G-E monogram on the guard.

Now $3.45

This 8-inch G-E Fan was $6.50 a year ago. It's only $3.45 now! Four blades. Powerful and exceptionally quiet—and it will last for years!

THE MEANDERER

Tells of Sunbonnets; of Bright, Printed, Washable Organdies; and of Men's Sport Clothes.

Descendants of sunbonnets that were seen mostly on Mondays in the back yard, on most any day in the garden patch, in bygone times, have gained caste with the years and appear in unexpected places such as the fashionable sportswear shops. Not that the sunbonnet isn't still perfectly good headgear for wash days and for gardening, but its special mission in life now seems to be to add to the effectiveness of beach costumes.

Though the lines of the 1933 sunbonnets are quite similar to those of the 1893 sunbonnet—broad drooping starched front, adjustable back, with a bow at the nape of the neck to fasten it into place, the way of the new sunbonnets is admittedly decorative and not utilitarian. And if their decorative effect does not contribute to many a summer romance the Meanderer's estimate of the coy appeal of the sunbonnet is all wrong. The wide sunbonnet of sprigged percale faced underneath its brim with plain percale of lavender hue, and tied at the back with a lavender starched bow has appeal even in print, hasn't it? Imagine its effectiveness in reality, framing the face of the pretty, curly coiffured 1933 summer girl.

An improvement in sunbonnet structures is a crown drawn at the top with a drawstring, and a brim laced together at the back, so that the entire amusing bit of millinery may be laundered easily.

Sunbonnet prices must have changed, too, for the Meanderer is almost certain that the sunbonnets within her memory did not cost $2 each, the price of the improved reproductions. The new ones must be considered good value for they have been selling so rapidly in one shop that there were not more than two or three left to show the Meanderer when she hurried as fast as she could over the hot pavements to see them. There are more on order so that all vacationers who ask for sunbonnets may be satisfied.

Organdy dresses are not new, since there have been flocks, bevies—hundreds of them about Washington and all about everywhere. But organdies printed with field flowers in pastel shades, with delightful variations of color, and distinctive design, all of which are washable.

Summer comfort for men has been well "thought out" if some hot-weather togs the Meanderer inspected in an important men's wear shop are any indication. Japanese cotton crepe robes with matching slippers, either or both slipping into a bag, also matching, are 1.95 for the ensemble. Men's "beach shirts," made of Turkish cloth, are sweater-shaped, with high necks and long sleeves, made to slip on over bathing suits.

The shortest of bathing shorts are decreed proper for masculine bathers, according to men's wear stylists and up-to-date magazines, but what is allowed at Atlantic City and other sea spots and what is allowed at the Capital's swimming pools is something else again it seems. A new bathing suit of standard make for men has a backless detachable top, fastening to bathing shorts with a zipper, and this, surely, would make the man who wants a swim safe at any pool or beach. The backless quality of the garment and its much cutaway front will give the man bather the compliance with rules, along with the virile sun tan he may desire.

Pleased and about to be complacent was the Meanderer when a shopper encountered in a dress shop all particular women like to frequent told the said Meanderer that she, the shopper, was a regular reader of this column. Not until the shopper had bought two of the lovely frocks in the shop, had them ordered to her Connecticut address, was the Meanderer cured of the hovering complacence by learning that the shopper was none other than the wife of a Washington correspondent for a highly important national weekly magazine, and that there's more important writing done in one week in her family than the Meanderer could aspire to do in a lifetime.

Telephone questions on The Meanderer's column to The Washington Post, National 4205, Extension 19; or address The Meanderer, The Washington Post, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

NATS BLANK CHISOX, 9-0, AS YANKS TRIP BROWNS

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

Chicago, Ill., June 21.

THE NATS are still loitering around first place, only a game removed from the lead held by the Yanks, who were supposed to sew up the American League pennant by July 4, according to some of our best minds. But with each passing game it is looming more probable that the rest of the league will celebrate Independence Day by throwing off the yoke of Yankee leadership.

A tight race does not figure to do the Yankees any good. The specter of that $5,000 pot of gold at the end of the world series rainbow that the New York players have been in the habit of receiving will be before their eyes in every game if the Nats or some other club are forcing a stiff pace.

Yanks Appear to Be Pressing.

Several members of the Washington team, who took a motorman's holiday on Tuesday and saw the Yankees play the White Sox, perceived the New Yorkers operating under a terrific strain. It was a very much tightened ball club that managed to take three out of five from the Sox, not the smooth, powerful aggregation that swept through the race last year.

There was more evidence today that the Yankees are experiencing difficulty. They had to travel four extra innings to nose out the St. Louis Browns, a club that didn't figure to give 'em a battle. The Yanks have lost 9 of their last 15 games, in shining contrast to their 1932 record, when they never lost more than two games in a row. It seems that they aren't the same club.

Nats Picked to Dislodge Leaders.

Washington is now the club almost unanimously chosen to dislodge the Yankees. The Nats have earned the profound respect of every club and every fan by the manner in which they have been conducting themselves. They have won 12 of their 17 games this month and show no signs of retrogression. They've won seven of their last eight.

The Nats are now the most feared hitting club in the league. They have maintained a high team batting leadership for more than three weeks and as a club are hitting above .300. Their big four of Manush, Cronin, Goslin and Schulte can't be matched by any other one club. And despite their lofty averages, only Schulte can be said to be hitting over his head, for the other three in the past have even surpassed their present marks.

Good League Line-Up For Fair.

Pity the National League pitcher who has to face the American League batting line-up in the World Fair game July 6. He'd better have his courage with him.

He'll be called upon to pitch first to Earl Averill or Ben Chapman. Then, in more or less order, he must face Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Lou Gehrig, Al Simmons, Joe Cronin, Charlie Gehringer and Bill Dickey or Mickey Cochrane. His fate is in their hands. Baseball's most merciless crew.

Of course, he could solve the problem by passing them all to get to the pitcher.

This department favors the American League team if Lefty Grove is pitching against the National Leaguers. The National has its Bill Terry, its Frankie Frisch, its Chuck Klein, Dick Bartell, Paul Waner, Gabby Hartnett and Lefty O'Doul. But I remember the day back in '29 when Grove faced that great slugging array of the Cubs in the world series. They had Cuyler, Stephenson, Wilson, Grimm and Hornsby among their sluggers. But the National League never saw such fast ball pitching as Grove delivered. The Cub sluggers were glad to take their three swings with a foot comfortably in the bucket and get away from the plate. Only Hornsby took his regular cut.

RUNS, HITS AND ERRORS.

The White Sox will get Al Crowder in the second of the series tomorrow . . . And the Nats will get Ted Lyons . . . Al Simmons has added a few swaggers since he came to the White Sox . . . He can do no wrong out here . . . When he strikes out, they boo the umpire . . . Not Simmons . . . Heinie Manush didn't hesitate long in hitting safely in his twenty-fourth consecutive game . . . It was Gregory's second pitch that he slammed into left for a single . . . Heinie later singled to center and then he singled to right . . . just for variety . . . He was even calling his shots to Catcher Grube . . . Are the Nats hitting? In their last ten games they have averaged 14.4 hits . . . That's all.

Medal of 73 Matched by Connelly

Nee and McCarthy in Title Flight; Match Play Today.

By DAVE HERMAN.

A DIMINUTIVE youngster who golfs when he doesn't feel like caddying, flashed a bagful of shots yesterday in the final day's qualifying round of the Congressional Country Club invitation tournament, galloped home in the heat of the morning with a 73, one above par, and tied Luther Steward, jr., pride of the host club and opening day trail blazer, for top medal honors.

One of the first to tee off, Johnny Connelly, a 19-year-old Rock Creek caddy, who almost missed participating in the tournament, came through with a dazzling display of golf to qualify as the co-sharer of the qualifying prize with one of the best players in the tournament—a golfer who knows the course perhaps better than anyone else besides the professional, Sandy Armour.

Connelly's score, equaling the course record for the newly arranged layout established by Steward, sparkled with shots of brilliance, and matched the spectacular round of the joint sharer of medal honors. Out in a 37, even par, that included a birdie four on the fifth and a sensational eagle three on the eighth, Connelly blasted his chances for taking over the medal spotlight by shooting a 5 on the par 3 ninth and a 5 on the par 4 seventeenth.

Connelly Makes Eagle.

The grim-faced kid was even par going to the 466-yard eighth. Here he lashed out a prodigious drive, cracked his brassie second to within 12 feet of the pin, and ran down his putt for his eagle. Steward had made an eagle Tuesday on the same hole.

Connelly probably would have finished in a 35 for the outgoing nine had he not rammed his drive into a trap on the right of the ninth green. To add to his troubles, the youngster failed to get out with his second, and it took him two putts to get down in 5.

Three-putting the eleventh after a beautiful 310-yard drive for a 5, one over, the pint-sized public links stars, who recently won the Rock Creek championship, hooked his mashie niblick second in a trap on the seventeenth to take a 5, and needed a birdie 3 on the home hole to tie Steward for the medal.

Connelly's drive dropped a few inches short of the eighteenth green. He chipped up within 10 feet of the cup. His putt darted straight for the cup, and dropped in for his birdie.

Whereas only four cracked eighty during the opening day, yesterday's qualifying saw 15 pierce that mark. Scores of 78 got under the wire for the championship flight competition, slated to get under way this morning. In addition to Harry Pitt, Manor, whose 74 gave him third place, there were a number of other favorites who came through successfully.

Nee Takes 7 on Eleventh.

Maury Nee, 17-year-old Columbia star, posted a 38—37 for 75, but ruined his chances for the medal by taking a 7 on the eleventh hole. Inefficient work on the greens—he took 4 putts once—proved costly. Locked in scores of 75 were John Thacker, of Washington Golf and Country Club, who rallied for a 36 after taking a 39 on the first nine; Harry Kidwell, of Columbia, who scored in the same figures, and Martin F. McCarthy, strong-hearted Beaver Dam golfer, who shot a 39—36.

Earl McAleer, left-handed wizard from Indian Spring, was tied at 76 with John Shorey, of Kenwood, and Leroy Sasscer, of Indian Spring. John Downey, public links star, had a 77 on the opening day, and yesterday Roger Peacock, of Indian Spring, District champion, ran into a streak of three-putting and matcher Downey's score with 38—39. J. W. Harvey, also of Indian Spring, scored a 77.

Maury Fitzgerald, who created a furore by going to the semifinals of the Middle Atlantic at Rolling Road, jumped into the championship flight with his 78, but would have scored much lower had he not three-putted a trio of greens—the fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth. Frank Roesch, unattached, shot a 40-38, at did Bradley Burrows, of Rock Creek, former Manor invitation champion, who blew up with 42 on the first nine, but came home with sizzling 36, one above par.

Three others with 79's each failed to land a place in the charmed circle of 16. They were M. Parker Nolan, Indian Spring Big Bertha; W. W. Jones, of Congressional, and S. Rigby, of Indian Spring.

Play-Off Found Unnecessary.

Dr. Don Johnson, of Congressional, actually prevented a playoff for the sixteenth position because of his inability to come out yesterday evening. Dr. Johnson shot a 78 the opening day, and would have played off with Burrows, Fitzgerald and Roesch had he been present.

First and second round matches in six flights will commence this morning. Steward faces Leroy Sasscer in his opening duel, at 10 o'clock, while Connelly battles Burrows, a public links comrade, at 10:10. Harry Pitt is slated to oppose Earl McAleer at 10:20.

With 86 the deadline score for

Golf Choices Win British Matches

Somerville, Dunlap in 5th Round, May Meet Today.

Former U. S. Amateur Champ, Favored to Reach Finals.

HOYLAKE, England, June 21 (A. P.).—Safely past two more rounds of competition today in the scramble for the British amateur golf championship and now standing together in the upper half of the fifth round, Canada's Ross (Sandy) Somerville and America's George T. Dunlap, jr., approach a golfing collision that will oust one of the two invading threats from the tournament.

They will meet in the sixth round tomorrow afternoon if Somerville disposes of the veteran Scottish star, Edward P. Kyle, and Dunlap succeeds in getting past the sharpshooting Lester Hartley, British Walker Cup player, in the morning.

Dunlap, the blond New York youth who twice won the American college championship for Princeton, gave his followers a thrill today by taking an extra hole to defeat Alaric De Forest, 1 up, on the nineteenth green. Waging an uphill tussle, Dunlap squared the match over the incoming nine for the second time on the eighteenth hole, where his British opponent was bunkered, and then shot the extra hole perfectly to pull out the match, while De Forest three-putted.

Somerville in Great Form.

Somerville also was obliged to play only one match, in the fourth round, but the silent Canadian, who holds the United States amateur title, was again in unbeatable form. He was only one stroke over par for thirteen holes as he polished off D. J. Walker, old Cambridge University captain, 6 and 5, closing out the match with a birdie on the 179-yard thirteenth.

The Canadian has yet to be extended and is a favorite now to reach the final. The only thing that has seemed to bother him is the wind on the putting greens, making the ball do unexpected tricks. The putting surfaces also have bothered Dunlap, who lost most of his usually consistent touch today until the last few holes.

Kyle, Somerville's next opponent, sprang the biggest upset of the fourth round by eliminating Jack McLean, 22-year-old Scot, who entered the tournament among the outstanding younger favorites. The match went to the last green with Kyle clinging to a one-hole margin.

Scarcely less noteworthy was the continued advance of Jack Nash, of London, Ontario, a clubmate of Somerville. This young Canadian went to the nineteenth hole to beat John Burke, Irish star and Walker Cup player, after eliminating Lionel Munn, Irish veteran, 4 and 2. Nash is bracketed with Rex Hartley in the fifth round, lower half of the draw.

Tolley Inconsistent So Far.

The lower half otherwise appears dominated by Cyril James Hastings Tolley, twice former British champion, who has plowed through four rounds with alternately brilliant and erratic golf. Tolley played two close matches today, beating T. C. J. Manners, 2 and 1, then squeezing out Sam Robinson, Lancashire veteran, 1 up.

The contingent of Americans residing in England was reduced to one survivor, Douglas Grant, a former Californian, who took the measure of D. A. Legate, of Glasgow, 5 and 4, and defeated F. G. Fairlie, 3 and 2. Charles Sweeny lost to H. N. M. Fogg, 4 and 3, in the third round and his brother, Robert Sweeny, was eliminated by E. Hatton, 4 and 3, after a victory in the morning over H. M. Dickson, of Glasgow, 5 and 4.

Cards Beat Robins On Rally in 8th, 7-5

Brooklyn, June 21 (A.P.).—The St. Louis Cardinals spotted the Brooklyn Dodgers five runs in the first inning today, and then came from behind to win 7 to 5, when a pinch double by Roger Hornsby rammed over the deciding markers in the eighth inning. The victory left the Cards still a half-game back of the Giants.

Errors by George Watkins and Jim Collins figured in the Dodgers' big first inning, but thereafter Tex Carleton was effective until he was taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Dazzy Vance finished the game against his former teammates.

INDIANS ROUT MACKMEN, 11 TO 1

Ferrell Outpitches Earnshaw and Walberg.

CLEVELAND, June 21 (A.P.).—The Cleveland Indians belted Earnshaw and Walberg for a dozen safe blows today and coasted to an 11-to-1 victory behind Wes Ferrell's effective pitching. Knickerbocker led the Tribe's attack with two triples.

The game was enlivened by a freak double play in the eighth when Kamm, trying for Cramer's liner, deflected the ball to Knickerbocker. The shortstop made a spectacular catch and doubled Pinch-hitter McNair, who had singled, off first.

It was the opening game of a four-game series.

Hagen, Cup Team Head, Denies Sarazen Breach

Southampton, England, June 21 (U. P.).—Walter Hagen, captain of the United States Ryder Cup Team, said his ten-man squad was in excellent physical condition and that the morale was fine when the team arrived today aboard the Aquitania.

He branded as "all rubbish" reports that differences had arisen between Gene Sarazen and himself. Sarazen is the defending champion of the British open, to be played next month.

GIANTS DOWN CUBS AGAIN; WIN, 3-1

Take Series Final as Fitzsimmons Gives Only Three Hits.

NEW YORK, June 21 (A.P.).—With Fred Fitzsimmons pitching three-hit ball and his teammates making the most of their seven blows off Pat Malone, the New York Giants today protected their one-half game lead in the National League, defeating the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 1, in the final contest of the four-game series of which the Giants won three.

The Giants used three of their hits to produce the first run in the fourth. Lefty O'Doul's first home run as a Giant gave the Terry men they second tally in the sixth and in the eighth Hughie Critz made his second single of the game, was sacrificed to second by O'Doul and romped home on Mel Ott's double.

The lone Cub run came in the fourth, when Woody English and Bill Herman singled and Babe Herman hit into a double play, allowing English to score. The Cubs got their other hit, a single by Demaree, in the fifth.

Cubs Have No Players Left on Base.

Although losing, the Cubs had a unique record of having no players left on base. Fitzsimmons did not issue a base on balls and of the three Cubs who hit, English scored and Bill Herman and Demaree were wiped out in double plays.

The league champions played without their veteran outfielder, Riggs Stephenson, who is expected to be out of the lineup for three weeks with a broken finger received in yesterday's game. Harvey Hendrick took his place in the outfield and Manager Charley Grimm returned to his old position at first base.

Cronin, With 4 Out of 5, Leader in 18-Hit Attack; Gehrig Gets 17th Homer

Double by Combs in 13th Scores Two in 5-to-3 Victory.

St. Louis Ties Count in 12th After Clout by Lazzeri.

ST. LOUIS, June 21 (A.P.).—Carried 13 innings by the St. Louis Browns' stubborn defense, the New York Yankees today won the opener of a five-game series, 5 to 3, and maintained their one-game lead in the American League pennant race.

Lou Gehrig hit his seventeenth home run of the season in the seventh inning and Tony Lazzeri connected with his eleventh circuit blow in the twelfth, but it required a double by Earl Combs, following hits by Byrd and Sewell, to put over the winning runs.

The Browns tied the count in the fifth on a home run by Mervin Shea, knotted the score again in the eighth on three hits and sent the game into the thirteenth inning by scoring one run in the twelfth after Lazzeri had put the Yanks in front.

Ed Wells went the route against his former teammates while Van Atta and Moore divided the Yanks pitching assignment, the latter receiving credit for the victory.

Braves Nip Pirates In Double-Header

Boston, June 21 (A.P.).—After dropping three games in a row to Pittsburgh, the Braves recovered their batting eye today and took a double-header from the Pirates, 6 to 5, and 5 to 3.

A slight change in the line-up, which saw Pinky Whitney at second base in place of Maranville and the youthful Dick Gyselman at third, was resorted to by Manager Bill McKechnie. Winning rallies were produced in the eighth inning of each contest.

MILLS RIDES THREE HORSES TO VICTORY AT AQUEDUCT

Dark Secret Winner of Feature

Parry Is Five Lengths Behind; Thursday Runs Third.

Ensor Brings 3 Home on Opening Day at Rockingham Park.

NEW YORK, June 21 (A.P.).—Dark Secret, the Wheatley Stable's 4-year-old son of Flying Ebony, which finished a fast closing third in the Queens County Handicap, came right back today with an easy triumph in the mile feature at Aqueduct.

Ridden by Hank Mills, Dark Secret justified his odds of 6 to 5 as he whirled to the front within the first quarter of a mile and then stepped along to finish with five lengths to spare over Mrs. Payne Whitney's Parry in the good time of 1:39. S. L. Burch's Thursday was another length and a half to the rear to take the show money from James Butler's Questionnaire and G. H. Bostwick's Blind Bowboy.

Questionnaire Again Disappointing.

The once mighty Questionnaire, for the third time this year, proved a disappointment, finishing two lengths back of Thursday, which has been running in claiming races. Although carrying only 113 pounds, the Butler 6-year-old was able to carry his speed only to the head of the stretch.

Mills rode in great form to win three races. In addition to Dark Secret, he scored with Mrs. C. V. Wingfield's Inflate in the third number and with Isadore Bibber's well-played Cabezo in the fifth. All were favorites, Inflate paying 9 to 5 and Cabezo 9 to 10.

Higher, carrying the silks of B. B. Jones' Audley Farm, of Virginia, was much too good for a fair field of platers in the 7-furlong feature at Lincoln Fields. Running the distance in 1:25 1-5, the son of High Cloud took command at the rise of the barrier and held a lead of five lengths, heading into the stretch. He finished, eased up, two lengths in front of Sky Haven, with Barry third. As the favorite, Higher paid $6.44 straight.

AT THE POST

DEAR AL: LINCOLN FIELDS, JUNE 20.

Well, friend, we're still giving them a battle. Two winners for Mrs. Bennings' lovely boy today. My best bet, Helen Bab, stepped down to the pay line at an $8.18 mutuel. In addition, Higher came in with a $6.44 price tag attached. As if I'm not having enough trouble at this course, I'm going to give you a few that Mike has doped best at other tracks. Here they are: Glidelia, Chlo Boy, Bubbling Out, Virado, Laknite, Periodical, Alcman. BILL.

FIRST RACE—LEBRUYERE carries top weight in this sprint, but appears capable of the assignment. Is speedy now and ready for a field of this caliber. MIGHTY ATOM and MELOY are both fast and will be ready to take the main part of the purse if the top one makes any mistakes.

SECOND RACE—COURLAND ran a pretty fair race here the other day and may use this sprint as a means of graduating from the maiden ranks. SCRIPT MONEY is the one that must be beaten. AMSCRAY is backed by some good trials, and may be the surprise package.

THIRD RACE—LAMP BLACK appears a shade the best of the group, accepting the issue in this sprint. However, there's a lot of speed on parade here and he can have no mishaps. GRACIOUS GIFT and CELTIC PRINCE for the other money position.

FOURTH RACE—SWIFT SPORT has thousands of backers in these parts and has proved to be a sharp juvenile. Works well. Looks like he will have TREY as a chief rival. BRUSTIGERT for the show end.

FIFTH RACE—MISGUIDE gets the Bennings call. Has been tuned up for this kind of an effort, and there will be no mistakes, if the stable can prevent them. EVERGOLD and PRINCESS CAMELIA to do the chief chasing.

SIXTH RACE—STONE MARTIN has not been much this year. Had a long stay in Maryland, but saw little action and did nothing. This is his home course and I understand the handlers have been waiting patiently. This may be the spot. BEAVER looks best on the cold dope. CHOKOLOSKEE and FOXIANA for the rest.

SEVENTH RACE—SULTRY is now at top form and seems to have a good chance of getting home ahead of these. LIONHEARTED beat this kind last week. HARAMZADA for the show.

EIGHTH RACE—Old COMET is 10 years old now. A few years ago these platers couldn't have gotten close to his stall. Age has slowed him, but he still packs a stretch punch. He showed that over at Aurora when he was second to Jeff O'Neil. Worth tabbing across the board. SCARLET BRIGADE and THE SPANIARD for the place and show.

Phils Down Reds, 10-8, For Sweep of Series

Philadelphia, June 21 (A.P.).—The Phillies made a clean sweep over Cincinnati today, taking the final of the four-game series by 10 to 8. The game started out as a pitching battle between Austin Moore and Stout, but wound up in a slugging orgy. Stout pitched brilliantly but his work was undermined by ragged support of his teammates.

The Phillies made five errors but after Stout was removed they clubbed Johnson unmercifully to clinch the game in the seventh with a 6-run rally. Knothe made four hits for the Phils and Rice four for the Reds.

Les Kennedy Loses Decision to Braddock

Jersey City, N. J., June 21 (A.P.).—Jimmy Braddock, light-heavyweight of North Bergen, N. J., won the decision over Les Kennedy, of California, here tonight. The bout went 10 rounds.

Braddock weighed 182 and Kennedy 192.

NATS BLANK CHISOX, 9-0, SLAM 18 HITS

had him out of the box today inside of two innings, with a 3-run uprising in the first and a mild 2-run stand in the second.

It's a funny game, baseball. The Nats make 18 hits and 9 runs and the Chisox make 9 hits and no runs. But Earl Whitehill was the answer this afternoon. With men on bases the big shot southpaw was as infallible as the multiplication table. Only one of the home crew reached third base and that was when Whitehill helped to advance him by hitting a batter.

Three double plays, started by Bluege, Myer and Sam Rice, helped the Nats' southpaw over the rough spots.

Manush led the way with the flaming torch of the Nats' batting attack with one out in the first inning. Then three doubles rattled off the bats of Goslin, Cronin and Kuhel, and the Nats had a 3 to 0 lead. They boosted it to 5-0 in the second on singles by Sewell, Myer and Manush and they picked up another run in the fourth when Goslin's second double followed Manush's walk.

Two More Runs Scored In Fifth.

The lower end of the batting order gave them two more runs in the fifth, aided by Kress' error. Singles by Schulte and Bluege were the pivotal blows of this rally. Joe Cronin's fourth hit of the day, a double, developed into the Nats' ninth run, when Kuhel followed with a single in the ninth.

The three big shots of the White Sox attack, Simmons, Swanson and Appling, managed to scrape up two hits among them. That was one reason why Whitehill had his shutout tonight.

Tigers and Red Sox Split in Double-Header

Detroit, June 21 (A.P.).—Detroit broke even today in a double-header with the Boston Red Sox, taking the closing engagement, 5 to 3, after losing a wide open, erratic contest in the opener, 10 to 9.

In the first game, Detroit got six runs in the first two innings, but Boston sprinkled a dozen hits through the remaining innings to overcome the lead.

A home run by Alexander, with Cooke on, scored two of the Sox runs in the nightcap.

Martinsburg Jockey Club Is Formed

Stock Is Being Sold in Proposed Track in West Virginia.

Special to The Washington Post.

BALTIMORE, June 21.—An important announcement, pleasing to horsemen, breeders and racegoers, as well, was made yesterday when word came from West Virginia that a number of Martinsburg's prominent citizens had met and organized the Martinsburg Jockey Club. Plans were formulated to build a modern, up-to-date mile track, with a grand stand and paddock in keeping, that will be a pride and credit to that community.

The idea of the new jockey club is to give a fifteen or twenty day meeting in Martinsburg immediately following the close of the Bowie meeting. This means open dates so far as this section of the country is concerned.

The matter has been gone into in a conservative manner by those interested in the venture. Reports were first obtained from the Weather Bureau in Washington as to the climatic conditions in this particular section of West Virginia during the month of December, and this report shows that it is just about the same as prevails in Baltimore and vicinity. While the weather might be a bit brisk at times, clear skies prevail until after the first of the year. Within a radius of 50 miles of Martinsburg, down in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, are located the famous Remlick Hall Stud of Willis Sharpe Kilmer and the Llangollen Stud of John Hay Whitney; also the breeding farms of Kenneth P. Gilpin, Capt. F. M. Walker and William Zeigler, jr.

Within Driving Distance Of Washington.

The site of the new race course is located on the main pike, running to Washington, and fronts on two roads. There is a natural slope to the ground and the soil is particularly adapted for a race track. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad parallels one side of the site and special race trains will be run not only from Washington and Baltimore but from other cities and towns along the line. Hagerstown is only 17 miles and Frederick 28 miles away. Washington is within driving distance.

A company is being organized to finance the project and a large block of the stock is being subscribed for by the Martinsburg citizens. The racing end of the venture has been placed in the hands of Joseph B. Boyle and Thomas K. Lynch. Plans for the grand stand and buildings will be drawn by H. Riggins, who assisted in remodeling and construction of Joseph E. Widener's Hialeah Park in Florida. Temporary quarters of the club have been established at room 317, Baltimore Life Building, Baltimore. The track proper will be built under supervision of Dick Pending, track superintendent at Bowie. Work on this part of the plant will begin in a couple of weeks.

Cornell Seeking Foe for Godwin

There will be no fight between Bob Godwin and George Nichols Monday night at the Twin City Arena, simply because Nichols has returned home. The Buffalo southpaw boarded a train early yesterday, taking his chickenpox with him.

Charley Cornell spent most of yesterday telephoning and sending telegrams to New York in an effort to sign a suitable opponent for Godwin, who still remains one of the principals in the main bout. Tony Shucco, Arthur Huttick, and Bob Olin are prospective opponents.

Al Ettore, a classy light-heavy under Maxie Hoff's direction, was in line for a bout but injured a hand in training and will be out for another ten days. Ettore has yet to lose a fight, although he has participated in 35.

Cornell will know definitely who Godwin's opponent will be today. Another substitute must be found to fill Harry Kersey's place on the bill. Kersey, who was to have fought Carey Wright, departed yesterday in company with Jimmy Reed for St. Petersburg, Fla., where he has a match scheduled.

GOLFWOMEN REACH SEMIFINALS IN D. C. TITLE EVENT

Two Girls, 17, Win Upset Matches

Misses Dettweiler, Pope Advance in Kenwood Play.

Veterans, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Haynes, Also Triumph.

TWO young girls, both 17 years of age, will be pitted against two veterans in the semifinals of the District women's golf championship at the Kenwood course this morning.

Helen Dettweiler, of Manor, whose kid brother, Billy, was the youngest participant in the 1932 national amateur championship, defeated Mrs. Hubert R. Quinter, of Columbia, in yesterday's second round matches, by 1 up, and will meet Mrs. Donald Scott, Indian Spring star.

The other young lady, Virginia Pope, of Kenwood, junior champion of the District, continued her triumphant march by eliminating a club companion, Mrs. Leo Walper, by the surprisingly large count of 6 and 4. Miss Pope, all-around athlete at George Washington University, will oppose the favored star and Middle Atlantic titleholder, Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes, of Columbia.

Mrs. May Victim of Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Scott forged into the round before the finals by upsetting the co-sharer of medal honors, Mrs. Katherine May, of Kenwood, by 1 up. Meanwhile Mrs. Haynes coasted to an easy victory over Mrs. E. A. Rule, of the host club, by 6 and 4, yielding only one hole, the eighth, during the time the match lasted.

Miss Dettweiler and Mrs. Scott will vie at 9:30, while ten minutes later Mrs. Haynes will tee off against the youthful Virginia Pope.

The finals tomorrow may find two youngsters matching skill, provided both Miss Dettweiler and Miss Pope can display sound enough golf to eclipse experience and steadiness, two qualities possessed by the veterans, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Haynes.

Miss Pope, who reaches her eighteenth birthday tomorrow, was hitting her shots unusually well yesterday, and set such a smoking pace that Mrs. Walper found herself outclassed once they passed the ninth. Three up at the turn, Miss Pope enlarged her advantage to 5 up at the thirteenth.

Miss Dettweiler Rallies To Win.

Miss Dettweiler had a much tougher time winning from Mrs. Quinter. Two down at the tenth, the Manor lassie put on full steam to win the five next holes before Mrs. Quinter evened the match on the sixteenth. They halved the seventeenth and Miss Dettweiler, benefiting by a screaming 250-yard drive down the eighteenth fairway, finished with a 5 against Mrs. Quinter's 6 to win.

Mrs. May and Mrs. Scott were all even at the turn after the Indian Spring entry came back to snuff out a 2 up advantage earlier in the match. One down going to the seventeenth, Mrs. Scott balanced the scales by nabbing her par 3, and went on to win the eighteenth with a 5. Mrs. May had a medal score of 93. Mrs. Scott a 94.

Mrs. Haynes was 4 up on the Mrs. Rule at the turn, after capturing the first four holes.

There were plenty of other exciting matches in the five flights and consolations. One of the best showings of the day was made by Mrs. Douglas Tschiffely, of Washington G. and C. C., who carried Miss Susan Hacker, seven handicap player from Chevy Chase, to the eighteenth hole before losing. A 17 handicap player, Mrs. Tschiffely shot one of her best rounds, a 93.

Results in the five flights and consolations:

Vines Defeats Strong Foe In London

Is Victor Over Jones; Mrs. Moody Also Advances.

LONDON, June 21 (A.P.).—The strong American contingent, led by the 1932 Wimbledon champions, Ellsworth Vines and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, carried on through the third round of the London tennis championships today with its ranks almost unbroken.

The only major casualties among the group from the United States were David N. Jones, the former Columbia University student, who bowed to Vines in the day's outstanding match, and Clayton Lee Burwell, of Charlotte, N. C., an Oxford student. Cliff Sutter, third ranking player in the United States; Lester Stoefen, Keith Gledhill, W. L. Breese, the former Harvard player; Mrs. Dorothy Andrus Burke and Virginia Rice, all negotiated the third round barriers successfully.

Vines, preparing to defend his Wimbledon title next week, ran into some real opposition against the hard-driving Jones, who will play with the Oxford-Cambridge team in the United States this summer, winning, 6—2, 6—2. The tall Californian had to show his best form to handle Jones' fierce forehand wallops in a match which was featured by speedy service on both sides. Jones had power enough behind his second service to put over several aces on Vines.

Mrs. Moody Is Easy Winner.

Mrs. Moody won her second match of the tourney in easy style, beating Mrs. E. C. Peters, 6—0, 6—1. Mrs. Burke also won in straight sets from Mrs. L. MacReady, 6—4, 6—4. Miss Rice turned back Jeanette Morfey, 6—4, 6—4.

Breese, almost an "unknown," recorded the big upset of the tournament by eliminating John S. Oliff, ranking English player, 2—6, 6—3, 6—3, in a well played match. The tall, left-handed American had Oliff on the defensive all through the final set with fast, accurate driving.

Burwell, former Sewanee ace, found the all-around skill of Norman Farquharson a bit too much for him and went down after a hard struggle, 6—2, 3—6, 6—3. Sutter outclassed W. A. R. Collins, Scotch player, to win 6—1, 6—1. Gledhill, coholder with Vines of the American doubles title, had to go an extra set against J. Malacek, of Czechoslovakia, who cleverly held the game to a slow pace, but he always had something in reserve and won, 6—2, 5—7, 6—4.

Stoefen again played an impressive game to win from Jack Condon, of South Africa, 6—2, 6—2.

Vines, Mrs. Moody Seen Victors at Wimbledon

London, June 21 (A.P.).—Sweeping American victories are expected in the Wimbledon tennis championships by the critics, based on today's draw, with the United States invaders favored to take the three most prized titles, men's and women's singles and men's doubles.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, of course, will win in the women's singles for the sixth time—equalling the record of Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen—while Ellsworth Vines, jr., the defending champion, and Clifford Sutter, third ranking United States star, are expected to fight it out in the finals of men's singles. Vines and Keith Gledhill, who hold the United States doubles title, are expected to win through in that division.

ST. JOSEPH'S TRAVELS.

St. Joseph's will go to Forestville Saturday for a game with the home team starting at 2:30 o'clock. All players are requested to meet at Second and C streets northeast, not later than 1 p. m.

District Trackmen In Meet Saturday

The Washington Track and Field Club will hold its first dual meet of the summer season Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Byrd Stadium, College Park. Stonewall Democratic Club athletes, from Baltimore, will furnish the opposition.

A crack field has been entered, which will include five South Atlantic A. A. U. champions and six District A. A. U. title holders. Fans who witnessed the District meet at Catholic University were loud in their praise of the caliber of competition and the manner in which events were run off. But officials promise an even better meet Saturday.

Virtually all of the men on both teams, with few exceptions, are former collegiate performers.

D. C. BOXERS WIN AT J.C.C.

Angie Tardugno Cops Feature as Richmonders Bow.

WASHINGTON boxers scored a clean-cut victory over a team of Richmond amateurs last night at the Jewish Community Center. A crowd of 300 fans watched the leather-pushing and later participated in a buffet supper.

Angie Tardugno demonstrated how he won the National A. A. U. championship in scoring decisively over Vincent Carino, of Richmond, in the feature bout. Tardugno swarmed all over his bigger opponent, raining a shower of blows upon the bewildered Carino.

Jaame, Gevinson Score Knockouts.

Two knockouts were recorded. Sonny Jaame won by the count over George Pickrel and Lou Gevinson floored Al Covington. The latter, a Richmond boy, waited too long before rising after going down before Gevinson's potent two-fisted attack.

Joe Green won the verdict over Willie Feary in the "rubber" of their series. The lads gave the fans the best action of the evening with Green shading his rival.

118 pounds—Angie Tardugno (J. C. C.) defeated Vincent Carino (R.).
135 pounds—A. Prezioto (R.) defeated Leon Shub (J. C. C.).
126 pounds—Lou Gevinson (J. C. C.) knocked out Al Covington (R.), two rounds.
135 pounds—H. Curtin (Bates) defeated J. Cohen (R.).
85 pounds—Harrison (Alex.) defeated Waldron (Merrick).
90 pounds—Joe Petro (Goodacre's) defeated Tony Catella (N. E. C.).
118 pounds—Joe Green (Groves A. C.) defeated Willie Peary (Boys Club).
115 pounds—Sonny Jaame (Boys Club) knocked out George Pickrel (B. C.), two rounds.

Hamas Loses Decision to Loughran

Ring Veteran Stages Another Comeback Before 10,000.

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, June 21 (A.P.).—Tommy Loughran, the irrepressible veteran from Philadelphia, staged another of his famous comebacks tonight to even his score with slugging Steve Hamas. With a crowd of 10,000 cheering his marvelous comeback in the final rounds after it seemed Hamas might repeat the knockout victory he scored in their first meeting, Loughran stabbed and jabbed and smarted his way to a ten-round decision, the second he has scored in his four engagements with the former foootball star from Penn State.

Loughran's margin was close, at the best little more than a round or two, but even the crowd that howled the decision a bit at the end seemed not to begrudge him the honors as he tore off his gloves, grinning happily, and tossed them to the spectators.

Masterful Display Of Skill.

It was a masterful display of boxing skill, ring generalship and sharp-shooting punching that brought the one-time "Phantom of Philly" back to the big wheel after it seemed once more that his career was over. Hamas, who knocked him out less than two years ago in Madison Square Garden, never stopped rushing, never stopped flinging his fists from a crouch at Tommy's dancing form, valorous even in retreat.

Tommy met the storming onslaught of youth with flicking jabs, an occasional left hook and right cross to the chin, and strategy, through the early rounds, but fend as he could, slip away, smother punches in close, and hold, he took a lot of punishment.

Going into the ninth round, Loughran's left eyelid was cut, souvenir of a right cross Hamas landed in the seventh, his nose was bleeding and there was a deep cut over his right eye. He seemed tird, about to go.

Calls on New Speed In Last Rounds.

But apparently he was just beginning to fight. He called on new speed in the ninth and tenth, jabbed Hamas' head back on his shoulders, and ripped at him with both hands, fighting instead of boxing. Time and again he set the youngster back with clean belts to the chin that won him the last two rounds by the clearest margins of the fight, and with them the decision.

Loughran weighed 186 pounds, Hamas 187¾. The victory was his fourth in a steady but quiet comeback string that has now taken in King Levinsky, Walter Cobb and Isadoro Gastangna.

Abe Feldman, young East Side heavyweight, scored a startling upset over Adolph Heuser, German light-heavyweight who fought Maxie Rosenbloom for the 175-pound title last winter, winning on a technical knockout in 4 rounds of an 8-round semifinal.

Heuser's left eye was so badly cut in the third round that boxing commission doctors refused to let Heuser come out for the fifth. Heuser weighed 174, Feldman 178½.

HOME GAME SOUGHT.

The Derwood nine has a diamond available Sunday and would like to book a game. Call Manager Beall at Gaithersburg 19-F-12.

RINALDI NINE WINS.

Makes Good in New Comeback

TOMMY LOUGHRAN.

Billy Howell Ties For Medal in Dixie

Lake Country Club, Atlanta, June 21 (A.P.).—Julius Hughes, stocky young Atlanta player, came rushing in with the shadows late today with the only subpar round of the tournament to tie Billy Howell, of Richmond, Va., at 147 for the Southern amateur golf championship qualifying medal.

Three strokes back after yesterday's opening 18 holes with a 76, Hughes shot the old course in 71, 1 stroke under par, to tie the Virginian, who had posted his score earlier in the day.

Howell had a fine 72, 1 over par for the new course, to pass Ralph Redmond, of St. Petersburg, Fla., the first-round leader, who slumped on the closing hole and wound up with a 75 for the 148 total.

Eugene Vinson, of Meridan, Miss., who set an all time qualifying mark of 142 a year ago, made a gallant bid for the medal honors again. He scored a 71, even par on the new course, to add to his previous 77 for a 148 that pushed him into a tie with Remond, just a stroke behind the winners.

Jack Toomer, of Hendersonville, N. C., had 76-74—150, while Carl Dann, of Orlando, the Florida champion, had 151.

Eastern Boy Qualifies As Expert Rifleman

Albert Seidler, of 1609 Thirtieth street southeast, has qualified as an expert rifleman in the junior division of the National Rifle Association, it was announced yesterday. The only grade higher than expert is distinguished rifleman.

Seidler is a member of the Eastern High School Rifle Club and won his qualification medal under the supervision of Henry Flury, instructor of the club.

So far this year, 13,158 junior shooters of the country have qualified in all grades of shooting proficiency from the beginning grade of promarksman to the top grade of distinguished rifleman. Of this number only 57 have succeeded in attaining the distinguished rating and 195 the expert rating.

Mitchell Enters D. C. Net Tourney

Dooley Mitchell's entry in the District of Columbia tennis tournament, opening Saturday on the courts of the Army-Navy Club, was signed and delivered to the committee yesterday. Mitchell, who recently won the City of Washington title, delayed entering because of business.

Six of the ten ranking District players will compete. They are Tony Latona, Gene Herman, Gilbert Hunt, Frank Shore, Maurice O'Neill and Mitchell. Tom Mangan, runner-up in the City of Washington tournament, is entered also. Mangan was not ranked last year because of a lack of sufficient data.

The United States Naval Academy is furnishing one man for the test, Ray McClung. McClung played No. 2 on the Navy team during the past season and is rated a formidable racqueter.

Entries will close tomorrow at noon instead of later in the day, as has been customary. Drawings will be made in the afternoon at the Army-Navy Club. No deadline has been set for doubles entries.

Blanks may be obtained either at the club, the Tennis Shop, 1019 Fifteenth street, or at Spalding's.

Departmental League In Protest Meeting

The protest of the Federal Employe Unionists against their recent forfeit to Bureau of Investigation will be the principle subject of a Departmental League meeting which President Walter Shomo has called for Friday evening on the Ellipse, immediately after the Union Printer-Investigation diamond struggle.

Hoffecker, Dreschler Win in Chiseler Play

The team of Hoffecker and Dreschler won its way through the quarter-finals of the Chiseler tennis tournament yesterday by defeating Miller and Blanchard, 8—6, 2—6 and 6—4.

In a semifinals singles match, Considine and Roberts were forced to call their play because of darkness after each had won one set and two games. They will play off today at 5 p. m. at Potomac Park.

Finals in both doubles and singles will be held tomorrow.

Doubles pairings for today will see Hoffecker and Dreschler battling Treuhart and Huls, and Hermann and Tompkins meeting Stauffer and Rittenberg.

PLAY AT WALKER STADIUM.

The first-half championship of the Colored Departmental League may be decided this afternoon when G. P. O. and Treasury clash at Walker Stadium, starting 4:30 p. m. The two are far ahead of their rivals.

REGATTA HEADS MEET.

The executive committee of the President's Cup Regatta has arranged a series of biweekly Dutch luncheons for members of various committees. Reports will be submitted, and general information concerning the race will be discussed. The first will be held Monday, June 26, at Schneider's cafe. Others will follow on July 10, 24 and August 7. John A. Remon is general chairman of the regatta.

K. O. in 10th, Is Sharkey's Forecast

By EDWARD J. NEIL.

ORANGEBURG, N. Y., June 21 (A.P.).—With only one idea in his mind, a clear, cold knockout—Jack Sharkey is working down to the close of the training grind for his 15-round title defense against Primo Carnera, June 29, as keen and fit, and vicious as he ever has been in all his fighting days.

Under a broiling sun the Boston sailor battered three sparring partners today—Hans Birkie, Chester Matan and Yustin Sirutis—and finished off with five more rounds of light bag punching and body exercises. Perspiration poured from him, yet at the end of the drill he weighed only 208 pounds, 2½ less than he scaled for the match with Max Schmeling in which he won his title a year ago.

Goes About Camp Meanly And Sullenly.

He carried himself meanly, sullenly, about the camp, luring spectators into seats wired with electricity that sent them howling into the air when he touched a button. Carefully he wired the ignition of automobiles lined outside the training grounds, connecting them with a kind of sky-rocket hidden under the hood that whistles, pours forth smoke and finally explodes with a great bang when the unfortunate driver presses his starter button.

But most of his venom was saved for his sparring partners, all capable fighters. Sharkey leaped into Birkie, who fought Carnera 10 hard rounds last summer, and threatened to annihilate him in 3 short minutes with 16-ounce gloves. He battered the German all over the ring, had him reeling from left hooks to the head as the session ended.

Matan, a rough toiler from New York was holding on desperately, bleeding from the mouth when his three minutes was up. Sharkey rocked Matan from stem to stern. Sirutis also took a thorough pasting, but Sharkey eased up with him a bit; let him rest after damaging punches.

"You saw that," said the champion later, as he stretched on his rubbing table. "You saw me winning 'em, eh? Well, you guessed what it means, all right."

He's taking no chances on overtraining this time, the cause, he believes, of the tiredness that assailed him in the last five rounds of his last engagement with Schmeling.

"From here on I'm coasting. I never felt better in my life. I'll show them how old I am. Ten rounds is about all it will take. I had Carnera down the last time I fought him. He won't get up this time. Ten, do you hear me?"

SUMMER LIFE-SAVING COURSE

The summer life-saving course at the Y. M. C. A. will begin on Friday, at 8 p. m. in the men's pool. The course consists of ten lessons in Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross life saving. Both Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross life-saving certificates will be issued to those passing the examination at the end of the course.

FOUR GOLFWOMEN WIN.

Following the usual Wednesday golf lesson for women golfers at Beaver Dam, a nine-hole tourney was staged. Low gross honors went to Mrs. R. C. Mitchell, who had a 46, while Mrs. J. E. Geibel's 48 took low net. Prizes also were offered for high score on one unknown hole and low score on another. These went to Mrs. D. E. Mattison, whose 9 was high on No. 3, and to Mrs. Rex Weaver, whose 3 was low on No. 7.

CUT IN AGRICULTURE EXTENSION AIDS OFF

25 Per Cent Slash Held Up While Farmers Protest News Discontinuance.

(Associated Press.)

The administration yesterday withdrew, temporarily, at least, its plan to decrease by 25 per cent the Agriculture Department's expenditures for cooperative extension work, vocational education and rehabilitation, experiment stations and endowment of agricultural colleges.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, told newspapermen that Lewis W. Douglas, the budget director, and Secretary Wallace had notified him the order would be held up indefinitely.

This action followed protests by Senate Republican leaders that the administration was ignoring the understanding reached just before Congress adjourned that this work would not be curtailed.

Senator McNary, of Oregon, the Republican leader, took the matter up with Mr. Robinson yesterday and the decision quickly followed to withhold the cut until Congress reconvened and passed on it.

Governor Enters Protest.

Meanwhile one governor, several members of Congress and almost 100 private citizens have protested to the Department of Agriculture against the proposed discontinuance of the Market News Service on July 1.

Gov. Herring of Iowa said elimination of the activity "leaves the farmer without the protection of disinterested, authoritive and complete information regarding his own business."

"Economies are needed but the decision seems too drastic," he said.

In all, it was said at Secretary Wallace's office, 98 messages regarding the service had been received in the last two days, most of them protesting.

Commendations Are Scarce.

A few commended the move to eliminate the service through which the Department of Agriculture expects to save $1,300,000 a year. About 300 men in the various marketing centers would be dropped from the pay rolls.

More protests were received from New York and California than any other States.

The protests from Capitol Hill came at about the same time that Senator McNary, of Oregon, the Republican leader, said he had received protests from "all over the West." He added that every effort would be made to have the order revoked when Lewis W. Douglas, budget director, returns from New England Saturday.

Byrd Receives Protests.

Senator Byrd (Democrat), Virginia, received protesting delegations from farm organizations, and arranged for a meeting of Senators in his office Monday to discuss the situation.

Senators Dickinson (Republican), Iowa, and Steiwer (Republican), Oregon, were among other senators who forwarded to the Agriculture Department protests from constituents.

Mr. Dickinson said farmers in his State were opposed to this kind of economy, and Mr. Steiwer said abolition of the service meant "sending agriculture back to a state of commercial ignorance in order to save $1,300,000."

"There will be a wholesale row over this," Mr. Steiwer asserted.

Maryland Woman Faces U. S. Trial on Dry Count

At a hearing yesterday before United States Commissioner Frank Parran at Upper Marlboro, Mrs. Mary L. McCoy, of Capitol Heights, Md., was held for the Federal court on charges of transportation and illegal possession of whisky.

Mrs. McCoy was arrested June 8 by Federal investigators while driving her automobile on the La Plata pike, south of Washington. Fifty gallons of alleged whisky were found in the car.

West Virginia Youths Die on Railway Tracks

Special to The Washington Post.

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 21.—Funerals were arranged today for two West Virginia youths who were killed yesterday by trains.

The victims are Gilbert Moore, 19, of Bear Mountain, who was struck by a train near Fairmont while sitting on a track playing a harp, and Ernest Alt, 16, Morgantown high school student, killed while walking on a trestle near a swimming resort near that city just after he had taken a swim.

Duncan Will Remain Aid to Admiral Standley

Lieut. Comdr. Jack H. Duncan, U. S. N., has been ordered to duty as aid to the new chief of naval operations, Admiral William H. Standley, U. S. N., who will relieve Admiral William V. Pratt on July 1, it was announced yesterday at the Navy Department.

Lieut. Comdr. Duncan was born in Ozark, Mo., in 1894, and was appointed to the Naval Academy from that State in 1914. Since 1930 he has served as aid to Admiral Standley, acting as commnader of cruisers of the scouting force.

Montgomery Gets Man In Housebreaking Case

Charles Kennedy, of Lorton, Va., was released by Washington authorities yesterday to police of Montgomery County, Md., where an indictment of an attempted housebreaking is pending against him. He was held on bond of $500.

The charge is in connection with an alleged attempt to rob the Leland Pharmacy. He was captured by County Policemen Frank Soper and Webb Hersperger several weeks ago.

Doukhobors Sentenced For Nudism in Canada

Canora, Saskatchewan, June 21 (A.P.).—Sentences totaling 31 years and 1 month were imposed last night on 8 Doukhobor men and 17 women, members of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, who pleaded guilty to parading in the nude on a highway near Verigin last Sunday.

The most severe sentence was three years, given to three men. The women got terms ranging from two years to one day.

MISS ENGLE TELLS NEW WOMEN'S DUTY

U. of Md. Short Course Students Hear Public Affairs Need Them.

"Women should take a greater interest in public affairs and make a more general use of the ballot box," Miss Lavinia Engle, director of the Maryland League of Women Voters, yesterday told the delegates attending the annual short course at the University of Maryland.

The average vote in Maryland during the periods of national elections, she said, is between 39 per cent and 49 per cent of the possible vote. This is higher than the country as a whole.

Miles H. Fairbank, secretary of the Maryland Farm Bureau, another speaker at the regular morning session, pointed out that the higher standards of living, which have been developed in rural life, have made a greater income a necessity.

"In line with this change," he stated, "the farming industry has developed from a mode of living into a real business. The Farm Bureau is not an organization to industrialize agriculture, but to save it from that very thing."

Other speakers of the assembly program included Dr. Harry J. Patterson, director of the experiment station, and Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, president of the university.

At a meeting of the Short Course Club, which is composed of the graduating class, a total of 66 new members were received. Officers of the club are Mrs. Randall Spoerlein, president; Mrs. Harry Davis, vice president; Mrs. Anna Rohrer, treasurer, and Mrs. R. L. Jenkins, secretary. It was announced that more than $2,000 had been raised for the erection of a building on the university campus.

THOMAS WISHART, a Scotchman who died at the age of 125 in Annadale, Dumfries, Scotland, in 1760, had, according to his own statement, chewed tobacco for 117 years—since he was 8 years old. His father used to give him an occasional chew while he was herding sheep in the highlands, so that he would not get hungry.

The "lava plant" or Euphorbia Canariensis, a plant found only in the Canary Islands, very rarely grows except where its roots can reach basic lava. The milk of the plant is sometimes used by fishermen to stupefy fish.

NORTHWEST AREA SEEKING $325,000 FOR PUBLIC WORKS

22 Civic Groups Ask Johnson for $150,000 Petworth Library in Plea.

Representatives of 22 civic and educational organizations in the north central area of Washington late yesterday urged the District Commissioners to spend $325,000 of the contemplated Federal contribution for public works in their community.

A delegation of three presented a petition calling for construction of a 7-room addition to the new Roosevelt High School at a cost of $100,000, a Petworth branch library for $150,000, and miscellaneous repairs and improvements to schools and grounds with an expenditure of $75,000.

Plea Under Advisement.

The petition was addressed to Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, and the Commissioners were requested to forward it with their indorsement. The Commissioners, following a closed hearing, took the proposal under advisement. The delegation was advised that Engineer Commissioner John C. Gotwals is now completing a long list of possible public works to be forwarded to Gen. Johnson with the hope that some may be financed.

The delegation declared that the Roosevelt High School is already overcrowded and that George F. Bowerman, city librarian, had given his indorsement to the branch library construction. The site, it was explained, already is owned by the District.

School Repair Needs Cited.

Regarding the school repairs, the petition pointed out that many of the 217 schools in the community need emergency repairs and improvements to grounds. The work would provide employment, it was predicted.

The delegation comprised Edward R. Williams, president of the Roosevelt Parent-Teacher Association; S. S. Stabler, chairman of a joint committee representing five parent-teacher associations and the North Capitol Citizens Association; C. C. Hutchinson, secretary of Roosevelt Parent-Teacher Association; F. V. Hale, president of the Park View Citizens Association and Horace Phelps, president of the Petworth Citizens Association.

Chamber to Honor Col. Grant Today

Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, retiring director of public buildings and public parks, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon today at the Willard Hotel, tendered to him by the board of directors of the Washington Chamber of Commerce in appreciation of his services in promoting the proper planning and beautification of the National Capital.

The luncheon will be held at 12 o'clock in the cabinet room of the Willard, and Thomas P. Littlepage, president of the chamber, as presiding officer, will tell of Col. Grant's work, its importance to Washington and of the high esteem in which he is held by Washington citizens.

In addition to the members of the board of directors of the chamber, the luncheon will be attended by a number fo special guests, including Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, president Board of District Commissioners; Col. J. A. Woodruff, incoming director of public buildings and public parks; Horace M. Albright, director National Park Service; R. Y. Stuart, chief United States Forest Service; James G. Yaden, president Federation of Citizens Associations; representatives of District trade bodies and others.

Shot-in-the-Dark Suspect Indicted

A charge of assault with a dangerous weapon was placed against John Thomas McGowan yesterday when the District grand jury returned an indictment charging him with shooting into a darkened room at 740 Ninth street northwest.

McGowan, according to police, bumped into a girl on the street and was rebuked by Norman J. Pryor, of the Ninth street address, who was accompanying her. Late that night, Pryor said, his attention was called to a man crawling up the fire escape with a pistol in his hand.

Pryor put out the light in his room, and a moment later a shot was fired through the window. Seizing his own weapon, Pryor returned the fire, wounding the intruder in the arm. McGowan was subsequently arrested.

$100 Is Forfeited By Lieut. Thomas

Lieut. Thomas Thomas, U. S. N., yesterday in Police Court, forfeited $100 on a charge of simple assault that had been preferred against him by Ivy Norwood, an entertainer at the Villa Roma.

The lieutenant was accused of roughly handling the young lady following an automobile mixup on Wisconsin avenue two weeks ago.

The case was called before Judge Isaac R. Hitt, in Police Court yesterday and when Lieut. Thomas failed to answer to his name, the collateral he had posted was declared forfeited. Attorney Cyril Lawrence, appearing for the naval officer, declared the forfeiture had taken place because of his suggestion.

Capital Man Made Optimist Governor

H. B. Nevius, of Washington, was elected governor of the Sixteenth District of Optimist International, comprising Washington, Richmond and Baltimore, at the district convention at the Hamilton Hotel yesterday.

The meeting preceded the International Optimist convention which opens this morning with headquarters at the Mayflower Hotel.

Other officers named for the Sixteenth District were Ravee Norris, of Richmond; George Kahl, of Baltimore, and Harry J. Pirie, of Washington, lieutenant governors, and J. W. Burch, secretary-treasurer. A. H. Corey, of Richmond, and Paul Miller, of Baltimore, were elected as members of the board.

7 DROPPED BY HEAT AS SUMMER STARTS

None of Prostration Cases Serious; Mercury Reaches High of 98.3.

The sun seemed to pause at 4:12 p. m. yesterday and turn back on its course and just about that time, as summer officially was making its debut, the temperature recording reached 98.3 degrees.

Seven persons were prostrated by the heat as the solstice took place. The sun was at its greatest northern declination yesterday and turns back on its course to make each succeeding day shorter.

Local showers are promised for today by the Weather Bureau and will give temporary relief. The temperature yesterday exceeded that of Tuesday by 3.3 degrees, but fell short of the 100 degrees recorded earlier this month.

Prostrations yesterday were: Mrs. Verna Mayhew, 726 I street northeast; Theodore Fredericks, 28, colored, 416 O street northwest; Leon Glover, 31, colored, 736 Morton street northwest, and Philip Soprino, 50, of Baltimore. All were treated at Casualty Hospital. Harrison Buth, 347 C street southeast; Edward Rone, 2203 E street northwest, and Albert Banks, 462 N street northwest, all colored, received treatment at Emergency Hospital. None of the prostrations was serious.

Many Ask Poison War on Their Rats

The publicity which attended the poisoning of a small army of rats in a city dump at Thirty-seventh and Albemarle streets yesterday brought four formal requests and a scattering of telephone calls for similar exterminations in other parts of the city.

Health department officials, who sponsored the poisoning, said they had no funds, however, to carry on the war against the rodent enemy in private quarters. They would be glad, they said, to give some advice, though.

The Department of Agriculture expert who placed the poisoning on the dump reported that not a live rat could be seen yesterday.

Quick Trial

In D. C. Supreme Court in 24 Hours After Indictments Arranged.

For the first time in the history of the District Supreme Court, persons who were indicted yesterday will be tried within 24 hours of the time that the grand jury actually filed into the court and returned the indictments.

United States Attorney Leo A. Rover yesterday declared that the criminal court docket has been cleared up to the point where defendants can be tried almost simultaneously with the return of the indictment, and he said today that persons who wished could be tried now

HOLLAND INDICTED IN HOTEL SLAYING

Jury Charges Manslaughter in Case Where Wild Bullet Killed Girl.

Elmer W. Holland, jr., 24, 7707 Thirteenth street northwest, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter. He is already at liberty on a $5,000 bond that was set for his release by United States Attorney Leo A. Rover.

The charge against Holland is that early on June 8 he fired a single shot through the door of an apartment in the Franklin Park Hotel. The slug struck and fatally injured Lelia Morrison, 28, who was lying on a bed.

Police said Holland had gone to the apartment to purchase liquor. A colored bell boy escorted him to a sixth-floor apartment, and then, when the door was not opened promptly, Holland, who was a special policeman, drew his gun and fired one shot.

The shot struck the boy on the elbow, plowed through the door, ricocheted off the bedpost and struck Miss Morrison. Prosecution officers declared they were convinced that Holland meant no harm when he fired, and the prisoner was permitted to deposit a nominal bond shortly after he surrendered.

THRIFT BOOK SALES STOPPED BY ROVER

Action Follows Complaints by Purchasers on Falsity of "Privileges."

Promoters of the sale here of a so-called "thrift book" yesterday promised to cease offering the book for sale following the issuance of a stern warning from United States Attorney Leo A. Rover that a continuation of the sale of the book would result in possible criminal charges.

The promoters were brought to Mr. Rover's office by Assistant Chief Deputy United States Marshal John Clarkson, who had served a "forthwith" subpena upon them in their up-town offices.

Complaints regarding the book reached the Better Business Bureau, which were referred to the District Attorney, and which related to the sale of the books by students of the Roosevelt High School, prompted the warning. The students were being given 25 cents for each book they sold. The salesmen paid 50 cents for them and sold them for $1.

The books were supposed to entitle the purchasers to numerous cut rate reductions in admission prices to amusement places. They also entitled the purchaser to "one free half hour horseback ride" and the like. The complaints began when firms whose names were included in the book refused to recognize the holders of the tickets.

Twenty thousand of the books were printed, but no one was willing to hazard a guess as to how many had actually been sold to the public.

Woman Is Cleared In Slaying of Mate

The District grand jury yesterday ignored homicide charges against Mrs. Frances Weideman, 334 Tenth street northeast, who, police said, shot and killed her husband, Philip J. Weideman, June 5 in their home.

The shooting, police said, was preceded by an argument over politics, and the husband, officers learned, slapped his wife. According to her story, Mrs. Weideman then said, "If I had a gun, I would shoot you."

Weideman then, police said, took a gun from a bureau drawer and handed it to his wife, who allegedly fired twice, inflicting fatal injuries. Mrs. Weideman declared she did not think the weapon was loaded. The refusal of the grand jury to indict the woman cleared her of any culpability in the slaying.

Women Honored By Rotary Club

A ladies' day was observed by the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting at the Willard Hotel yesterday. A style show and talks by the wives of Rotarians were features of the meeting.

Mrs. Arthur C. Christie, wife of the president, was presented with a gift from the club. Mrs. J. Harry Cunningham, Mrs. Roland Whitehurst and Mrs. Chester D. Swope spoke.

Mrs. Henry Christiani, of the Frank R. Jelleff store, directed the style show. Miss Helene Fortesque, Miss Jane Tewksbury, Miss Josephine Parks, Miss Peggy Clarke and Mrs. Katherine Marriott modeled the gowns.

Thomas L. Eagan, secretary, announced the club's golf tournament for the Brawner Cup will be held today at the Columbia Country Club.

Lions Club Hears Of Forestry Work

Workings of the Civilian Reforestation Service was explained to the Washington Lions Club meeting in the Hotel Mayflower yesterday by Charles H. Taylor, administrative assistant to Reforestation Director Robert Fechner.

There are now 240,000 enrolled for this work, Taylor said, with a goal of 300,000 to be reached. The men were enrolled by the Department of Labor, while the War Department was called upon to set up the camps because of their vast experience along this line. He declared that many of the young men taken from the city streets had never had a job before.

Walter Handy and Arthur C. Smith, new district governor for Lions Clubs in this section, reported on the recent district meeting in Hagerstown. Charles W. Hoover, newly elected president, presided for the first time.

THRONGS ACCLAIM NORTHEAST PARADE OF V. F. W. GROUPS

Fourteenth Annual Encampment Formally Opened at Stuart School.

A 3-mile long parade, acclaimed by thousands who lined the streets as one of Washington's most colorful, wended its way through the Northeast section last night, formally to open the fourteenth annual encampment of the District of Columbia Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Sponsored by the Northeast Business Men's Association, the parade was reviewed by military, civic and V. F. W. leaders. Crowds lined the march route. Sixteen bands, military drum and bugle corps and Army and Navy service units formed a major portion of the two-hour review.

Immediately after the parade disbanded, members of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars department gathered in the auditorium of Stuart Junior High School, Fourth and E streets northwest, to open the first session of their three-day convention.

Citations Are Presented.

Welcoming addresses and the presentation of national citations consumed last night's program. The meeting opened with presentation of colors by various posts of the District department.

Speakers who welcomed the convention included Department Commander Oscar W. Hollingsworth, Dr. Robert W. McCullough, president of the Northeast Business Men's Association; James E. Van Zandt, senior vice commander in chief, National V. F. W.; Isaac Ganns, chairman of the District Parole Board; John Shepherd, department commander, G. A. R.; F. W. Strobel, department commander, Spanish-American War Veterans; Lieut. W. B. Scheibel, United States Coast Guard, and Capt. Richard Mansfield, of the Ninth Police Precinct.

The convention's first business meeting will be held tonight, with election of new officers scheduled for tomorrow. Arrangements for the parade were completed by committees headed by Sergt. J. E. Fondahl, of the Police Department, for the V. F. W., and John Beane, for the Northeast Business Men's Association.

Prize Winners Announced.

Judges of the parade units included Maj. Charles Demonet, U. S. A.; Isaac Gans, Capt. Mansfeld and Harry P. White, president of the Northeast Branch of the American Security & Trust Co.

Prize winners were announced as follows:

Best drum and bugle corps—First, Victory Post, American Legion; second, Costello Post, American Legion.

Best nonmilitary band — First, Washington Gas Light Co. Band; second, Fire Department Band; third, Boys Independent Band.

Largest number in line of march—Treasury Post, V. F. W.

Largest veterans' auxiliary—Ladies Auxiliary, V. F. W.

Best Appearing in March.

Best appearing in march—Advance Post, V. F. W.

Best drilled nonveteran unit—Job's Daughters.

Best decorated boat—First, Flor Estelle Beauty Shop; second, Hopwood Furniture Store.

The parade formed at Fifth street and Florida avenue northeast, marched through the greater portion of Northeast and finally disbanded in front of the Stuart Junior High School.

Inspired by their uniform appearance, the crowd burst into applause as Troop F, U. S. Cavalry, and a detachment of bluejackets from the Navy Yard, only service units in the parade, passed in review. Drill teams from V. F. W. posts also shared in the acclaim.

Young Democrats To Map Program

A draft of plans for activities during the summer and fall of the District division of the Young Democratic Clubs of America will be discussed tomorrow night at a meeting in the Mayflower Hotel. In the absence of Marvin Cox, the president, the activities of the club will be supervised by Homer Tatum, the first vice president.

Mr. Tatum last night announced the appointment of the executive committee of the club. It is composed of Winfield S. Macgill and Lyda Mae Francis, national committeeman and woman, respectively; Marvin Cox, president; Homer Tatum, first vice president; Elizabeth Mattingly, second vice president; Beatrice Keegin, recording secretary; Thelma Ross, corresponding secretary, and Ralph Lawrence, treasurer.

Standing committee chairmen and appointive officers: Francis B. Taylor, jr., director of publicity; Bradford Ross, credentials; Roy Parker, membership; Albert Viault, program; Helen Griffin, social, and Catherine Harrison, reception, and Allston Calhoun, sergeant at arms, and John Goodloe, parliamentarian.

James Ring Is Named To Investigate Rents

Former Senate Clerk, Backed by Senator King, Appointed by P. U. C., and Will Take Office on Monday.

The appointment of James Ring, former clerk of the Senate District Committee, as special investigator for the Public Utilities Commission in the rent inquiry was announced yesterday by Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chairman, simultaneously with the visit of Senator King, chairman of the Senate District Committee, to the District Building. Senator King had previously urged Mr. Ring's appointment, despite the failure of Congress to appropriate a fund to conduct the rent investigation.

By a bit of statistical juggling, Auditor Daniel J. Donovan was able to bring about the appointment over the objections of Gen. Patrick, who feared that it would work a hardship on other commission employes. With an appropriation already $960 under the annual pay roll, the commission doubtless will have to order administrative furloughs to meet the deficit. The rent inquiry will get under way formally Monday, when Mr. Ring takes office. Yesterday the second complaint was received by the commission.

Senator King, besides calling on Auditor Donovan and Gen. Patrick, interviewed George S. Wilson, public welfare director, regarding unemployment relief plans, and William A. Roberts, special assistant counsel of the commission, who is also a member of the special committee studying the District government.

ROBBERS GET $200 FROM OIL STATION

Two Attendants of Lonely Establishment Cowed at Pistol Point.

Two colored robbers, who drove an automobile into the station under the pretext of obtaining gasoline, late last night held up two attendants at a gasoline filling station at Sixteenth and Taylor streets and robbed them of about $200.

When the car drove in one of the attendants started to fill the tank as requested. He was covered with a revolver and forced into the station, where the other man was. While the robber with the revolver held the attendants, Clifton Bausserman, 306 Carroll avenue northwest, and Harry E. Edwards, of Takoma Park, Md., at bay, the other rifled the cash register and took the change from their change holders. Both men were then forced behind the counter and the robbers dashed to their car and escaped.

The filling station is in a rather isolated location, being some distance from any house on either side of Sixteenth street, and the attendants were alone when the robbers drove up.

All Trails Highway Project Advances

The proposed All Trails highway project, from Washington through Maryland, and plans for obtaining its inclusion in the public works program of the State, were discussed last night at the meeting of the Rockville Pike Citizens Association.

Petitions asking for the inclusion of the project in the program being financed by Federal funds are now being circulated throughout the Sixth Congressional District of Maryland, under sponsorship of the association. Plans for the project call for the broadening, paving and straightening of the route as an arterial highway, which would extend from Washington through Rockville, Gaithersburg, Frederick, Hagerstown and on westward.

The petitions in behalf of the project will be sent to Gov. Ritchie, members of the special committee on public works and improvements, and other officials.

Deegan, Lofgreen Tie For Union Presidency

Edward T. Deegan and Guss Lofgreen tied in their race for the presidency of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes Alliance, Local No. 781, at the annual election last night. As a result, a run-off election will have to be held next Wednesday night for the election of a president.

Louis Derby was elected vice president; Ernest B. Spangler, recording secretary; Charles E. Sands, business agent; Frank Obitz, sergeant at arms, and J. S. Miller, chaplain. Henry Brunati, John Dreeos and Morris Verbov were named trustees.

Juvenile to Present Play.

The Washington Juvenile Artists Club, associated with the Kapital Kiddies Klub, will present it's "Stars of Tomorrow Revue" tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the Jewish Community Center.

SALE OF HAMILTON STOCK IS BOOSTED

Drive to Reopen Banks in Proposed Merger May End This Week.

Hope that the $1,250,000 worth of stock needed to organize the Hamilton National Bank of Washington will be oversubscribed was expressed yesterday by Edwin C. Graham, selected president of the propoeed bank, who reported good results in stock sales for the first half of this week. It is expected to complete the sale of less than $100,000 worth of stock still needed this week.

Announcing a stock subscription, Arthur Clarendon Smith, president of the Federation of Business Men's Associations states:

"As merchants of Washington, we think it is the duty of every merchant to support the opening of this bank and the sooner the stock is subscribed in full the better it will be for the merchants of Washington. The Federation of Business Men's Associations have gone on record as favoring the opening of this bank and recommend it to their members to subscribe stock in the same. As president of this federation, I am glad to give my unqualified support in recommending to the people of Washington in joining in this most worthy enterprise."

Officials of Franklin National Bank who have succeeded in obtaining more than the $2,200,000 worth of depositors' and stockholders' agreements to the reopening of that bank as an independent institution under its present title, now await the approval of their plan by the United States Treasury Department and expect to have definite word by the first of next week.

A depositors' committee of Park Savings Bank, another restricted institution, has effected a permanent organization and expects to call another mass meeting of depositors within ten days and open an office in the downtown business district for the conduct of their movement to secure as many deposits as possible for depositors of this institution.

Frank H. Schrenk, chairman of the national depositors committee, with headquarters at the Mayflower Hotel, announced yesterday that at his request Edward S. Sheck, of Akron, Ohio, has consented to serve as a member of the executive committee of the committee and as chairman of affiliated groups of depositors.

Mr. Sheck was leader in the organization of a committee representing the 110,000 depositors of closed and restricted banks in Akron. Mr. Sheck came here yesterday at Mr. Schrenk's request to report on the progress made in Akron.

The national depositors committee, organized to represent the 20,000,000 depositors of closed and restricted banks, seeks the complete reopening of restricted banks and the payment of 60 per cent of their frozen deposits to the depositors of closed banks.

Stock Worth $37 Loot Of Burglars in Grocery

Tobaccos, candies and groceries, valued at $37, were stolen by burglars, who broke into the grocery store of William Edelson, at 1301 Florida avenue northwest, Tuesday night.

The burglars filed a bar of a rear window and broke the glass to gain entrance.

SELF-GOVERNMENT FOR DISTRICT SEEN DRAWING TO CLOSE

Naming of Civilian Chiefs Temporarily Is Viewed as Unfortunate.

By J. BERNARD McDONNELL.

Decision of President Roosevelt to name temporary civilian Commissioners pending his contemplated reorganization of the District government may mean disappearance of the last semblance of local self-government for the taxpayers of the National Capital.

Selection of the new Commissioners, United States district attorney, United States marshal, and others who are to fill local jobs is expected to be made by the President soon after he returns from his vacation in New England waters.

Despite the fact that these jobs are purely local in character, and are such they would be filled by bona fide residents in other cities and States, the keen interest felt by outsiders in them has been clearly shown. Most of the Senate and a good portion of the House membership have been enlisted in the fight, to say nothing of Democratic leaders throughout the country, who want to know why District jobs shouldn't be given to some of their job-hungry followers back home.

Behind Apparent Altruism.

Although several members of Congress are backing persons who are District residents, behind their apparent altruism is their expectation that their local favorite will fill District jobs under his supervision with voters from elsewhere.

Whatever the outcome, one result will be a further increase in the number of statesmen on the Hill who are going to be angry with the District.

The antagonism of the House toward the people of the District has been shown with increasing force for the last several years, and the closing days of the special session of the new Congress showed a decided weakening in the strength of the friendship of the Senate which has stood in the path of the House's proposals for many years.

Unfortunate for District.

What is going to happen when the President proposes a reorganization of the municipal government, with one man at the head of it, is plainly apparent to observers. Undoubtedly House members will leap forward with a proposal that the "governor" may be selected from any part of the country. Should the President oppose such a proposal, they will be able to confront him with his own request that the law be changed so he could name an outsider governor of the Hawaiian Islands.

Unfortunately for the people of the District, the reorganization measure will not be a matter of very great import to the great majority of the members of Congress, and they will follow in the path of those who take the floor and profess to know.

In other words the District will have many violent enemies, and few defenders who are more than lukewarm. When the President submits his proposal he may be opening Pandora's box for the sorrow of some one. Undoubtedly the House, led by such tirading enemies of the District as Representative Thomas L. Blanton (Democrat), Texas, will want to rewrite the measure to suit themselves.

Whether Representative Mary T. Norton (Democrat), of New Jersey, chairman of the House District Committee, can withstand the attack of the Blantons is a question. She will have against her, among the enemies of the District, such men as Representatives Clarence Cannon (Democrat), Missouri; John Taber (Republican), of New York; James P. Buchanan (Democrat), of Texas, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee; Carl Mapes (Republican), of Michigan; James A. Frear (Republican), of Wisconsin, as well as others who are determined to impose heavier and heavier taxes on District residents and to restrict their liberty of expenditure.

There is a different story in the Senate. There the District has a greater proportion of gen
